LIEUT. PEARY WRITES OF THE ARCTIC HIGHLANDERS.
 Tribes of Old Little People With Whom He Lived for Three Years—Physical Appearance, Habits, Homes and Food—Life is Only a Struggle for Food and Clothing.

Of all interesting aboriginal tribes of men there is no tribe more strikingly so than that known as the Arctic Highlanders. The smallest of this tribe, its complete isolation and self-dependence, its extreme northerly location, the stress of hostile conditions under which it maintains its existence, the human interest connected with it as the result of the writings of Kane, Hayes and other Arctic explorers, and the uncertainty as to its origin and early history combine to place it at the head of the list.

EPSS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST—SUPPER.
 By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that constipation may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape a fatal attack by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.

To the Electors of Charlottetown.
 GENTLEMEN.—At the request of many of my fellow citizens I place myself in your hands for re-election to the honorable position of Mayor, and respectfully ask for your vote.
 Should you again do me the honor to elect me, I shall co-operate in maturing and carrying out all measures having for their object the good of the community as a whole, and, as in the past, my best efforts shall be given to the administrative affairs of the city.

To the Electors of Charlottetown;
 GENTLEMEN.—In compliance with the wishes of a large number of citizens in response to the numerous signed petitions presented to me, I have decided to nominate for the Mayoralty at the forthcoming Election, and would take this opportunity of soliciting your support.
 If elected, I shall endeavor at all times to act impartially, giving justice to all, favors to none. It shall be my aim to see that the affairs of this City are conducted with the strictest economy commensurate with its requirements and that the rate of taxation be kept down to the lowest figure consistent therewith.
 I shall continue to stand up for the citizen's rights both as regards the Roadway and the disused buildings, and the rate of interest which may arise. I believe that all laws at present in force, or that may hereafter be enacted, should be faithfully carried out.
 I am opposed to the expenditure of a public money in defence of the well understood wishes of the people.
 As I publicly stated two years ago, I believe that good government is signally secured by the maintenance of a change in representatives from time to time; and having served four years as Councilor, I now respectfully solicit your votes for the office of Mayor.
 I remain, Gentlemen,
 Your Obedient Servant,

Counters.
 A few years ago a great discovery was made. Unprincipled persons are trying to prey upon the people who are led to ask for kidney treatment.

First—To imitate the size, color and shape of Dodd's Kidney Pills and sell them by the name of Dodd's.
Second—To put them up to appear very nearly the same and to offer at the same price.
Third—To look on the word "Kidney" in naming counterfeit pills so as to increase sales of mere phony.
Fourth—To give a name so near to Dodd's that unwary people may be deceived and think they are getting Dodd's.

Graduate of Toronto University says:
 "My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years. Our physician first recommended it, and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always affords a cure."

Temple Bar, quoting from an old English proverb, tells of three different instances of human life extending beyond 300 years.

My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised using the Chloroform Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured.

A remarkable Cure—J. W. Jenkinson of Gilford, aged $208 and $300 in consulting doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatments but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies in fact consider myself cured, and with a 25 cent box at that.

An Old And Well Tried Remedy.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea, is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take the true kind—no w. f. w. k. v.

"Don't you think that Miss Brown is a very nice girl?" asked Henry.
 "Oh, yes, very sweet," replied Jan; "that is to say, she is well preserved."

HAD INDIGESTION!
 For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.
 Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism, and kidney and liver troubles generally.

Procrastination.
 "How mankind defers from day to day the best it can do and the most beautiful things it can enjoy, without thinking that every day may be the last one and that last time is lost eternally."—Max Muller.

CHILD WIT.
 Stories of Children Who Built Better Than They Knew.
 Said a tired child in church to his mother—Mamma, how much did you put in the collection? Mother—A pretty goodly sum. Tired child—Well, this preacher gives an awful lot for the money.

