

Not Shot Rookie Angotti Reminiscent Of Fontinato

NEW YORK (AP) — New York, which has had less than its share of ice hockey heroes in recent years, is warming up to a hot-shot rookie with a long-limbed style who has been called the Rangers get off to an unexpectedly fast start in the National Hockey League.

He's Lou Angotti, a dark-haired, 26-year-old forward from Toronto. He is of Italian descent and has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans.

Angotti is among those responsible for the 3-3 record which puts his change-up two points out of first place.

There are some super-stars in this league like Bobby Hull and Frank Mahovlich of Toronto who have all the natural ability in the world, Angotti pointed out.

Angotti, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Angotti has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bruins Win First

The Boston Bruins paced by the two goal performance of veteran center, John Bucyk, won their first game of the season Sunday night as they downed the Black Hawks 5-0 on home ice.

We think the only display of National Hockey League hockey that the Bruins came up with outside of Sunday's victory over the Hawks came when Fleming and Kennedy combined to earn the Schmidt coached club a 2-1 tie with the defending Stanley Cup Champions, Toronto Maple Leafs.

The regular performers have certainly not been burning out any red lights in the National League so why not shake up those regular lines a little and see if they can come up with some scoring punch?

Prince Edward Island football fans, who braved the bitter cold at St. Dunstan's University gridiron Saturday afternoon, got a look at what a championship football team they have when the St. Francis Xavier squad invaded the SDU campus.

The powerful Nova Scotia squad then squelched any hopes the local fans had when Tom Delaney showed the lockoff in his arm and followed his blocking perfectly when he hit the ball.

This observer thought that perhaps the only bright spot in the game from the local fans point of view was the performance of the St. Francis Xavier team.

Congratulations to Summerside High School in picking their first win over St. Dunstan's High School in Island Independent School Division football Saturday.

We learned yesterday that Sammy Greig is performing with the Knoxville Knights of the Eastern League, but he is still in the minor leagues.

Jack Nicklaus won the Australian Open Golf Championship in an 18-hole playoff with Australian Bruce Devlin for his first tournament victory in three visits to the country.

Jackie Burke 2-0 of Saint John, N.B. won the Canadian heavyweight boxing championship at the New Glasgow Stadium Saturday night.

Joe Lovetree, defensive tackle of the New York Giants, is lost to the link for a new five million dollar fortune.

OSU basketball coach Henry Swaffar, who coached the United States Olympic championship basketball team, made the trip to Oklahoma City in the ambulance operation at the University of Oklahoma medical center.

The five surgeons who performed the operation on Swaffar terminated the replantation of his hand.

Yogi Berra Signs As Consultant NEW YORK (CP) — Yogi Berra has signed a two-year contract to serve as special field consultant, New York Yankees announced Monday.

Yogi Berra was given added impetus by the disclosure of a clause in Berra's contract which would allow him to break it if he so desires.

George Weiss, president of the Mets, said last week he had conferred with Berra about joining the National League club, which he added, had asked today to consider the offer, presumed to be a coaching job with the team.

Defensive tackle Mike Casella (left), one of British Columbia Lions "headliners" who east quarterbacks for breakfast, is about to digest Kenny Ploen of Winnipeg Blue Bombers. The action was at the Lions-Bombers game at Vancouver Sunday, Nov. 28-8 by B.C. (CP Wirephoto).

Public Relations Man Says Sports Create Good Will

EDMONTON (CP) — "Sports are the best means I know to eliminate racial prejudice," says David Ward, a handsome 28-year-old public relations officer who has known and felt the sting of intolerance.

Ward was one of the winners of the 1964 Olympic Games do much to create international good will. "Among competitors there is seldom racial intolerance. There is no breakdown between rich and poor. The superior athlete respects those he has beaten because he knows his opponent has put out the best man."

Ward and his family moved to Edmonton from Chesterfield, Ill., N.W.T., 26 years ago. He graduated from high school here and later attended university in Louisiana and the state of Washington.

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Val Fonteyne Is Recalled To NHL

NEW YORK (AP) — Left winger Val Fonteyne was recalled Monday by New York Rangers of the National Hockey League from their Baltimore Hockey affiliate.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Fonteyne, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ploen For Breakfast

EDMONTON (CP) — "Sports are the best means I know to eliminate racial prejudice," says David Ward, a handsome 28-year-old public relations officer who has known and felt the sting of intolerance.

Ward was one of the winners of the 1964 Olympic Games do much to create international good will. "Among competitors there is seldom racial intolerance. There is no breakdown between rich and poor. The superior athlete respects those he has beaten because he knows his opponent has put out the best man."

Ward and his family moved to Edmonton from Chesterfield, Ill., N.W.T., 26 years ago. He graduated from high school here and later attended university in Louisiana and the state of Washington.

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ward pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Cincinnati Reds Sign F. Ocek

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds signed Frank Ocek Monday to the coaching staff for the 1965 season.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ocek, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Star QB Turns Out To Be Girl

TORONTO (CP) — A Grade 9 football enthusiast brother, Bonnie, turned out to be a girl.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Bonnie, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Ford To Undergo Operation Nov. 9

NEW YORK (AP) — Pliker Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees will undergo a shoulder operation Nov. 9 at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston, Tex., the club announced Monday.

Ford's ailment was described as a partial blockage of his left shoulder. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Ford pitched and lost the opening game of the World Series last month to St. Louis Cardinals. "I was so excited, but I knew I was going to lose."

Warwick Trophy To Be Presented

TORONTO (CP) — The Bert Warwick Trophy, donated by the family of the late Canadian football player, will be presented to the most valuable player in this year's Canadian Intermediate final, Bill Fry of Toronto, registrar of the Canadian Rugby Union's intermediate committee, announced Monday.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

The Winnipeg native was coach and vice-president of Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Football Conference and president of the Canadian Rugby Union rules committee.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Warwick, who died last year in Edmonton at the age of 61, was a player, referee, coach and executive during a 45-year football career.

Henri Richard To Dress Thursday

MONTRÉAL (CP) — The Montreal Canadiens Hockey Club reported Monday in all probability right-winger Henri Richard will dress for the National Hockey League game against Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night.

The club said Richard practiced with the team Tuesday and said afterwards "I feel like my old self again."

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Richard suffered a groin injury Oct. 7 in an exhibition game against Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and has been out for Montreal's first eight games of the season.

Craddock Downed

MONTRÉAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes' quarterback Craddock was downed during an Eastern Football Conference game played Sunday in Montreal. Hamilton won 21-14.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

Craddock, who has been called "The Italian Assassin" by some fans, is a player with a low-striding skating pattern that seems to have thoroughly confused the opposition.

6 DAY WEEKLY CAR SALE

Following Units brought in from New Brunswick. HERE ARE SOME OF THE BUYS

1962 Pontiac Laurentine 2 door