THE LATE A. W. Y. DESBRISAY.

(Bathurst Correspondence of St. John Sun.)

The funeral of A. W. Y. Desbrisay, of Petit Rocher, was attended by a very large concourse of friends. Mr. Desbrisay was one of the most prominent men of this county, did an extensive business, and his death will be deeply felt throughout the country.

Mr. Desbrisay was 58 years old; he was a native of Charlottetown, P. E. I., son of the late Solomon Desbrisay, but most of his life had been spent on the Bay de Chaleur. For some years he was with his brother at New Mills, the late A. C. Desbrisay, who for several years represented Restigouche county in the Local Legislature. In 1863 Mr. Desbrisay started in business for himself on a small scale at Capet River. By his natural business capacity and application every undertaking was successful, and his business constantly and rapidly enlarged. In 1876 he purchased the property at Petit Rocher and enlarged his business, having several sawing factories along the coast. From his first business ventures to the last he was successful, and at his death he had amassed a small fortune, and left his family a magnificent home. In politics he was a Conservative, and though he never aspired nor entertained an ambition for political honors, yet he had a wide political influence; but it was an influence which he never used with oppression nor for his own personal benefit. His opinions and practice in politics, as in all other matters, were not prescribed by personal environment. The attendants at his funeral were not merely his local acquaintances, but from Quebec to St. John his memory was honored. The pall-bearers were: Hon. K. F. Burns and John Sivewright, M. P. P.; Bathurst, J. H. Bruce, Moncton, J. J. McLaughlin, St. John; J. Turner, Quebec, and Capt. Hall, of Petit Rocher. The services were rendered by Rev. Mr. Morris, of Dalhousie. Rev. Messrs. Thomson, of Bathurst, and Greenleaf, of New Mills, were also present. He was alike the friend of the poor and the wealthy, and all will miss him.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

GROUP OR DIPHTHERIA?

Sir,—I notice in yesterday's issue that Health Officer Johnson told your reporter that my child died of croup. Now, I wish to state that on Wednesday afternoon, when he, in company with Dr. Kelly, visited my child, he said that the state of the throat would warrant him in putting us under quarantine. He consequently forbade us going out or anyone entering but not that we went up. On Friday morning he visited us again, and said the throat would warrant him in putting up the ticket, but it did not go up; but he gave permission to us to go out, and we all the outside running for us. On Saturday evening he was again a visitor, assisting at an operation performed on my child, but not a word about croup. On Sunday afternoon the ticket fellow died. He immediately ordered us to bury as soon as possible to prevent infection. On Monday afternoon Dr. Kelly, acting under the instruction of the Health Officer, fumigated the house on Tuesday. The house was released from quarantine. Now if that was croup why was all that trouble gone to, and what in the name of common sense is the use of having a Health Officer, who cannot tell croup from another? It is an outrageous act on his part to exclude all relatives who would have been able to assist us in our sad work, if it was not a contagious disease. My opinion is that the Health Officer did not perform his duty, and that is why he is palming off croup for diphtheria.

CHARLES BELL.

Sir,—In your issue of yesterday you give a report of an interview of your representative with Dr. Johnson, Health Officer, re diphtheria in this city. In that report Dr. Johnson is reported as saying that on Wednesday of last week a case of suspected diphtheria was reported to him in Mr. Charles Bell's family, but that it ultimately turned out to be a case of croup. As attending physician I may say that of the above is quite correct. On Wednesday of last week I was called to see Mr. Bell's child. After examining the patient, I told the family I believed it to be a case of diphtheria, and ordered the child to be isolated at once, in order to prevent the spread of the disease in the family, and that I would report the case to the Health Officer to see what action he would take in the matter. This I accordingly did, and in about an hour afterwards he (Health Officer) visited the case with me and I understood, agreed with me that it was diphtheria and (as Health Officer) ordered the child to be isolated from the remainder of the family and to have no communication with those outside the house, otherwise he would placard the premises. He visited the house daily on two or three occasions suggested placarding the place, but on being assured that the family complied strictly with his orders, he allowed matters to remain as they were. He visited the child for diphtheria, and Dr. Johnson and I, on being assured that the family complied strictly with his orders, he allowed matters to remain as they were. He visited the child for diphtheria, and Dr. Johnson and I, on being assured that the family complied strictly with his orders, he allowed matters to remain as they were. He visited the child for diphtheria, and Dr. Johnson and I, on being assured that the family complied strictly with his orders, he allowed matters to remain as they were.

