

Maxims of a Mere Man
Only a free soul will never grow old.

20 PAGES

CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, THURSDAY JUNE 7 1956

Covers Prince Edward Island Like the Dew

PRICE 5c

DIRECTORS OF THE Canadian Swine Breeders' Association left to right are Stephen Strothers, Secretary Treasurer, Lucknow,

Ontario; C. L. MacNeill, Fraser, Ont.; G. B. Crow, Hespeller, Ont.; George Harlow, Belle Plain, Sask.; ...

Presbyterians Name Moderator

TORONTO (CP) — The 82nd general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada Wednesday night elected Dr. Findley Gordon Stewart, minister of St. Andrew's church in Kitchener, as their new moderator.

TRACES EARLY MAN

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A German archaeologist claimed Wednesday he has discovered the oldest traces of man. Dr. Alfred Rust said he has uncovered 50 hand-made, sandstone tools, estimated to be 1,000,000 years old, in a gravel pit in Communist East Germany.

Coming Events

- Bingo, Hope River tonight.
- Cardigan Tea Party, July 25.
- No dance Fortune Hall this week.
- Dance, Grandview Hall, Friday, night, June 8th.
- Kelly's Cross play in Parish Hall, Wellington, June 8th.
- Vernon River players in Bridgetown Hall, Thursday, June 7th.
- Movie, "Song of Bernadette," Mt. Ryan Hall, Thursday, at 8:30.
- In stock mixed seeds Kale & Rome Aalfala, McGuigan and Boyle, Ltd.
- Wiltshire Hall June 8th: "Here Comes Charlie," by Wheatley River players.
- Dance at the White Spot, Dunstaffnage, Friday, June 8. Rollic MacKenzie's orchestra.
- Don't miss Trinity Y.P.U. play, Town Hall Georgetown, Monday, June 11th, at 8:30 p.m.
- Dancing at South Rustico every Friday night. Rollic MacKenzie's orchestra. Canteen service.
- Rollic MacKenzie's orchestra playing at the White Spot, Dunstaffnage, every Friday night.
- Dancing at South Rustico every Thursday night. Rollic MacKenzie's Orchestra. Canteen service.
- Dance Cardigan Legion Hall, Thursday night, 8 p.m. Webster's Orchestra. P. A. system and canteen service.
- Garden Seeds. Also manage training and Kale. Store open till 10 o'clock. Arthur Yesey, York.
- Trinity Y.P.U. players present, "Song of My Heart," in Morell Hall, Thursday, June 7th, 8:30. Sponsored by Marie Y.P.U.
- "See 'Take Three Girls,' presented by the Charlottetown Y.P.U. players, at Central Bedeque Hall, June 9th, at 8:30 p.m.
- "St. Peter's players present 'Aunt Susie Shoots the Works,' Fortune Bridge Hall, Thursday, June 7th. Sponsored by Fortune Bridge W.I.
- Don't miss St. Peter's Bay players with "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works," in St. Peter's Bay Holy Name Hall, Friday, June 8th. Curtain 8:30. Good specialties including J. Austin Trainor.
- Don't fail to see "The Dear Departed" in Crapaud Hall Wednesday and Thursday, June 13th and 14th. Good specialties. Audiences of St. John's W.A. and Princess Mary Lodge.
- Meeting of Vernon River Strawberry Growers Association, Monday, June 11th, at 8 p.m. in Co. Warehouse. Anyone interested in selling through this organization must be represented.
- Show at Morell Friday, here's the show we have been waiting for. "The Glenn Miller Story" starring Glenn Stewart June Allison. Their love made such wonderful music, unforgettable as the immortal Glenn Miller, adorable as the girl swept off her feet, you'll love this show. Advanced seats 7.50 and 5.45 p.m.

HOUSE ADJOURNS FOR DAY

Vancouver M.P. Dies As Commons Session Begins

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons bell rang for the last time Wednesday for John Lorne MacDoughall.

