HEROIC RESCUE OFF TRACADIE DURING TERRIFIC STORM

Large Attendance Yesterday At S. D. U. Commencement

There is no subject more practical than a cultural subject well taught and mastered and there is no subject more cultural than a practical subject well taught and properly mastered," stated His Excellency Bishop James Boyle yesterday afternoon during a brief address at the 99th Commencement exercises of Saint Dunstan's University.

His Excellency, who was commenting upon the long-standing controversy between the advocates of practical and cultural education, added that it was the teacher who made the difference. He also pointed out that the training of the intellect is the most practical part of all education.

During the impressive graduation exercises thirty-five graduates received their degrees. Seven of the degrees were awarded Cum Laude, one Magna Cum Laude and three Summa Cum Laude.

Judge J. Sylvère DesRoches of Montserrat delivered an inspiring address to the graduating class. Mr. Rev. R. V. MacKenzie, Rector of the University, presented a complete and characteristically impressive president's report.

An eloquent valedictory was delivered by Mr. Cyril MacIsaac. The valedictory drew the well earned praises of many of the most outstanding persons on the platform and in the audience.

Mr. Justice Mark P. MacGuigan.

Administrator of the Province, Senator J. Walter Jones and Bishop Boyle spoke briefly.

Among those attending the exercises were the newly appointed Premier, Hon. A. W. Matheson; His Worship Mayor J. David Stewart; Hon. W. E. Darby, Attorney-General; Dr. L. W. Shaw, Director of Education; Sir William MacMillan and Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Principal of Prince of Wales College.

Bishop Boyle

Bishop Boyle warned the graduates and the large audience who attended the graduation exercises that they must be on their guard against two common and mistaken practices in education.

The first of these practices holds that all education must be planned to mould people for life in a given society, he stated. "We ask who is to plan this given society?" continued His Excellency. "We remember only too well the societies planned by Hitler and Mussolini."

His Excellency also warned against the educational practices as outlined by such men as John Dewey. These men would have authority and discipline in education but would allow the students to perform what their impulse leads them to do. "It is no wonder that there are many high school students who can not distinguish between right and wrong."

New Provincial Cabinet Takes Office

—Barter's Film Lab
An era ended yesterday in Confederation Chamber with the resignation as Premier of Senator J. Walter Jones and the swearing-in as new Premier of Hon. A. W. Matheson, recently elected leader of the Liberal Party. The ceremony was performed by Administrator Mr. Justice Mark P. MacGuigan who received Premier Jones' resignation and approved his nomination of his successor, Justice MacGuigan then swore into office Hon. Mr. Matheson and the new cabinet. Attending the brief ceremony were wives of some of the new ministers as well as a large number of Government employees. As the swearing-in was being done two former Premiers of the Province stood side by side watching. Many times in the past they had fought vigorously on the floor of the Legislature. They were ex-Premiers Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan and Senator J. Walter Jones. Assisting Mr. Justice MacGuigan was Lieutenant Col. P. S. Fielding, M.M. Deputy Provincial Secretary.

Evidence Of Storm Devastation

Some idea of the extent of the damage to fishing gear of lobstermen by the storm last weekend may be gathered from this scene of the beach at Stanhope. Boats, lobster traps, buoys and ropes were driven ashore and smashed beyond repair. The damage from the terrific wind and waves was devastating all along the North Shore and at the Eastern end of the Island.

Coronation Crowds Are Swarming Into London

By RELMAN MORIN
LONDON, (AP) — Swarming crowds with Coronation fever being around the palace and along the Thames in London today, and they found the grey old lady of the Thames in raiment fit for a queen.

The Coronation is still more than a week away. But people already are converging on London from all parts of the globe. The atmosphere — an unusual mixture of affectionate homage and plain picknicking — is building up to proportions of a jamboree.

Heraldic beasts of gold and crimson are prowling around the ledges of many an office building in London. Along with the miles of red, white and blue bunting, and the countless flags, there is the gleam and glitter of the shivered lance, the cloth of gold, and the crown of St. Edward. The imagery of events in the lives of kings and queens and knights and nobles has been brought out to mark the crowning of a new Queen.