CURIOSITY.

Sir,—Would the medical men inform the public the difference between "suspected diphtheria" and diphtheria? I note that both diseases have the same symptoms and both end fatally. At the same time it would be interesting to know the difference between modern croup and modern diphtheria. Ancient diphtheria was a disease of the throat, while ancient croup was entirely local, being diphtheria. It appears now that it is difficult for the medical fraternity to distinguish them.

CRIO.

IS THIS HORSE RACING?

Sir,—All lovers of horse racing in Souris on Wednesday morning felt that day had been especially favored in regard to weather for the great match race between Onward, owned by John McDonald, of Summerside, and Billy McKie, owned by McDonald & McEachern, of Souris, as the race was held in the general opinion among the citizens of Souris and surrounding country for several days. As the trot had been well advertised a day or two beforehand, and the people were all more or less interested—knowing that two of the best horses on the Island would meet at about 2 p. m.—some five hundred people had gathered to witness the race. The grand stand was fairly well filled with ladies. Opposite the judges' stand were Mr. Bowness, of Summerside; Mr. Mason, of Charlottetown, and John McLean, M. P., Souris, on whom devolved the honor of judging the race. Mr. J. Hooper and Mr. Estance Slavin acting as timers. At 2:15 the horses appeared on the track, both, to all appearance, in the best of heart. The Souris horse, driven by John Curtis, and the Summerside horse, ably managed by one of the best drivers in the Province, Mr. Muttari, a few minutes afterwards were called up to score for the first heat. Billy McKie having won the pole, and on the third or fourth score the horses got a splendid start. Billy McKie slightly in the lead at the first quarter—his position he held to the finish, coming in over two lengths ahead, not having made a break in the heat, the Summerside horse making one or two short breaks, and the Souris horse having won this heat, the people felt justly proud of Billy McKie and gave him a hearty cheer. After this heat a gentleman driving race called, and the horses started, but as this race did not interest the crowd to any great extent, all were anxious to see the next heat of the match race—the horses appearing on the track a few minutes after 3 o'clock, and the horses were started on the second score—Onward slightly in the lead—the race to the half mile being a grand exhibition of speed, as the horses were neck and neck, but the Souris horse just at the half made a bad and losing break, having lost fully one hundred yards, which distance he greatly reduced, but the plucky Summerside horse proceeded himself to be a good one, and the distance was too great to cover, Onward coming under the wire about 15 yards ahead and winning the heat, which you would have no trouble in finding out, as the great cheer given the Souris horse in the first heat was not heard, which showed that the Souris people were not satisfied to divide the honor with the noble little horse from Summerside, which, right here we think, is a grand mistake, as both horses had proved themselves, in those two heats, to be close contestants and were both entitled to stand on the same ground and to receive the same amount of praise, as it would be an impossibility at this time to tell which was the best horse of the two. The time in this heat won by Onward was 2:32, one second faster than the previous. Each horse having won a heat in remarkably good time, more interest was manifested than before.

Third heat—The horse starter scoring a few seconds a splendid start, Onward with the pole. To the first quarter it was a grand race. Here Onward broke down in doing so made a slight gain on Billy McKie which he again lengthened by another break at the half, but was caught very quickly by his driver, which position he held to the finish, the Souris horse making a grand effort to capture the heat, but was unable to reach the wire ahead of the length ahead—but the judges decided that the heat belonged to Billy McKie—which was given him. The writer does not claim to be a judge of horse racing, but cannot see how it was they found grounds enough to give the heat to the horse that did not win it, and in justice to the horse and his friends. This heat belonged to Onward, who trotted this heat in the remarkable fast time of 2:28 1/2. Billy McKie covering the mile in 2:30. After the decision in the heat, all lovers of fair play felt and remarked that the judges had made a mistake in deciding this heat. For the next heat was the most exciting of the day, as the horse, which was strongly objected to by Billy McKie's friends and the crowd in general. However, Steele remained there, and with Billy McKie at the pole, the position he held to the finish, the Souris horse, which was strongly objected to by Billy McKie's friends and the crowd in general. However, Steele remained there, and with Billy McKie at the pole, the position he held to the finish, the Souris horse, which was strongly objected to by Billy McKie's friends and the crowd in general.
