Of Eight Years' Standing
"PERFECTLY CURED" BY Skoda's Ointment and Discovery.

LEWISTON, ME.

GENTS:—I wish to inform the suffering through you that SKODA'S GERMAN OINTMENT and SKODA'S DISCOVERY will cure the worst Skin disease to be found. This statement may seem strong, but I think a true statement of my own case, will convince the most skeptical.

For some eight years I have had a terrible Skin disease from which I suffered untold misery. I have tried Physicians of repute and about all the so-called "skin cures," but the result was failure.

My body was covered with white scales. I itched intensely, and when I would rub or scratch the scales off, a burning sensation such as only those afflicted as I was may know, tormented me.

My skin was so dry that my elbows, knees, hands, etc., would crack open so badly that they would bleed freely. My scalp was so that I could not comb my hair, and had to keep it clipped close to my head.

I have now used a half dozen bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and about eight ounces of SKODA'S OINTMENT. The result is I am PERFECTLY CURED. My skin is soft as an infants. Instead of torment I have sweet sleep at night, and a good head of hair.

Blood Poisoned from a Hen-peck

MASCOUTAH, Ill., June 2.—The first known instance of poisoning from a hen-peck has occurred here. Emma Blumm, daughter of a farmer, was pecked on the arm by a setting hen Sunday. The young woman was taken violently sick and the arm swelled to unnatural proportions. A surgical operation was performed, and it is thought she will recover.

Shocking Discovery by Soldiers.

PHŒNIH, June 2.—A ghastly sight met the eyes Saturday of parties engaged in removing the remains of a soldier from Fort Lowell to the National cemetery. The evidences were plain that James Deviney, a member of E troop, Fourth Cavalry, who died four years ago, was buried alive. The head of the body was found turned over to the left, and the right arm lying straight down by the side.

The left arm was thrown over the left thigh and the lower limbs were crossing each other. From the appearance and position of the lower jaw and portions of the face, which was yet intact, it is clear that animation returned after burial and that he subsequently died in great agony.

Cigarettes Did It.

BERLIN, May 28.—The physicians of the mad King Otto of Bavaria had an audience this week with the Bavarian Regent to represent to him the real and exact condition of their patient. The King is confined to the castle at Furstenreid. He has periods of unconsciousness daily, some of them lasting for an hour or longer. His passion for cigarette smoking has grown upon him so that he sometimes smokes six packages a day. To this practice, the physicians say, is attributable the present breaking down of his amazing constitution. Frequently at night the King is seized with violent fits, and smashes furniture and pictures, or tries to throw himself from the window. His cries can be heard throughout the district when the four muscular porters, who are kept ready for such occasions, seize him and strap him to his bed.

Should the King not die before September, it is reported his abdication will be declared. Prince Luitpold will retire, and Bavaria will, for the first time in many years, have a sane monarch on its throne.

The Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island.

(Hansard, May 30th.)

Mr. Davies (P.E.I.) The hon. leader of the House intimated to me the other day that he would be prepared at the beginning of this week to make a statement in reference to the intended action of the Government in regard to the Bill reserved by the Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island.

Sir John Thompson. I did make that statement to the hon. gentleman, and I received on Saturday a letter from His Honor the Lieutenant Governor containing some explanations on the subject. When the hon. member for Queen's last brought the subject to the notice of the House, I understood from him that the matter was very urgent, inasmuch as in the ordinary course a general election would take place in that province some time during the present summer.

Mr. Davies (P. E. I.) Within the year.

Sir John Thompson. And with that understanding I felt that a statement on the subject should be made as quickly as possible. I am now informed that the time for the general election will not be reached until, I think, 1894, at any rate not before the spring of 1893, and the Bill contains no provision which would anticipate that event. If such be the case, I would prefer not to enter into the subject until after the session, when it can be taken up and considered carefully.

Mr. Davies (P. E. I.) I will take an opportunity of referring again to the letter of the Attorney General, and I may again bring the matter to the attention of the hon. gentleman. I know that he considered it urgent.