The Coronation Queen is solidly walled with bleachers so that the Mall, for example, which is a straight avenue to Buckingham Palace, looks like an enormously elongated football field. Wrought iron resembling tharax arches above it.

Paul Reynaud To Seek To Form Gov't

PARIS, (AP) — Paul Reynaud, 74-year-old former premier, was picked Monday night as the third man to try to resolve France's current governmental crisis.

A call went to Reynaud after Andre Diethelm, leader of a group of deputies formerly under the leadership of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, had reported that he could not succeed. Socialist Guy Mollet previously had given up.

South Korean Delegates Boycott Truce Talks

MUNSAN, (CP) — Boycotted for the first time by its South Korean delegate, the United Nations command Monday submitted a secrecy — shrouded new peace proposal to end the Korean Amnistie stalemate and asked the Reds to consider it during a week-long recess.

It is likely vital decisions now must be reached in world capitals — notably Moscow and Peking — rather than at Panmunjom.

The two-hour session was conducted in a news vacuum. Terms of the allied offer were not disclosed.

A Communist communique said the allies asked the talks be off the record "for the sake of free discussion." The Red communique, broadcast by Peking radio, also said the UN asked for a recess until June 1.

Mrs. Roosevelt Dragged From Car By Tokyo Reds

TOKYO, (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was jeered and jerked from her automobile today by 20 Japanese women carrying Communist banners.

The widow of the late U.S. president brushed off the incident as "unimportant," a member of her party said. Mrs. Roosevelt herself was not at once available for comment.

The newspaper Yomiuri reported Mrs. Roosevelt, on a tour of Japan, was rescued unharmed from the group of women, led by the American-born wife of a Japanese union leader.

Yomiuri said the Japanese women demonstrators demanded an interview. When she refused, they dragged her from her automobile.

Japanese guards rushed up and rescued Mrs. Roosevelt from the women, who seemed "to go back home." The guards dispersed the crowd.

Unruffled, Mrs. Roosevelt went on to an afternoon meeting with prominent Japanese women who were waiting to hear her speak at a downtown restaurant.

The widow identified the leader of the group as Mrs. Hannah Reichenberg Fujikawa, a native of New York City, who was one of the purported leaders of the anti-American May Day riots a year ago.

Mrs. Roosevelt's party did not notify the U.S. embassy of the incident.

Widespread Damage Caused To Fishermen's Traps, Gear

Almost during the height of the terrific storm which battered the North Shore for its entire length over the weekend two veteran Tracadie fishermen pulled off a courageous rescue to save the lives of two boys trapped in the raging seas.

Sunday morning — Bisso, 20, accompanied by his 15-year-old brother Joseph, went out in a dory to the lobster boat owned by their grandfather, Thomas Bisso, of this city. The boys are sons of Mrs. Bisso and the late Peter Bisso, Charlottetown.

They intended to bail out the boat after the heavy rain, but the worst part of the storm came up soon after they got out and they were unable to return to shore.

They were in continual danger of capsizing and though Tracadie fishermen along the shore made efforts to get to them they were all forced to return by the fury of the sea which sent great waves lashing onto the beach.

The boys went out at 10 o'clock in the morning and it was not until 8 that evening that two veterans of the sea, Charlie and Gordon Watts, cousins, arrived on the scene. They immediately launched a double-oared dory and with both rowing hard into the wind and waves fought their way through the storm to be successful in reaching the two boys.

Both lads were suffering slightly from exposure but soon recovered. They were taken home by Mr. Charlie Watts and cared for overnight.

Wind Prevents Check

Full extent of the damage caused by the storm has not yet been determined as huge waves continued to pound the beaches all day yesterday though the wind had dropped some from 55-miles per hour force of Sunday. Fishermen were unable to put to sea to check their losses, but one man at Tracadie said there would be no more lobster traps this year between a depth of seven fathoms and the shore.

