THE SUDDEN SCREAM

It sounds confusing, but is clear. That fear may yield to greater fear.

—Old Mother Nature

A half-grown young Gray Fox was a prisoner in a strange place. He was a snout up, he was a snout up, he was a snout up...

Once he looked up in the blue, blue sky, he saw a dark speck sailing round and round. It seemed like a speck anyway. He watched it for a moment, then forgot it.

He kept whimpering, "I want to get down."

great cruel-looking claws. He shivered and shook. Redtail continued to sweep low and threaten, but he did not strike.

Once more the young Fox looked over the edge of that nest. The ground looked just as far away as ever and he drew back.

The stock market is like all others enterprises. It is unpredictable for the reason that people are unpredictable.

Believe it or not, but New York City has more Puerto Ricans than they have in San Juan.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

"What's your name?" police asked a motorist in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

"Alexander Merrivether Screwdriver, and I'm from Muleshoe, Texas," the man replied.

The disbelieving officer took the fellow to police headquarters for a further identification check.

All that the overwhelming majority is doing about juvenile delinquency is reading about it.

One of the characteristics of the guppy is that it gives birth to its young.

A female may have a first litter at the age of three months. A new litter arrives afterward every 28 days.

A CLASSIC UNBLOCKING CASE

MOST declarers, when they get into serious difficulty, make that fact all too clear to the enemy—

North dealer. North-South vulnerable.

♠ 10 7 6 2 ♠ 10 7 6 2 ♠ 10 7 6 2 ♠ 10 7 6 2

The bidding:

North East South West

1♥ Pass 2♣ Pass

2♦ Pass 2NT Pass

3NT Pass Pass Pass

It was very difficult, if not impossible, for either South or North to foresee and allow for the blockade that existed in the key club suit, and so the actual course of bidding was very reasonable.

Dr. William Macphail Martin, associate professor of physics at Queen's University, has been appointed to the post of associate professor of physics at McGill University.

West opened the spade quest, and East, who certainly had no reason to discourage continuation, played the seven. South took one quick glance at the dummy and saw that he was in acute danger of being shut out of four club tricks.

West could not be blamed too much for falling into the trap. How was he to know that declarer could not get into his own hand except with spades? At any rate, West led another spade—and after that the defenders had only an academic interest in the proceedings.

Dr. Martin will be engaged in research in the radiation laboratory at McGill as well as being on the teaching staff of the university. Dr. and Mrs. Martin reside at 172 Carruthers and will take up residence in Montreal, Sept. 1.