WON'T YOU HAVE ANOTHER PIECE OF PIE, MR. CLEVERLY? asked Tommy. "Thank you, Tommy," replied Mr. Cleverly, "it's very kind of you." "Oh, that's all right," returned Tommy with energy. "I'm lookin' out for myself, too. Ma said if it was necessary to cut another pie I could have two pieces."

The superintendent asked the Sunday school: "With what remarkable weapon did Sampson slay the Philistines?" For a while there was no answer. The superintendent, to revive the children's memory, commenced tapping his jaw with the tip of his finger, at the same time saying: "What's this you're getting at?" Quick as a thought a little fellow replied quite innocently, "The jawbone of an ass, sir."

EDWARD, I hear that you have disobeyed your grandmother, who told you not to jump down those steps, boys." "Grandmother didn't tell me not to jump, she only came to the door and said, 'I wouldn't jump down those steps, boys.' And I shouldn't think she would—an old lady like her!"

CURE FOR BLUSHING.
 Here is a System That Will Effectually Cure the Habit.
 A few years ago I was a blusher of the worst type. Advice I had in plenty. "Go into society," recommended one, "with almost ghastly humor. 'Cultivate will power,' said another, 'with about as much success; and so on it went, each successively more stupid than the last, until it became quite evident that relief from outside was not forthcoming.

Upon turning the matter over in my mind, I came to the conclusion that blushing was not a disease, but a symptom—a symptom of a defective nervous system. The sequel showed that my case, at least, this was perfectly correct; and I believe it is equally true of the vast majority of others.

NO "SCORCHING" THERE.
 St. Peter had a heavy day of it answering the many rings at the golden bells, and was just sinking off into a doze. His hand was on the bell when the golden gates, ready to pull for another arrival.

There came a short, staccato, but decided ding-a-ling-a-ling.
 Outside stood a tall, muscular female, with a set look on her face, an Alpine hat on her head and bloomers—class-where?

"Who are you?" he asked.
 "I am the New Emancipated, Coming Woman," was the reply.
 "All at once?"
 "All at once," she replied.

"How did you get here?" was the saint's next question.
 "On my bike," responded the N.E.C. Woman, as she extracted a padlock and chain from her hip pocket, preparing to anchor.

"Pretty speedy on that wheel of yours?" hazarded Peter.
 "Quite so," returned the bloomed maid.
 "Expect to bring the machine in with you, I presume?" continued the custodian of the final portals.
 "Certainly," confidently asserted the N. E. C. W.

"Then," said Peter, as he tilted his crown over his left ear, "you've made a great mistake. You have come to the wrong terms. Go to the other one. You can't get in here."
 "Why not?" asked the woman, the tears rising in her eyes in spite of her emancipation.
 "Because," replied he of the keys, as he stepped back upon the inner mat, "there is no such thing as scorching here!"

And the big gates closed with a sullen clang—New York World.

An Editor who died of starvation after making Dr. Tanner ashamed of himself, was being escorted to heaven by an angel who had been sent out for that purpose.
 "May I look at the other place before we ascend to eternal happiness?"
 "Easily," said the angel.
 So they went below and skimmed around, taking in the sights. The angel lost track of the editor, and went round Hades to hunt him. He found him sitting by a furnace fanning himself and gazing with rapture upon a lot of people in the fire. There was a sign on the furnace which said, "Delinquent subscribers."
 "Come," said the angel, "we must be going."
 "You go on," said the editor, "I'm not coming. This is heaven enough for me."

Applying His Text.
 Vicar (severely to his cook)—Mary, you had a policeman to supper last night.
 "Yes, sir; he's my brother."
 "But you told me you had no brother."
 "So I thought, sir, until you preached last Sunday, and told us we were all brothers and sisters."

THE MOST remarkable cures of record have been accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is unequalled for ALL BLOOD DISEASES.
 Eighty paintings belonging to Mr. N. Q. Pope, of New York, were sold at auction recently and brought $12,500. The highest price given was for a "Pier-sioner," "The Departure," a canvas twelve by seven and a half inches, which brought $4,000. Bastien Le Page's "Evening Fagot Gatherer" was sold for $1,375.
