No Quorum For City Council Meeting

The special meeting of the City Council called for 7 o'clock last evening failed to materialize for want of a sufficient number of members to form a quorum. The meeting had been called to "Discuss ways and means of further augmenting the city treasury in view of the high cost of administration, education, etc."

A number of hurried telephone calls revealed the illness of Councillor G. R. Keefe, in hospital, which accounted for his absence, but nothing further.

Acting Mayor Edwin C. Johnston then made the following announcement: "Due to the absence of Councillor Keefe, through illness and the absence of councillors Arthur Gormley and Elmer MacDonald without explanation, there is not a quorum present and as a result we cannot hold a meeting."

After consulting with those present, the Acting Mayor set Tuesday, March 31 at 7 p.m. as the day and hour for another special meeting to deal with the matters scheduled for last evening. Mayor Stewart is not expected home until the end of next week.

Present last night were Acting Mayor E. C. Johnston, Councillors T. E. Cunnore, F. J. Storey, P. C. McCormac and M. Alban Farmer.

Further Criticism Of Dental Bill

An attempt to add a minor amendment to the E.T. Dental Act before third reading in the Legislature yesterday stirred up so much trouble that the bill which had already gone through the committee stage was held over for another day.

The amendment meant nothing in itself as it only concerned the adding of a few words relating to by-laws, but it gave members of the House an opportunity of again voicing their strong objections to the section which states that no one from outside the Province can come here and practise dentistry until he has paid a fee of $400 to the local association.

Members maintained that the same thing would happen in the medical profession where all the young doctors wanted to congregate in the city and not take up rural practice. It was maintained that the rural areas were badly in need of dentists and their absence imposed a hardship on the people in the country.

Hon. Keir Clark made a motion that no fee greater than $50 be charged. The motion was not put, however, as the one o'clock recess hour intervened. When the afternoon session began Mr. B. Earle MacDonald, who was acting promoter in the absence of Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, moved that the Speaker take the chair and progress reported. This had the effect of holding further discussion until the original promoter Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, who was absent at the time, could take over the piloting of the bill.

The bills passed yesterday were amendments to the Children's Act, the Village Service Act, the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Mother's Allowance Act, the Acts referring to the Affairs of St. James Presbyterian Church, the School Act and the Adoption Act.

Constitutional changes yesterday were Mr. Harvey Douglas, Second King's, and Mr. William Acorn, First King's.

Cites Protest Of Island Fishermen

OTTAWA, March 27 - (Special) - W. Quesier S. McLure told the House of Commons today that the Prince Edward Island Fisheries Federation strongly protests the increase in carapace measurement of lobsters taken for canning purposes.

At the question period in the House Mr. McLure asked Fisheries Minister Sinclair if he had been informed by Fisheries Deputy Minister Stewart Bates of the protest and if so had the minister any comment to make on the issue.

Mr. Sinclair replied that he had been informed of the situation but that he had no further comment to offer at the present time.

Honoured By Congregation On Eve Of Their Departure

Rev. G. C. Webster and Mrs. Webster were the honoured guests of the congregation of Zion church last evening on the eve of their departure for Wallace town, Ont., where Mr. Webster has been called after a most successful ministry here since 1931. Mr. Reginald MacNutt, presided.

The church was filled to capacity and a full programme of presentations from various church organizations to both Mr. and Mrs. Webster gave evidence of the esteem in which both are held by members of the congregation of all ages.

Mrs. J. G. Dennis read the address from the Congregations of Zion and Calvin at Mermaid, which was accompanied by a purse. Other addresses and presentations were made by Miss Joyce Stewart, for the Girl Guides; Mrs. F. A. A. Mutch and Mrs. Frank Johnson, for the Choir; Mrs. Randal Larner for the Junior Sunday School, and Mrs. Arthur King, Women's Missionary Society. The Congregation Ministerial Association address was read by Rev. E. C. Evans, who also made a presentation on their behalf.

Other speakers were Rev. J. D. Davidson, Baptist Church, Canon Rev. J. T. Abbott, St. Paul's Anglican, Rev. Frank MacLean, Trinity United, Rev. T. H. B. Somers, the Rev. of St. James, each of whom brought greetings and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Webster on behalf of their respective congregations.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster warmly thanked the representatives of the church organizations for their great kindness on this occasion as always. Mr. Webster expressed his deep appreciation for the gesture of goodwill shown by the clergy and the congregations under their charge.

