MEDICAL TEAM

KENTVILLE, N. S. — (CP) — Dr. John Quinlan and his wife, Dr. Helen Quinlan, have passed their examinations for specialists' certification from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. Both are employed at the Nova Scotia Sanatorium here.

TRAVELLING PUP TRENTON, Ont. — (CP) — A roly-poly husky puppy arrived here after a 2,000-mile rail journey from Churchill on Hudson Bay. The dog was shipped by Pte. Fred Genereaux of the northern port to his mother here, taking five days to make the journey in a small wooden doghouse.

A completely new, luxury line of Monarch passenger cars for 1954, known as the Lucerne Series, will be publicly introduced in Ford-Monarch showrooms across Canada in December. The Lucerne line will include the two-door coupe shown above, the Lucerne sedan; the Sun Valley, with tinted plexiglass roof; and the convertible. The regular Monarch line for 1954 will consist of a two-door and a four-door sedan model. Both Monarch lines will be equipped with a new, 161-h.p. overhead valve V8 engine. The greater horsepower makes for increased efficiency and wider margin of safety through more flexible operation on the road.

A Touching Story Told In Letter To Little Sands Lady

"Some time ago, Mrs. Alexander Blue of Little Sands received a letter of thanks from a lady in Poland expressing sincere thanks for some articles of clothing which she received through the U.N.R.R. seven years ago. Mrs. Blue had pinned her name and address on a blouse, little thinking she would receive such gratitude after seven years. Mrs. Blue answered this letter through a Polish immigrant then residing in Charlottetown, who offered to translate her letters. In due time Mrs. Blue received another letter from Poland which was sent to the Polish translator in Charlottetown, but she had moved from Charlottetown to Winnipeg, Man., some time elapsed before she received the second letter translated into English. The following is a copy of the letter which speaks for itself. Spot 9, 11, 1953. Dear (Lady) Mrs. Blue: Truthfully, it is difficult for me to express in words the anxiety with which my wife expected a letter from you. I also have been curious to receive a reply after seven years will reach the addressee. Quite often we have discussed this, and our opinions had been divided. Unfortunately, the joy on the arrival of this so much desired reply was only half-hearted, because your letter came on the tenth of October, which was the tenth day after the death of my wife. She died untimely in an unfortunate accident. I can imagine how happy my wife would have been that her thanks-expressing letter reached its destination after all. However, it happened otherwise; it wasn't given her to live through this so much desired and pleasant moment. My wife's death, because of its suddenness and its unexpectedness, is to me the hardest blow in my life. I feel immeasurably sad and desolate, in spite of the many good friends, whose hearts are with me and who have shown me so much sympathy. With my wife—who to the last moment was not only my life's best companion but also my very dear friend—I have spent 24 years together. Our marriage had been happy. We didn't have children; their lack we did regret in some measure, especially during the last few years. My wife was 87 years old, which is about the same age as yours. Being very gay and industrious, she felt quite young. I presume—if it were not for her departure—you would have found many a topic in common, had you continued to write each other. I am employed in a bank; having no great demands, we led a modest life. During the war, twice we have lost all our possessions, and strangely, this had happened on the outset and before the end of the war. I hope to have imparted such details of our life, as would interest you. Again I thank you heartily for the gifts my deceased wife has received from you. Also I thank you for your nice letter which I assure you, has been a comfort in my present life of solitude. I am sending you and your husband hearty greetings from the other hemisphere. Simultaneously I send to you, Dear Friends, wishes for a healthy and peaceful Christmas and a happy New Year. Sincerely Stanwiniski Sopot Kotogdanska UL, J. Agietty, 7m.3. Poland. Translator's Note: If Mr. S. has not added such as "sincerely yours" or "truly yours", this happened not by impoliteness, but because these favors are taken for granted in friend-to-friend letters. The translator of the above letter was Mr. T. Pasdieneny who is now in Winnipeg, Manitoba. He says in his letter to Mrs. Blue, that he has left the "Garden of the Gulf" after a six and a half year stay which was the happiest of his life so far. He says, although he is in Manitoba, it should not stop her from taking advantage of his free services. Mrs. Blue feels very grateful to this stranger for his kindness in translating her letters. —C.O.

