Power Contract Signing Begins

SEATTLE (AP) — A two-day marathon of contract signing began Thursday as public and private United States utilities promised to buy Columbia River power until the year 2003.

The unusual pact binds the U.S. organizations to purchase power they produce at their own hydro-electric dams.

Under the Columbia River treaty British Columbia will build three dams on the Upper Columbia system to control the flow of water.

The boost in the power output of the multitude of United States dams along the Columbia is the basis for the pact, with Canada to receive half the increase. The American groups, through the non-profit Columbia Storage Power Exchange (CSPE), will buy Canada's half for the $254,400,000 needed to finance the dams.

CSPE will float $330,000,000 in 30-year revenue bonds and pay these off by resale of the power to U.S. distributors. The signatories are the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority and CSPF — but representatives of 14 U.S. public utility districts, 11 municipalities, 12 co-operatives and four private utilities are signing as members of CSPE.

The United States has ratified the treaty and Canadian ratification is expected by Oct. 1, the date when CSPE is to hand over the $254,400,000.

Projections of power needs have indicated British Columbia will have no need for the excess power for 30 years.

West Berliners Pay Homage To Wall Dead

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners paid an hour of silent homage Thursday night to 53 persons who died trying to flee Communist East Berlin since the Communists erected the Berlin Wall three years ago.

West Berlin's city government had asked that all public transport and taxis stop and that residents stay off the streets during the solemn hour.

In the waning hours of the Wall's anniversary day, West Berlin and U.S. military police maintained watch along the 26-mile wall of brick, barbed wire and hidden mines.

Mayor Willy Brandt and other members of his administration placed wreaths at various spots along the Wall during the day. They were left in front of the wooden crosses marking the spots where each refugee has been killed trying to escape.

The East German news agency ADN said a group of French youths en route to the Soviet Union presented Communist guards at the Wall with two bouquets of 13 red roses as "a symbol of the historic 13 August, 1961."

ADN said the 260 youngsters stopped at Brandenburg Gate "on the third anniversary of the anti-fascist protection wall" and thanked the guards for their "service to peace."

At Checkpoint Charlie in the American sector of West Berlin, members of the German-Italian society carried into East Berlin territory a big poster reading "No European unity without freedom in Berlin."

The poster was planted in barbed wire atop the wall and a few minutes later was torn down by Communist guards armed with sub-machine-guns.

LONG LACE

WHITELEIGH, England (CP) Three times in two weeks Frank Coslett could not face his wife's evening meal because it was the same as his Plymouth firm's canteen lunch. So now he writes his lunch choice on a piece of paper and sends it three miles to his home—by pigeon.

MARKS 101ST BIRTHDAY

MILBROOK, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Jane Robinson, a resident of a nursing home here, celebrated her 101st birthday Thursday. Born Jane Simpson near Orono, Ont., she married Thomas Robinson in 1905 and has lived here for the last 43 years. Her husband died 25 years ago.

MBOYA SEEKS SUPPORT

NAIROBI (Reuters)—Justice Minister Tom Mboya Wednesday appealed to all races to support Kenya's ruling National party. Mboya said "let us share the burdens and also the fruits but not all the fruits and not all the burdens." He appealed to non-blacks to participate in the National party's affairs and to attend its meeting.

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

Part of the skill in bridge consists of selling your opponents the idea that a condition exists which actually does not. This type of deception takes many forms, and, properly used, can be rewarding.

Look at this hand played in a team match. At the first table the bidding went as shown and South wound up at five spades doubled. West led a heart.

Declarer drew three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and led the ten of clubs which lost to the queen. West now played the ace and another diamond. South ruffed and led the king of clubs, West playing low.

Declarer decided from the bidding that West had to have the ace and he therefore discarded a diamond from dummy. It was then easy to establish the club suit and South made the contract for a score of 850 points.

At the second table the bidding varied somewhat, but here also South became declarer at five spades doubled. Again West led a heart and South took the ace and drew three rounds of trumps.

But when he played the ten of clubs from dummy and finessed, West won the trick with the ace, not the queen. West recognized the situation he was up against and realized that unless he could persuade declarer that East had the queen of clubs, the contract would be made.

West's unusual play paid off well in the end. When he led the ace and another diamond, declarer ruffed, cashed the king of clubs, and continued with the jack.

West followed low, of course, and South, convinced that East had the queen and that it would fall on the jack, ruffed in dummy.

When East showed out, the hand collapsed. South had to lose three more tricks as a result of West's smart defense, and the end result was that he went down three—800 points.

RUSTY BABY CARRIAGE BRINGS OUT SAD STORY

ALREWAS, England (AP)—A little old lady who was cut off from her children 38 years ago has taken home a rusty but cherished baby carriage which cost her $576 in storage fees during the last 16 years.

She is Mrs. Hannah Smith, 73, whose sad eyes dimmed with tears as she told how the carriage was all she had to remember the three sons she hasn't seen since 1926.

Mrs. Smith's story was revealed when British railways officials decided to close Alrewas station. They said a carriage stored for 16 years in the musty depot at a monthly charge of £1 ($3) would have to be picked up.

"All my children used the pram (carriage)," Mrs. Smith said. "I just haven't been able to part with it—and I never will."

Mrs. Smith told this story to reporters:

In 1926, she was living in the Derbyshire village of Overseal with her husband, Fred, a miner, and their children—Mabel, 7, George, 5, Percy, 3, and James, 1. One day, Mabel was killed by a bus. Smith blamed his wife for the accident and ordered her out of the house.

"All I had was the pram and a few belongings, including my silver thimble, and a mirror. From that day to this, I have never set eyes on my children."

For the next 12 years, Mrs. Smith roamed about, picking hops, or potatoes, or working in the hotels. Everywhere she went, she pushed the pram.

An attempt at reconciliation failed and finally, 16 years ago, Mrs. Smith settled down. With no room at her lodgings, she put the carriage into storage.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