The social hour which followed in the church hall was greatly enjoyed.

Text of Address Following is the address from the congregation: "To Rev. G. C. and Mrs. Webster Our beloved Pastor and Mrs. Webster,

"Tonight we are gathered here to try to express in a humble way our most sincere expressions of goodwill to you and our Thanksgivings for your great ministry in the Master's service over the past twenty-two years in this congregation."

"During these years you have endeared yourselves to the congregation so closely that we shall experience a great void on your departure. The years have brought joys and of course sorrows as well but in every case you as a faithful minister and your beloved wife have tried to share these things with us."

"As church your messages have been deeply imprinted in our souls and truly we feel that we could witness God working His way to us through your inspired sermons. At our homes your tender ways and your words of prayer have been deeply etched on our hearts. At the sick bed your presence was always a source of cheer and hope to the stricken one and in the time of death, you were always with us to comfort us and renew our faith in the Supreme Ruler and Healer of us all. Among the congregation your influence has been felt and your leadership has been appreciated by the Board of Session right down to the smallest organization.

"We trust that it is some consolation to you now to look back upon almost a quarter of a century progress during your ministry in this church. May you be encouraged by the fact that every phase of church work has shown progress during this period. Your record of service we feel sure is almost without parallel in the Presbyterian Church in Canada and will serve as a lasting memorial to your zeal and devotion to the extension of Christ's Kingdom."

"Now we as a congregation must say farewell to you and God's richest blessing may always be bestowed on you and your family and in parting may we also show our appreciation of your good work here in an intrinsic way by presenting you with this purse."

"May God bless you all."

"Presented on behalf of Congregations of Zion and Mermaid Presbyterian Churches."

Electoral Reform (Continued from Page 1) one of the weaknesses in our system as the totals for the two major parties were very close but the Conservatives had only six members elected in a 30-seat House. He favored clean elections and thought the Election Act did not have strict enough penalties as there was no way to get at the candidates who could always claim that anything contrary to the Act was done by their agents. He thought if the committee ever did sit against those who have been so "vociferous" in the past should attend hearings.

Mr. J. W. Don Campbell, as a member of the committee, expressed his disappointment at the poor attendance at the hearings. He did not agree that the Minister of Health should have made a political issue of the C.C.F. presentation.

Mr. R. R. Bell said it was not reasonable to expect people to take time from their work to attend hearings at their own expense. He argued for reform as he thought the required deposit of candidates was too high at $200 as this had a tendency to prevent a man from running. He also wondered why the Charlottetown representatives had not been heard from as with the big population in Fifth Queens they "should be interested in getting greater representation."

Mr. W. F. A. Stewart thought the Act was all right as it is and disagreed with the attempt to prevent the property vote for Councilors. He said that when the old Council was abolished it was agreed that property owners would be protected.

Divergent Views Mr. Harvey Douglas believed most people are satisfied with present conditions and he thought it was an insult to suggest that they might be bribed. He favored retention of the present deposit as, if it were lowered, there would be a tendency towards a multiplicity of parties and cited the difficulties

Local Legion Auxiliary Meets

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Charlottetown branch, was held in the Legion Home last night. There was a good attendance. The president, Mrs. J. T. Davies presided.

Reports of various committees were read and adopted. Letters of appreciation were received from hospitalized veterans thanking the auxiliary for treats received on St. Patrick's Day.

One name was proposed for membership. Ten dollars were voted to the Red Cross drive. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

France encountered in maintaining a Government.

Mr. Frank Myers said everyone knew what was going on at elections. If the Act remained the same by the time the next election was called, he added, "I doubt if I will come out at all."

Mr. J. George MacKay, chairman of the committee, said they held advertised meetings but the people did not appear interested enough to attend them. "We can't use coercion on them, take them by the throat and make them come in," he said.

Hon. Walter E. Darby said the committee was appointed to find out what the people wanted, "and we did". He doubted that any candidate who was not able to put up $200 nor get credit to that extent "would be much of an advertisement to this House". He moved that the committee be discharged.

Hon. Eugene Cullen objected to being "discharged" from such a "well paying" job and suggested that the committee be disbanded instead.

Following a discussion of the Dental Act the House took recess at the customary one o'clock hour and met again at three o'clock.
