

CORNWALL W. M. S.

The September meeting of Cornwall W. M. S. was held at the home of Miss Laura Crosby. Mrs. Mack Vickerson led the devotions following the theme "God's Grace - The Water of Life". Mrs. Hazen Howard introduced the new study book "Along African Trails", giving a very clear picture of Angola, West Africa. Mrs. Sterling Clow repeated the poem "Give A Thought to Africa." Mrs. Charles Hyde reviewed the chapter "Tasks Old and New" in the old study book describing the Marine Missions, Radio Missions and Sunday Schools by air. The president conducted the business of the meeting and plans were made for a church service. Mrs. Bruce MacKinley will entertain the members for their October meeting when Mrs. A. S. Weir will conduct the study and Mrs. Reginald MacEwen will lead the devotions. The word for roll call will be "Thanksgiving". Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Earl Lowther and Mrs. Sterling Clow. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and the Mizpah Benediction.

RAGGED-EAR MAKES EXCUSES

Whenever there is no way of knowing. Suspicion grows, and keeps on growing. —Old Mother Nature.

Reddy Fox was disappointed. He had done his best to be pleasant as he invited Ragged-Ear, a young Rabbit, to take a walk with him in the Old Pasture. Ragged-Ear had been just about to accept the invitation when he had changed his mind. This had happened twice. The first time Ragged-Ear had complained of being tired. The second time, he had lost his appetite. He said so. "I know that sweet clover must be wonderful, but I would rather have it when I have more of an appetite," he explained.

"I really don't need your help," said Ragged-Ear.

Through these brambles and briars, said Ragged-Ear. "Just where are you going to cut it?" Reddy wanted to know. "I'm going to start right here where I am now, and cut a new path out to the edge," explained the young Rabbit.

Reddy pretended to be interested. "That will be fine," said he. "You really do need another path. I certainly would want one were I in your place. I think, however, you are making one mistake."

"What mistake am I making?" asked Ragged-Ear. "I think it is a mistake to start the new path where you are. As I see it, the place to start it is out on the outer edge. It will be much better to cut from outside in than from inside out. I am sure you will agree when you think it over," said Reddy.

Ragged-Ear thought this over for a moment. "I don't see that it will be any easier," said he. "I don't think that it will make any difference at which place I start that path."

"It will make all the difference in the world," said Reddy. You have forgotten something."

"What have I forgotten?" Ragged-Ear wanted to know. "You have forgotten that I offered to help," said Reddy. He grinned in a way which he intended to be very pleasant. The trouble was he had too many teeth to make a grin pleasant when he showed all of them.

Just then Sammy Jay began calling in the distance. At the sound of his voice Ragged-Ear remembered the warning Sammy had given him the day before. At the same time he saw those teeth.

"I really don't need your help," said Ragged-Ear. "It's nice of you to offer to help, but there really isn't room for two to work at the same time. Thank you, just the same."

Reddy tried to hide his disappointment. "I'm sorry you think that," said he. "I admit there would hardly be room in there for both of us. That is one reason I think it

YOU JUST GUIDE ...it does the work

The back-breaking job of polishing linoleum, hardwood and tile floors with a clumsy, weighted brush is a thing of the past. Now, a G-E Floor Polisher does all the work. You just guide it and, presto, you have gleaming floors. Two counter-rotating brushes, driven at 600 revolutions per minute do a thorough polishing job right up to baseboards, deep into corners and close to furniture. And the G-E Floor Polisher is easily carried from room to room: only 16 pounds. Your G-E Dealer will gladly demonstrate this labour-saving polisher.

GENERAL ELECTRIC FLOOR POLISHER

Easy to use Because the brushes rotate in opposite directions they counter balance each other... eliminating the tendency to "run away" common to other machines.

Light to carry Weighing only 16 lbs., it is light enough to carry from room to room—yet heavy enough to do a lovely job.

Snap-on brushes and buffing pad Polishing brushes have finger-pull attachments for easy removal... lamb's wool buffing pads that snap on brushes give that extra high-gloss finish.

Gets in corners As the brushes rotate they flare out making it possible to polish deep into corners, close to baseboard, furniture and rug.

would be much better to start from the outside. Why not try it? "Thief! Thief! Thief!" screamed Sammy Jay in the distance. Ragged-Ear cut a bramble with his sharp front cutting teeth. "I don't think you have the right kind of teeth for this kind of work," said he. It was true. Reddy Fox doesn't have front cutting teeth such as all Rabbits have. He doesn't have to bite off things as they do. "I have very good teeth," said Reddy. But Ragged-Ear appeared not to hear him.
