

A Good Practical Joke.

HOW A YOUNG CLERK WAS LURED TO LOVE AND BROUGHT TO FIGHT A MOCK DUEL.

In Chicago a story is published of a practical joke played on M. E. Lee, employed in the United States express office, by his fellow clerks. Lee is fond of the ladies. His tormentor wrote him a gushing letter and signed it facetiously Miss Ludington. He was greatly elated and answered the note. The correspondence was kept up for some time, and when he expected soon to have a meeting with his fair charmer, a savage letter came from her alleged father, General Ludington, of Richmond, Va., calling him to account and demanding satisfaction in a duel. Young Lee was almost scared to death, but upon the advice of the supposed Miss Ludington he got ready to fight the father. On Monday night the 26th ult., two hacks, loaded with the principals, their seconds, physicians and friends, including Miss Ludington, who was personated by a young man in female attire, drove to a vacant prairie west of the city. The ground was staked off, the lovers embraced, and all was ready. The two antagonists levelled pistols at each other, and, at the word, fire to kill, but the cartridges were blank, and the report was followed by an explosion of laughter from the crowd, who could no longer restrain their mirth at the success of their joke. Young Lee, who had showed good nerve throughout, now stood the racket with the best grace possible, but he will hereafter avoid corresponding with mysterious young ladies. The police were much exercised over the affair, and were busy trying to find out whether a duel had really been fought.

The Whipping Post Wanted.

Today a man who has been talking about in connection with recent misconduct by which the happiness of a family was destroyed, called at the Central Station for the clothes he had left behind him when he was ejected from the house of his victim. The Chief of Police gave them to him, and also a lecture upon the enormity of his crime, adding that he might consider himself lucky that his guilty life was not taken by the husband whose honor he had outraged. The chief wonders that the whipping post has been abolished and suggests that it be resuscitated for the benefit of such rascals as this so-called doctor. The latter is said to be fifty years old, and left the office quaking like an aspen leaf. —Montreal Witness.

He was a brand new office boy, young, pretty-faced, with golden ringlets and blue eyes. Just such a boy as one would imagine would be taken out of his little trundle-bed in the middle of the night and transplanted beyond the stars. The first day he glanced over the library in the editorial room, became acquainted with everybody, knew all the printers and went home on the evening as happy and as cheery as a sunbeam. The next day he appeared, leaped out of the back window, tied the cat up by the tail in the hallway, had four fights with another boy, borrowed two dollars from an occupant of the building, saying his mother was dead, collected his two days' pay from the cashier, hit the janitor with a broomstick, pawned a coat belonging to a member of the editorial staff, wrenched the knobs off the doors, upset the ice cooler, pried three galleys of type, and smashed his fingers in the small press. On the third day a note was received saying, 'Mi Mother do not want I to work in such a dull place. She says I would make a Good preacher, so Do I. my fingers is Better; gone fishin.' Yours.—Wild oats.

The Kansas express train on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railroad ran through an open switch at Clark station, 8 miles from Moberly, Mo., this morning, and mail and baggage cars were derailed. Wm. Tolman, the fireman, was killed, and Frank Beaville and the engineer were scalded.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.

GILES' Liniment Iodide Ammonia cures neuralgia, face ache, rheumatism, gout, festered feet, eczema, sore throat, erysipelas, bruises and wounds of every nature in man or animal. The remarkable cures this remedy has effected elude it as one of the most important and valuable remedies ever discovered for the cure and relief of pain. From over-exertion, I contracted a pain across my loins. My suffering was intense. One bottle of Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia cured me. T. B. McGee, Conductor N. Y. and New Haven R. R. Giles' Pills cure suppression.

August Flower.

The immense sale and great popularity of Green's August Flower in all towns and villages in the civilized world has caused many imitators to adopt similar names, expecting to reap a harvest for themselves at the expense of the afflicted. This medicine was introduced in 1863, and for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, with their effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sickheadache, Indigestion, Palpitation of the Heart, vertigo, etc., etc., it never has failed to our knowledge. Three doses will relieve any case of Dyspepsia. Two million bottles sold last year. Price 75 cents. Samples 10 cents.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."

REPORT on the LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY:
"We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