LETTERS TO EDITOR.

To the Editor of the Guardian:

SIR,—In view of the approaching visit from the Royal Commission, recently appointed to enquire and report upon the liquor traffic throughout the Dominion, it has been impressed on my mind for some time that the friends of temperance and social reform should make some effort to secure definite and satisfactory answers to some of the questions presented, as I find, to some of the learned professions, notably the medical, as well as clerical. In reference to the former, and from a paper now before me, I find some very important questions are presented to that fraternity, which, if answered conscionaly, and as no doubt they ought to be, much, yea, very much good would assuredly follow. Did the writer belong to either of the two professions referred to, he might take some action, but as it is, a suggestion can do no harm, and as both classes exert a powerful influence for weal or otherwise upon the community, I would kindly suggest something in the way of a conference, or convention, be tried, so as to arrive at a measure of uniformity in replying to the questions presented to each body. As for temperance men and women their part of the work will be attended to by their legislative bodies in course of their meetings during the next two months or so. Hoping this may prove as stimulant to concerted action, I remain yours very sincerely in the cause.

A TRUE PROHIBITONIST.

Charlottetown, June 3, '92.

[We second the hope expressed that those who have the welfare of their fellow men at heart will aid in every effort put forth to present as strong a case as possible to the Royal Commission and that our contemporaries of every political stripe will aid us in this matter to the best of their ability.]

About Foreigners.

To the Editor of the Guardian.

SIR, In a recent issue of your paper, I noticed an article, saying that a certain man had been "taken in" by a foreigner, who sold him a watch for nine times the value of it. Now, as there are a great many foreigners on this Island at this season of the year, and as your article refers to them in general, I think it is too bad to put them all down for being cheats. The law is open to the injured party, and let him punish the offender, and not try to injure honest people in their business. I am a foreigner, and have been been doing business here for three years. There are lots of people living in different parts of the country, who can testify to the fairness of my prices and quality of my goods, and I think the goods sold here, by foreigners, are, in nine cases out of ten as good value as any in the market.

J. GOODSTEIN.

Charlottetown, June 3, 1892.

To the Editor of the Guardian.

SIR,—The annual donation of "at least ten cents per member," as recommended by discipline, for the "Supernumerary Ministers' Widows' Fund," will be received at the Second Methodist church tomorrow. It is earnestly hoped that all friendly to the classes benefitted by this fund, will contribute as generously as possible. A box will be found at each entrance to the church at both morning and evening services, into which the contributions are to be dropped.

INTERESTING INTERVIEW!

Dr. Taylor's Impressions of the Canadian Northwest.

A GUARDIAN reporter called on Dr. Taylor, Friday evening, who had just returned from his seven week's western tour, and found him in excellent health and spirits after his first real holiday trip for 23 years.

Knowing the Dr. to be a clear-headed practical gentleman, who does not travel with his eyes shut, we solicited him to give us for our readers a few of his impressions of the Canadian Northwest and any other items that would be of interest concerning Island friends he had met.

Well, said the Dr, in the first place, I will give you my impressions of Winnipeg. It is a wonderful town of great possibilities. It is the distributing centre of a country of infinite resources, and I shall be disappointed if it is not yet the emporium of the Northwest. My friends there informed me that it is the intention, at an early date, to dam the Assinaboine River, by which superior water power facilities will be obtained for running mills. At Winnipeg I met Post Office Inspector McLeod, who drove me around and entertained me royally.

After leaving Winnipeg the C. P. R. runs for a considerable distance through a section of country in my opinion too low to be suited for raising grain, but well adapted for grazing purposes. Passing through here I met Mr. Bell, proprietor and manager of the celebrated Bell farm. He had sowed one hundred acres of wheat, and expected to sow 4000 acres in all There are many flourishing little towns on the route up to Calgary. It is a town apparently of some four or five thousand people, situated in a grand agricultural centre. The land here is valuable, selling in the centre of the town, at $50 per foot frontage. Calgary forms the distributing centre for Edmonton and other smaller cities around. Immense numbers of cattle are slaughtered here for the British Columbia market.

