A Post Glacial Forest.

Evidences of a post-glacial forest have been discovered on the western outskirts of Hull, about a mile from the Humber, and one and a half miles from the River Hull.
Workmen engaged in a brickyard in the locality named, on cutting through the clean warp clay about twelve feet, have come across a forest bed on an irregular surface of the drift, on the top of which is a greenish sandy clay, with pebbles and stones. The roots of the trees are standing where they grew, and from their closeness represent the remains of a dense forest. The forest bed is now at the low water level of the sea. A stone implement has been found on the surface of the drift.

What Labouchere Says.

In the House of Commons on Monday night Labouchere, resuming the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech, made a severe attack upon Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr. Chamberlain for the course they followed in the recent elections, and declared that the latter would continue his downward course until he was gazetted Lord Chamberlain. This sally provoked much laughter.
The speaker urged Irishmen to continue their efforts by legitimate means to obtain their rights as a nation struggling to be free. The followers of Parnell had a right to be proud of their leader. Continuing he said: "Winter is approaching and the military are assisting in the eviction of people, many of whom are cast out upon the roadside. Irishmen cannot be blamed if they refuse to submit tamely to such treatment, but I warn them that disorders will only serve as an excuse for refusing home rule and will ensure coercion."

Novel Wedding Tour.

Fashion demands that when young people marry they shall go away on a wedding trip, which means no small outlay of cash.
A couple recently married felt this pressure, but conceived a scheme by which to thwart the process of custom and save in the item of expense. They went to the station, accompanied by a party of friends, and boarded a train with good-byes said all around.
The friends extending the regulation wishes for a safe and happy tour. But the couple didn't remain on the train. Oh, no! They walked through the car and out at the end opposite that at which they entered, and getting off on the opposite side, quickly skipped around to their home, where they remained in seclusion for a week, while friends thought them away enjoying the honeymoon.

The Faith Cure.

The faith cure is said to have worked some miracles. Yet there are cases where it is apparently impotent. A Boston clergyman says: "Two of my flock, young people, clinging to life, as was most natural, and told by some believer in the new science of healing that if they only had faith enough they need not die, they could be certainly cured, for the Lord was just as willing to work miracles now as ever, roused their failing energies to drag themselves into Boston to be anointed and prayed over by a well known apostle of the faith cure. Both of them came home to die in a few weeks, one of them after the strongest protestation that she was certainly cured.
Both died suddenly. It seemed as if the effort of mind and body had fanned the dying embers of life into a final flame, which, flashing up for a moment, fell back into the ashes of death." It really looks as if praying to be healed without using the remedies placed to our hand were as bad as declining to eat and praying to be filled.

Hair Turning White.

A correspondent of Notes and Queries states that Sir Erasmus Wilson, in his work "Healthy Skins," gives the following instances of the human hair suddenly becoming white: A girl whose hair "became as white as a pocket handkerchief" on the shock of receiving news of her lover's death; a lady who became gray in a few days on finding her sister dead in bed by her side; Sir Thomas More, on the night before his execution; two cases recorded by Borellus; three by Daniel Turner; one by Dr. Cassan, and a few miscellaneous cases of which the most remarkable is the following: "A gentleman on his marriage, when about 40 years old, had a dark head of hair, but on his return from his wedding trip had become so completely snow-white, even to his eye-brows, that his friends almost doubted his identity." He also mentions the case of John Libeny, a would-be assassin of the Emperor of Austria, whose hair turned white in the forty-eight hours preceding his execution. In the same work is given the case of a peasant, recorded by the Italian, Dr. Sarti, whose skin gradually darkened, after a sudden shock of fear, until it became quite black.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

FOR WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN.

Where the digestive powers are feeble and the ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving flesh and strength at once, and is almost as palatable as milk. Take no other.

Another Northwest medal has been found in a Montreal pawn shop. It belonged to a man named Browning, and was paid for 25 cents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup would always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs.
Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

A Coroner After Paul Boyton.

Unless Capt. Paul Boyton files affidavits as to the truth of the following yarn anent his recent descent of the Sacramento river, we cannot consistently recommend it to our readers as a superior article of veracity for family use. He deposes and states that as he passed Antioch, about dark one evening, he observed a boat being rapidly rowed from the shore. In response to the captain's courteous hail the occupant gazed at the great navigator with a disgusted expression and said:

"Well I'm durned. You're that rubber suit fellow, eh? I thought you were a floater!"

