Traces Influence

At almost every corner of the world, the builders of the United States constitution inherited many British traditions and combined them with federalism, an ingenious political invention adaptable to geography as well as to men...

The early political history of the Island seemed "a continuous storm in a teacup," because responsible government and representative government had been forced to develop in such a limited area, he added.

CAUSED ISOLATION
Since it prevented social association between the early inhabitants of this Province and the colonists in the neighboring Provinces, the Strait could be blamed for the social isolation so pronounced in the early years, the remnants of which kept this Province out of Confederation for six years until "economic necessity forced her to join."

COMPREHENSIVE TOME

LONDON (Reuters) — A comprehensive one-volume reference book, Atomic Energy, will be published this year by the Great Soviet Encyclopedia Publishing House, the Soviet news agency...

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A U.S. ballistic missile has been fired at intercontinental range for the first time but the air force announced Thursday efforts to recover the nose cone and its mouse have been abandoned temporarily.

Air force officials confirmed that a Thor-Able rocket launched Wednesday night hit in the South Atlantic Ocean near Ascension Island, 6,000 statute miles from Cape Canaveral.

As far as it is known, it was the first time a ballistic weapon travelled more than 6,000 miles through outer space and survived the red-hot plunge back into the earth's atmosphere.

Officials said the search for the nose cone was called off at 3 p.m. EDT because of darkness in the area. They planned to resume the hunt at 1:30 a.m.

Other problems that bodes well for the future. China trade became an issue earlier this year when a labor leader disclosed that the Reds had approached Ford of Canada with an informal offer to buy 1,000 cars. Ford had to reject negotiations because its parent company in the U.S. so ruled.

Later, the prime minister added that when his statement is made there would be agreement "that Canada's subsidiaries will not in any way be interfered with insofar as entering into contract with other countries is concerned in respect of those things which Canada does not consider strategic."

As Mr. Pearson and CCF House Leader Hazen Argue pursued the issue, Mr. Diefenbaker observed that so far his talks with Mr. Eisenhower have shown "a spirit of consideration shown of each other's problems that bodes well for the future."
