Purchasing a Farm.

Collector David Henshaw was a kind-hearted man as well as able; but as smart as he was, on one occasion, in doing a generous act, he was badly taken in.

"Well, sir," said the latter, "what can you do for us."

"Have saved my farm for you, sir," replied the unfortunate man.

"Your farm, hey," said Mr. Henshaw, "and what have you left?"

"Well, sir, a horse, pig and cow, and altogether I think they may bring me in about seventy-five dollars—sufficient, I hope, to get my self and family out west, where I intend to settle.

"The poor fellow was greatly surprised, reluctantly taking the check, with a tear drop in his eye," heartily thanked his very generous creditor and departed, but to be seen by Mr. H. no more.

About the 1st of April following, Mr. Henshaw, thought he would go up to Eaton and take a look at his real estate there. Arriving there about dusk, he "put up" at his old friend Marsh's who, on hearing his guest's errand, said he would go out with him the next morning and show him where the farm lay.

Next day, soon after breakfast, they sailed out to see it. After proceeding a few rods, the tavern keeper halted, and directed his companion's attention to a bare, but steep and rough-looking mountain, that stood a few miles off remarked that was called Bald Mountain.

"That's a tough looking place," remarked the other.

"Well," continued the tavern keeper, "the location of your property—the Cold Spring farm—is on the top of that mountain."

"Yes, but how do you get there?"

"Why, you don't suppose anybody was ever up there, do you, Mr. Henshaw?"

"Well, what's the good of it—what is done with it?"

"The town sells it every year for the taxes," replied the tavern keeper.

"They do, hey?" said Mr. Henshaw, "and pray tell me who in these parts is fool enough to buy that style of property?"

"Why, any of our chaps around here who get into trouble and fail, buy it for the purpose of settling with Boston creditors."

Mr. Henshaw took the first opportunity to return home, and perhaps would not have told the story, had not a friend, in asking him, as collector, to give a man a place in the custom house, for one reason, among and above all others, that he was from New Hampshire—when he gave this little bit of experience with one of the Granite State men.

Old Rowe keeps a hotel in the northern part of this State, which he boasted was the best in "them parts," where, as he used to say, you could get everything that was ever made to eat. One day it comes a Yankee, sends his horse around to the stable, and stepping up to the bar, asked old Rowe what he could give him for dinner. "Anything, sir," says old Rowe, "anything, from a pickled elephant to a canary bird's tongue."

Agriculture.

WEEDING POTATOES WITH SHEEP.

It may not be known to farmers in general, that it is a common practice in some of the potato growing districts to turn flocks of sheep into the potato fields for the purpose of eating down the weeds.

CURE FOR BREACHY CATTLE.—Mr. Thorn, of Dutchess county, gives a very simple remedy to prevent cattle from leaping or breaking fences, which, if it proves effective, is very valuable.

STACKING HAY AND GRAIN.—The bottoms of old clover stacks and mows also are sometimes infested with the clover worm, which eats the stems. Where such have been it is unsafe to stack again.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's PREPARATIONS FOR THE HAIR

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer

is suited to both young and old. It strengthens the Hair, prevents its falling or turning grey, and imparts to it a beautiful glossy appearance. It never fails to restore GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It is NOT A DYE, but acts directly upon the roots of the Hair, giving them the natural nourishment required, producing the same vitality and luxuriant quantity as in youth. It will restore it on bald places, requires no previous preparation of the hair, and is easily applied by one's self. One bottle will usually last for a year, as after the hair is once restored, occasional applications once in three months will insure against grey hairs to the most advanced age.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Dressing, or ZYLOBALSAMUM is essential to use with the Restorer, but the Hair Dressing alone often restores, and never fails to invigorate, beautify and refresh the Hair, rendering it soft, silky and glossy, and disposing it to remain in any desired position. FOR LADIES AND CHILDREN, whose hair requires frequent dressing, it has no equal. No lady's toilet is complete without it. The rich glossy appearance imparted is truly wonderful. It cleanses the Hair, removes all dandruff, and imparts to it a most delightful fragrance. It will prevent the Hair from falling out, and is the most economical and valuable Hair Dressing known. Millions of bottles sold every year.

The Restorer Reproduces and the Hair Dressing Cultivates and Beautifies. Principal Sales Office, 198 Greenwich Street, New York City. August 1, 1867.

Removal!

THE Subscriber returns his sincere thanks to those who so liberally patronized him while conducting the "AMA HOUSE," and wishes to inform them and the travelling public in general, that he has REMOVED to his New building on Water Street (nearly opposite the store of R. A. Strong & Bro.), where he has increased Hotel & Stable Accommodation! and he trusts to make those who may favor him with their custom a great deal more comfortable in the "OCEAN HOUSE," than he could, for want of room, in his late stand. The best or Liquors always kept in the bar in connection with the Hotel. This Hotel is on the water's edge, and commands a splendid view of the harbor of Summerside, and of the Straits, and will be found a comfortable and healthy place for travellers. Its near proximity to the steamer Wharf will make it the best place for travellers waiting to go or arriving in the Boat. Horses and carriages can always be had on the premises, by boarders.

Startling, but True!

THE dark ages of medication now draw to a close. Dr. Maggill's two grand specifics—PILLS and SALVE—have a ruck at the root of the cruel idea that make it necessary for a man to pour masses of dead and effete drugs down his throat to aid the cure of his disease.

ONE TO TWO PILLS are enough at any time for any man to take if the pills are made of pure, unadulterated drugs. MAGGILL'S PILLS and SALVE are superseding all the stereotyped physics of the day, because they are made of the finest materials in the laboratory, and never fail.

HEAR WHAT IS SAID: "Dr. Maggill, your pill has rid me of all biliousness."

"No more noxious doses for me in five or ten pills taken at a time. One of your pills cured me."

"I thank Doctor. My headache has left me. Send a other box to keep in the house."