Inquest Shows Death From Natural Causes

"That George William Vandierstine came to his death sometime between 7.30 p.m. December 6th and Tuesday, December 8th at 2.30 p.m. in the vicinity of Charlottetown of natural causes" was the verdict reached by a coroner's jury called to inquire into the death of the deceased. The inquest took place last night at 7.00 o'clock in City Hall. The jury further recommended that a further thorough investigation be carried out. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Dr. L. E. Prowse with the following jury in attendance: Arthur Roper (foreman), Frank J. MacDonald, Spurgeon Leard, Owen Lockyer, Loran MacLellan, George MacDougall and Ernest MacInnis. Mr. John P. Nicholson appeared for the Crown. Dr. Prowse recalled to the jury their viewing of the body of the deceased on December 8th and its being identified by Mr. Robert Dalziel, City of Dalziel identified the body under oath. He described the findings of the post mortem examination in which he found no water in the lungs. The Coroner stated that the liver had the appearance of being markedly chirotoxic—a condition in itself not sufficient to cause death. The stomach was almost empty except for the presence of a small quantity of fluid which was sent to the provincial laboratory for examination. Dr. Prowse was of the opinion that the man died from a heart attack. Dr. J. H. Shaw, Provincial Pathologist, gave evidence as to the laboratory analysis of the organs and tissue belonging to the body. An examination of the heart revealed that the left ventricle was much thicker than normal, indicating an arterial condition. A further examination of the coronary arteries gave evidence of bony tissue with complete occlusion of the left valve. The resultant condition was coronary thrombosis or a blockage of the heart. Dr. Shaw did not believe that the chirotoxic of the liver had any bearing on the cause of death, but he did believe that slight bruises and contusions on the face indicated a blow sufficient to be fatal. There was very slight evidence of alcohol in the blood and stomach contents. His conclusion was that the man died of natural causes. Two young men, Jackie Mahar of 194 Cumberland Street and Harold Barrett of 159 Cumberland Street gave evidence in regard to the finding of the body on the shore at the City dump on the afternoon of December 8th. They described the clothing and position of the body and told of their notifying some workmen on the dump who were instrumental in having the police called. Miss Muriel Sobey, a housemaid at the Russ Hotel, told of the deceased hiring a room at the hotel on the night of December 6th. She said that she was of the opinion that afterwards Mr. Vandierstine went out. When questioned by Mr. Nicholson as to whether his condition was normal, Miss Sobey replied that it was. She further stated that at eight o'clock in the morning Vandierstine's room had the appearance of being slept in but that he was gone. Miss Pauline Blaquiere, domestic at the Russ Hotel, told of going to room 11, which was the one rented to the deceased, at 8.00 o'clock in the morning of the 7th, to fix the room and exchange the linen. None of the deceased's belongings were in the room but the bed gave indications of having been slept in. Constable Raymond Stunden of the R.C.M.P., the officer who was first present at the place where the body was found and who later conducted an investigation into the death of the deceased, gave evidence of finding a one dollar bill, a chocolate bar, nine cents and a temporary liquor permit on the body. He later examined a Ford 3-ton truck belonging to Mr. Vandierstine. The truck was parked in the rear yard of the Russ Hotel; the doors were locked and with keys which had also been found on the deceased, he opened the truck and found a wallet and a watch belonging to the deceased. The wallet contained no money. Constable Stunden later located the clothing and personal belongings of the deceased at the home of Mr. Daniel Rice, Millview, with whom the deceased stayed. The police officer stated that the investigation is still going on but up to the present time it has not been possible to establish the whereabouts of the deceased from the time he was last seen at the Russ Hotel on the night of December 6th and the time of finding his body on the shore. In his summation of the inquest Coroner Prowse told the jury that it had not been established how the man got on the shore. He
