Buller Establishes Communication with Gen. White.

The treachery of the Boers punished by the British Cavalry—A Particular Service Squadron fitted out—Garrisons being withdrawn in Cape Colony—Boer wounded in Ladysmith show marks of Cavalry work—Second Canadian Contingent not Required.

LONDON, Nov 9, 4 a. m.—A despatch to the London Daily Mail from Queens-town, Cape Colony, says:

"The staff of the Cape Colony Railway is being withdrawn from all the border stations between that point of De Aar Junction. Four thousand Boers are now in Cape Colony and more are expected to arrive. General Buller however, has already taken effective steps to check their advance.

"There is no cause for fear, though Aliwal North, Burgersdorp, Steynsburg, Molteno and Barkly East are now unprotected by British troops.

"The censor does not allow me to particularize, but you may expect to hear good news from South Africa before very long."

The Daily Telegraph has a communication from Estcourt which says that official communication was established with General White at Ladysmith on November 4, when the latter received an official message from General Buller.

LONDON, Nov 9.—Additional information received here confirms the statement of the native eye-witnesses regarding the severity of the fighting on both Friday and Saturday at Ladysmith. The natives assert that the Boers were so cut up that they howled for mercy on the field and covered their bodies.

Ladysmith is crowded with Boer prisoners and wounded, the latter presenting horrible evidence of the swordsmanship of the British cavalry.

The Gordon Highlanders suffered severely in the fighting.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A despatch from Pietermaritzburg, Natal, confirms the story of Boer treachery in the fighting at Latham's Farm last Thursday. When the Boers first raised the white flag the Highlanders ceased firing and advanced to take the enemy prisoners. When they got within close range the Boers fired a deadly volley into their ranks.

The Fifth Lancers and the Dragoons then charged upon the Boers. The latter again raised their flag of truce, but no notice was taken of it. The cavalry charged home on the Boers and cut into their ranks doing great execution.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A particular service squadron, consisting of four of the swiftest cruisers in the navy, will be completed today, and after coaling it will await orders from the admiralty. This squadron will probably make more effective that present great patrol of the ocean now being carried out by our warships along the whole coast of Africa.

LATER

DEBBAN, Nov. 9.—The bombardment of Ladysmith, it is believed, has been resumed by the Boers.

The Boer force surrounding Ladysmith is said to be of tremendous strength. They have been reinforced by artillery and are thus able to place many new guns in position on the hills surrounding the beleaguered town.

CAPE TOWN, Nov 9.—Pietermaritzburg is being hastily fortified and a volunteer force is under arms. The spirit of the colony is admirable.

The charge of the British cavalry in the action outside Ladysmith when the Boers shot down some of the Gordon Highlanders, after treacherously displaying a flag of truce, is described as simply awful, the enraged troops being simply impossible to withstand.

The Boers were caught up between the infantry with their fixed bayonets and the cavalry with their lances and sabres.

The Lancers, Hussars and Dragoons swept time and time again through the ranks of the Boers, doing frightful execution.

The Boer it is only fair to say fought like demons, and the Gordon Highlanders who met them hand-to-hand suffered heavily.

But the Boer loss at the end of the carnage was awful. Their wounded presented a horrible appearance. Many of the survivors went about with noses and ears missing, and showing other terrible wounds, as a result of the sabre and bayonet work in close fighting.

L. C. W.—The adjourned meeting of the L. C. W. took place on Saturday in P. W. College. The report of the committee to obtain information in regard to a patriotic club in connection with the R. C. S. to help our Canadian Contingent was given and it was decided that this branch keep in touch with the General Council who have put themselves in the hands of the Government to work on such lines as they deem best. The President then read an appeal from the Council asking help for the women of Doukhobor families in the N. W. but for the present this branch felt it impossible to take any action. Regarding a contribution from this Local Council for raised books for the circulating library of the Halifax School for the Blind, a circular will be sent to the president of each affiliated society with a request to lay it before them asking small individual contributions for this most worthy cause. The Council also decided to comply with a request to try and get better sanitary arrangements in places of business where women are employed.
