Mrs. Lloyd MacCallum, Mrs. John W. Smith, teacher, and Miss Terese Lecky, speech therapist, were appointed as delegates to attend the second Maritime regional conference on Cerebral Palsy, June 1 to 3, 1962. The conference is to be held in Fredericton, N.B., at the University of New Brunswick, where Mrs. Edna LeFaire, director of public health nursing and members of the staff of the Provincial Rehabilitation Centre.

An increase in the provincial grant to help defray the cost of family life, a hand inventory pattern of devotion, security and over protection (as she feels it)—that causes your daughter to dream of taking wing into an Air Force career, beyond reach of your apron strings.

As for what to do, my advice is to put aside your reflex objections, at least for now, and give her proposition the courtesy of careful second thought.

Kensington Is The Scene Of Spring Wedding Ceremony

The Rev. D. J. Mackay was the officiating clergyman at the marriage of Gertrude Loraine Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Summerside and the late Claude Adams, and Robert Murray Smith, son of Mrs. Bertha Smith and the late Kenneth Smith of Saint John, N.B.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN Versatile Beef Tongue Is Easily Cooked And Stored

"BEEF TONGUE is a good buy whether cooked at home or purchased canned or ready-cooked in package form with all waste removed," observed the Chef. "It keeps several days under refrigeration, is comparatively low in calories, is adaptable to various combination dishes and is suitable to serve at any meal."

"The easiest and quickest way to cook a smoked tongue is with the pressure-cooker."

SMOKED BEEF TONGUE
 Pressure or Kettle - Cooked (Methods)
 4 pounds smoked beef tongue
 2 cloves
 4 peppercorns
 1 small bay leaf
 1 tablespoon vinegar
 2 cups hot water

To Pressure-Cook: Cover the tongue with cold water. Let stand 2 hours.
Bring to boil; simmer 8 minutes; discard water.
Place in pressure-cooker with spices, vinegar and hot water. Close cooker; bring to 15 pounds pressure and process 15 minutes to the pound.
Let cooker return to normal. Remove tongue; when sufficiently cool, pull off skin; remove bones and root ends. Then slice as needed.

To Cook by Kettle Method: Follow preceding recipe, using 4-quart kettle and adding sufficient hot water to cover tongue. Cook; bring to boil; then simmer about 4 hours or until fork-tender.

MARY HAWORTH Parent's Object To Girl's Desire To Join Air Force

Dear Mary Haworth: We have a daughter, 20, who is thinking of joining the Air Force. Both her father and I are against it. I love her very much and will be very heartbroken if she goes.

She claims she isn't happy at home and will join the Air Force without our permission when she is 21. Please advise me on what to do. I don't know when she has made this decision.

W.Y.: Wouldn't it be wise to try to learn from your daughter—in a listening, interested, interested way—just what she wants to join the Air Force before you make up your own mind about it?

The fact that you don't know why she has decided to join—without our permission when she's 21 if you don't yield now—suggests that you haven't paid much attention to her as a person in her own right.

with your mind honestly open to her side of the case—even if you feel you can't bear to let her go.

More important than winning the debate at this time, is the constructive necessity of restoring a sense of unity and a spirit of friendly communication to the family relationship between the two generations—as you and your daughter prepares to go ahead into adult life.

Consider former President Truman's sagacious observation when asked how one promotes sound achievement in children. He said, in effect: "The best way I know is to find out what they want to do, and help them do it."

Dear Mary Haworth: This concerns the girl I love and my daughter. She is 23 and I am 27. We have been going steady for nearly four years, although I am in the Navy and don't see her often—only when I am home or leave. I write to her about three times a week.

About three weeks ago I got home for a month's leave. Jane was very cool to me and some of our friends tell me she is interested in another man, much older than she.

I've tried to put our romance back together because I love her. But she turns a deaf ear and says she has to lead her own life. Should I keep trying? Or should I just forget her?

J.P.: The only sound course of action, when one party to a romance loses interest, is for the other party to quit the

NOW TELEPHONE USERS IN MANY PARTS OF NORTH AMERICA CAN DIAL DIRECT TO TELEPHONES IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

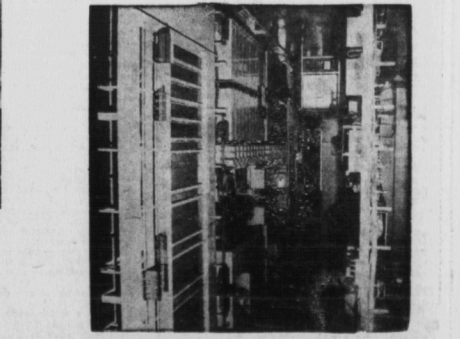

Microwave Radio Tower on Summerside Telephone Building

Microwave Radio Repeater Equipment at Hazel Grove, P.E.I.

This means that with the recent cut over of new Long Distance Dialing equipment in Charlottetown and Summerside it is now possible for a telephone user in Los Angeles, Vancouver, Toronto and many other centres in North America to dial telephones in Prince Edward Island direct without the assistance of an operator.