Did you meet any friends in Calgary?

Yes. I made the acquaintance of a very estimable gentleman, Major Walker, who was a friend and co-worker of Governor Laird, as commander of the Mounted Police, when he was out there. He was very kind to me and drove me all around in his carriage. I visited the High School, of which Miss Mary Macleod, who left this Island some months ago, is the principal. Miss Macleod looks well, and is held in very high estimation by the people there as a young lady of refinement and education. The next point of interest was Banff, where I spent a day. I visited the celebrated Spring and drank of its water, which has a high reputation for its curative powers. Lots of sick were around it.

What did you think of Vancouver?

Oh! Well, it would be almost impossible to describe the grandeur and beauty of its mountain scenery. It is grand beyond description. One is also struck by the wonderful skill and ingenuity of man as displayed in the construction of railroads through it. Wherever I went I met Islanders in abundance. If I took a walk up the street the first thing I'd hear was, "Hello, Dr.!" and here was a P. E. Islander grinning away. Mr. Robert Palmer, Capt. M. McLeod and Mr. Anderson are Islanders who contributed very largely to make my visit pleasant while in the city. These gentlemen hold responsible positions there and are doing well, as are all our Islanders.

Does Vancouver bid fair to be a great city?

I dont think so. It is at present an exceeding smart town, and its growth has been marvellous, but considering its resources and the contributing elements of success. I do not think it will ever be as large as many suppose. Its population now is almost 14,000, and I do not believe it will be 30,000 in 50 years.

I suppose P. E. I. is quite in the shade in comparison with these countries in beauty?

Having seen some localities of our Island in August and June, I am quite sure nothing I have seen can surpass them. I passed through Nebraska and Illinois in day time, and they are considered the most beautiful in natural scenery, but in my mind's eye, I thought of the flourishing villages of New Glasgow and Rustico, on an early summer morning's drive, and I concluded they still excelled anything I had yet seen.

Would you advise young men to leave our Island to seek their fortune in the Northwest?

There are good openings for young men in our great West. There is a country to develope, and chances not met with here, but people who are well settled on the Island, need not be in a hurry to leave it. If our young men abroad worked no harded than they do at home, they would be no better off. Young men going there can not drive stylish buggies around the road and have a soft time any more than here, if they wish to succeed. Respectable men go to work there, and sacrifice many privileges, which are enjoyed at home.

What about young women?

Young likely women of good physique are much sought for, and provided they respect themselves are well thought of by people in every station.

So altogether you have good faith in our great Northwest?

Yes, I have faith in it on account of its great possibilities. It is also the only agricultural country available to the poor man, who wants cheap land, and as such must go ahead.

How did you return?

We left San Francisco, passed through Salt Lake city, Leadville, Colorado Springs, Denver, Chicago, Buffalo, Detroit, Boston, Portland, thence home.

What are your impressions of the American cities?

The Doctor answered by saying "How would it do to give you that again?"

A Careless Miner's Thoughtlessness.

PRAGUE, June 1.—The latest advices from the fire in Birkenberg silver mine, near Puzibram, Bohemia, report 200 missing, 25 dead bodies have been recovered. The 25 miners rescued were shockingly burned and crushed. Most of the victims, including the three men who lost their lives while engaged in the work of rescue, died of suffocation, being overcome by the fatal gases which pervaded the entire mine. Those who were examined believe that the fire was caused by the recklessness of a miner who carried a naked light into the chamber. They think the gases coming in contact with the light caused an explosion, which set fire to the timbers.

Dr. Briggs to be Again Tried.

PORTLAND, Oregon., June 2.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly, Monday, the formal order was presented in the Rev. Dr. Briggs' case, reversing the judgment of the Presbytery of New York, and remanding the case for a new trial.