All along the coast line the story of the gale is told in piled up wreckage of fishing gear which to many meant almost their entire year's income. Lobster pots, containers, buoys and other markers are lying crushed and useless on the shores. Rope is scattered helter-skelter.

Nova Scotians Vote Today After Heated Election Campaign

HALIFAX, (CP) — Nova Scotians go to the polls Tuesday following an election campaign that was slow getting started but turned into one of the most heated in the province's history.

About 375,000 are eligible to vote on the question of whether the Liberal government of Angus L. Macdonald, already in power 20 years, is to stay on for another five-year term.

The weatherman favored a good turnout of voters, perhaps an all-time high. Sunny skies were forecast throughout the region, except for Cape Breton Island where clouds are expected.

The campaign continued through Monday with all three parties getting in their last bids. The Liberals scheduled a rally in Halifax East, the Progressive Conservatives at Mahone Bay, Mulgrave and Clark's Harbor, the CCF in Cape Breton centres.

Fourth Monthly Decline In Exports From Canada

OTTAWA, (CP) — Britain, Europe and Latin America slashed purchases of Canadian goods in April, leading to a big $47,500,000 drop in Canada's exports for the month.

Fourth consecutive monthly decline in exports for April dipped to $304,700,000 from $352,200,000, a volume of 11 per cent in volume and three per cent in price, the bureau of statistics reported Monday.

In the first four months of 1953 shipments slumped by a total of $135,300,000 to $1,218,700,000 from last year's high of $1,354,000,000.

Only significant gain was in shipments to the United States which rose to $192,200,000 from $184,000,000 last year.

But offsetting this gain were major declines in shipments to overseas customers.

Britain cut her purchases by $28,100,000, reducing them in April to $47,500,000 from $75,600,000.

Exports to Latin America dropped more than $10,000,000 to $16,324,000 from $26,745,000; and to continental European countries declined $6,000,000, to $22,000,000 from $28,000,000.

Exports to all other countries declined to $11,058,000 from $15,826,000.

As yet there has been no report of imports for April, but imports for previous months were well ahead of exports, giving Canada a deficit in trade for the first three months this year of $84,300,000, a reversal of the $85,700,000 surplus in the first quarter of 1952.

Will Continue Policy

The Liberals, who held 37 of the 37 seats in the last legislature, asked for a return to power on the strength of their accomplishments and the promise of more of the same.

Robert Stanfield's Progressive Conservatives, whose eight members formed the official Opposition, will continue their policy.

Inspiring Address Delivered To St. Dunstan's Graduates

Following is the text of the address to the graduates delivered at the commencement exercises at St. Dunstan's University yesterday:

Your Excellency, Right Reverend and Reverend Fathers, Reverend Sisters, Your Honour, Mr. Premier, Your Worship, Distinguished Guests, Fellow Alumni, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I wish to congratulate the graduates on having completed their studies to the satisfaction of their professors and to the joy and expectations of their parents and friends. On entering here a few years ago, they felt I am certain, that they realize that the sands of time have flowed swiftly, yet smoothly, and their former fears have faded into distant dreams. They have been tried and tested like the youth of Sparta, and they now feel confidence in their ability and skill. We all rejoice with them in their scholastic achievements, and wish for them at least the same degree of success in life, which has characterized their efforts and labours during their residence here.

St. Dunstan's University, as you already know, is not a very old institution of higher learning in the sense in which it is said of Laval and Harvard. It has, however, through the years gathered experience and wisdom which it imparts reverently and enthusiastically to its student body. It wishes to congratulate the graduates on having completed their studies to the satisfaction of their professors and to the joy and expectations of their parents and friends. On entering here a few years ago, they felt I am certain, that they realize that the sands of time have flowed swiftly, yet smoothly, and their former fears have faded into distant dreams. They have been tried and tested like the youth of Sparta, and they now feel confidence in their ability and skill. We all rejoice with them in their scholastic achievements, and wish for them at least the same degree of success in life, which has characterized their efforts and labours during their residence here.
