CONTRACT BRIDGE
 By B. JAY BECKER

QUIZ

You are the dealer, neither side vulnerable, and have opened One Spade. Partner has responded Three Spades. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

- ♠ A Q 7 ♣ A K 3 ♠ 9 2 ♠ 8 6 3
- ♠ A Q 6 3 ♣ Q 5 ♠ Q 7 ♠ A 9 4
- ♠ K Q 4 2 ♠ A Q ♠ 7 5 ♠ A Q 8 4
- ♠ A 9 8 7 2 ♠ 4 ♠ A Q 3 ♠ A 4
- ♠ A Q 3 ♠ K Q 6 5 ♠ K Q 3 ♠ A 4

1. Four spades. There need be no fear of contracting for game in spades. Partner indicates by his three spade response a 13 to 15 point hand that includes at least four spades. There should be no thought of bidding four hearts. Such a bid would be read by partner as showing interest in a slam—an impression it would be wrong to create.

2. Three notrump. The purpose is to inform partner that despite the knowledge a spade fit exists, a notrump contract is also feasible. It might turn out to be easier, if partner's hand lends itself to notrump play, to make the nine-trick notrump game contract than the ten-trick spade contract. Usually, the responder will return to spades because of distributional features which make the play for game in a suit more attractive, but he is under no obligation to do so with a notrump type of hand.

3. Four clubs. Here there should be a genuine interest in the possibility of a slam. If partner has the right hand, the slam may be laydown. The chief danger is the diamond situation. The opponents may have the A-K of diamonds even if partner has a maximum three spade bid.

The bid of four clubs grants partner the opportunity to cue-bid diamonds. This method of pinpointing strength is far superior in the present deal to the use of Blackwood to determine how many aces partner has. He may have a hand with only one ace which provides twelve sure tricks, or a hand with two aces where there is no possibility of twelve tricks.

4. Six spades. Whatever valuations partner may have, whether in the form of high cards or distribution, the indications are strong that two tricks will not be necessary. The direct leap to six without giving the opponents needless information, is strongly recommended.

5. Four notrump. With all the powerful intermediate cards we hold, there is a reasonable prospect that partner's jump to three spades is based on a hand that includes three aces. This possibility should be investigated. If partner's response to the Blackwood bid if five spades, showing three aces, we carry on to six.

Some people claim a player with no aces cannot initiate the Blackwood convention. This theory has no merit. A slam is a slam—even if one plays has no aces.

Pretty Canadian Wren Heads For Buckingham Palace Job

By CAROLYN WILLETT
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A pretty Wren petty officer, outbound for Buckingham Palace, conceded Wednesday she gets excited if he lets herself think about her new assignment there.

"Right now I'm living one thing at a time," said Rosalee Auger, 25, in an interview.

She leaves today by air to join the royal household staff as private secretary to Esmond Butler, the Canadian appointed assistant press secretary to the Queen last March.

The navy selected her for the job, which includes duties in connection with royal tour starting in mid-June, on the basis of her stenographic and organizational ability, tact, reliability, capacity for work and appearance.

She was chosen from among more than 120 permanent force Wrens. It is her first trip overseas. The London posting probably will last a year.

A trim size 10, five feet, five inches tall with green eyes and brown hair, Petty Officer Auger—its pronounced O-zh-ay—answers questions with a quiet aplomb.

HASN'T MET BOSS

She hasn't met her London boss—tall, handsome Esmond Butler, 35, former assistant to the secretary to the governor-general and a lieutenant-commander in the navy reserve.

Her duties will bring her back to Canada with the royal tour and probably will mean a trip abroad

KENTVILLE, N. S. — (CP)—Charles E. (Chuck) Eaton of Wolfville, N.S., president of the Nova Scotia Teachers Union and acting principal of the Wolfville schools, has been appointed principal of the new Horton district regional high school. It was announced here Tuesday. Vice principal will be Earl Giles of Horton Academy in Wolfville.

Construction of the 18-room school is to start soon on a site at Greenwich, between here and Wolfville. The school will serve students in eastern Kings county.

Greek Tanker Finished Off

ISKENDERUN, Turkey (AP)—A fresh explosion and fire Tuesday finished off the Greek tanker Mirador, badly damaged in a similar disaster last month.

At least seven men were killed, 10 were missing and the 20,762-ton tanker was sunk with its back broken.

The tanker, which flew Panama's flag, went down in this eastern Mediterranean harbor an hour and 50 minutes after a blast that came as the Turkish salvage tug Imroz was pumping water from its flooded tanks.

In the interval flames soared several hundred feet into the air and jumped across to the Imroz. The tug was severely damaged but remained afloat.