"Well, I guess I am," said the captain.
"Are, eh?" said the other, brightening up. "I don't know, but what you could be legally considered as such. Just grab this line, please, and let me tow you ashore."

"What for?"
"Why, I'll tell you," said the man, confidentially. "You see, I'm coroner here and business is terribly bad—the worst you ever see. I ain't got on anything for three months. Can't pay expenses. Now if you'd only stop over long enough for me to hold an inquest on you I'd make a stake and stand the cigars besides. Just paddle ashore, that's a good chap. Won't keep you ten minutes."

"All right," said the captain. "Only don't let any of the jury tickle my nose during the inquest. If they do, I'm bound to sneeze."

"All right," said the coroner. "I'll sit on your head myself."
"After the inquest was over the obliging official carefully slid him overboard and shoved him off again with many thanks, but the captain says the worst of it was the coroner telegraphed the dodge to the one in the next town below, and he to the next in order, and so on clear down the bay, the result being that the great voyager had to paddle like a steamboat to prevent being lassed and hauled ashore every landing he passed. He says one post worken a week is about all his system can stand."

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

ONE OF THE BEST TONICS.

Dr. A. Atkinson, Prof. Materia Medica and Dermatology, in College of Surgeons and Physicians, Baltimore, Md., says: "It makes a pleasant drink, and is one of our best tonics in the shape of phosphates in soluble form."

CURRENT NOTES.

The Princess of Wales is said to spend $50,000 per annum in bouquets.

Over two per cent. of the soldiers of the Russian Army were punished last year by court-martial. Among the offences were 5,000 robberies.

A cannon has just been turned off at Sir William Armstrong's factory, which is 44 feet long, 16 1/2 inches in diameter, and its actual weight 247,795 pounds.

The government has expelled from France an English clergyman named Drought, a resident of Chantilly, on the ground that he is a partizan of the Orleans princes.

It is said that the Pope has bought the Mignanelli Palace in Rome for the sum of 1,500,000 francs, and intends to convert it into an establishment for the printing and publishing of religious books.

The latest case of boycotting comes from a western city, where the aboriginal population is said to be boycotting a local tobacconist for importing and setting up a wooden Indian in front of his shop.

An actor in Piedmont, Italy, was lately greeted with strong signs of disapproval by his audience. Stopping suddenly in his lines and advancing to the footlights, he drew a revolver and shot himself dead.

Messrs. O'Brien, Desny and Redmond, comprising the delegation from Ireland, who came to the Chicago convention of the Irish national league, left New York for Europe on the Guion line steamer Wiscon-sion on Tuesday.

The movement is extending to Denbighshire, Wales, against the payment of tithes.
Tenants demand a 25 per cent reduction.
The Vicar of Slanmor refused to make 10 per cent reduction, and sent bailiffs to collect tithes; they were attacked by a mob and one of them was nearly killed.

The schooner Rebecca Bartlett dived at Gloucester, Mass., from the Banks, and reports that on August 17th, Andrew Haynes, one of the crew, was drowned by capsizing of a dory while attending trawls.
He belonged to Brier Island, N. S., was 28 years of age and unmarried.

A Munich art publisher has paid the Bavarian Government $15,000 for the exclusive right of taking and selling photograph views of the numerous castles of the late King Ludwig. There is already an immense demand from Paris for the views of Herren Chiemsee, which is in all respects a close imitation of Versailles.

Experiments were made last week at Fort Point, Cal., by Lieutenant Grayden, of the U. S. Navy, to demonstrate that dynamite shells may be discharged from cannon like ordinary powder-filled shells. The tests were successful, as the dynamite shells were thrown across the Golden Gate, exploding as they struck the rocky headland on the Marine County shore.

The fifteen year old son of Ernest Allen, of Black Spring Road, Portland, N. B., was kicked in the mouth on Tuesday, on Adelaide Road, by a horse belonging to Russell Loudon. The boy had his tongue split and four teeth knocked out. He was attended by Dr. Christie. Loudon's horse was eating grass on the side of the road at the time of the accident and the boy, while playing on the sidewalk, fell at the horse's feet, meeting with the injuries stated. Mr.
Allen has lodged a complaint at the police office against Loudon for allowing his horse to run at large.