The 57-year-old Liberal member for Vancouver Burrard died suddenly, apparently of a heart seizure, as the bell summoned him to the 2:30 p.m. Commons sitting.

The grief but friendly voiced Scot succumbed in a washroom near his fifth-floor office in the centre block of the Parliament Buildings. At 3:30 a.m. he had been in the Commons chamber for final passage of the pipeline legislation.

The Commons adjourned for the day immediately when word reached the floor that Dr. MacDoughall was dead.

Prime Minister St. Laurent sent a note to Opposition leader Drew, who walked across the aisle to confer quietly with him.

Mr. Drew returned to his seat and whispered to John Diefenbaker (PC — Prince Albert) who was speaking on Mr. Drew's motion to censure Speaker Rene Beaudoin.

DIEFENBAKER STUNNED
Mr. Diefenbaker appeared stunned. He could not say anything for several moments and then, in a shaking voice, said:

"I move the adjournment of the debate. The prime minister knows why."

Mr. St. Laurent immediately seconded this motion and in a choking voice said:

"Many of us already have been informed of the very tragic event that occurred a few moments ago in the House by the sudden death of our very esteemed colleague, beloved by all of us."

"I think that it would be fitting that we might adjourn the House as a tribute to his memory and as an indication to all his friends of how terribly shocked we are."

Mr. Diefenbaker rose. "If I might be allowed one word..."

"Twenty years ago, on the first day of May, we were in the 194th Battalion together. I knew him through 17 years."

Mr. Diefenbaker could go no further. He sat down.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said Dr. MacDoughall's "strained attention, in the past weeks had certainly taken a terrific toll on him."

HAD HEART CONDITION
Dr. MacDoughall, a dentist who had to give up his practice because of First World War disabilities—was wounded three times—had complained of not feeling well during the last two years. He has suffered a chronic heart condition for years and was a diabetic.

Dr. MacDoughall's wife, Marjorie was in the Commons gallery at the time. Friends escorted her to her husband's office, where the body was taken to await arrival of a hearse.

Dr. MacDoughall was the third death on Parliament Hill in little more than two years.

Senator J. Walter Jones, former premier of Prince Edward Island, died in his Senate office March 31, 1954, and Lionel Conacher, Liberal member for Toronto Trinity, died May 26, 1954, during a softball game on the lawn in front of the centre block.

ADJOURNMENT UNUSUAL
Veteran parliamentary observer, said the last time they could recall the Commons being adjourned for a member's death was Jan. 29, 1937, when Hon. Charles Marcil Liberal member for Bonaventure died just before a Friday night sitting was about to start.

Dr. MacDoughall, a native of Tiverton, Ont., was born Nov. 18, 1898 of Scottish parents. He was first elected to the Commons in the 1944 general election and was returned in 1953.

Party standing in the Commons now is: Liberal, 169; Progressive Conservative, 53; CCF, 22; Social Credit, independent, 4; vacant, 2; total, 255.

The other vacancy was created 10 weeks ago by the death of Joseph Noseworthy, CCF member for York South.

Swine Breeders Conclude Successful Convention Here

The directors of the Canadian Swine Breeders' Association leave by plane for their respective homes very pleased with their trip to Prince Edward Island. Yesterday they visited the Advanced Restery T. St. Station at the Experimental Farm and had the opportunity of visiting the farms of several prominent swine breeders in the Province.

Calls were made to the farms of Stirling Willis, Kingston; Oliver Meek and Roland Paynter, P. R. Riv. ; Lowell Boswell, Almon Boswell and Son Marchfield; and Col. F. I. Archibald, Charlottetown.

ENJOYED HOSPITALITY
William Hudson of Kathryn, Alberta, said he was very impressed with the progress being made in hog raising on the Island. Said Mr. Hudson, "We thought we could do nothing to compare with that which we have received here."

Arthur Schmidt, the only bachelor in the group said there were too many of the girls married on the Island. He comes from Vegreville, Alberta.

Ernie How, the only director to bring his wife along, said the beauty of the Province is unsurpassed anywhere in Canada. He was impressed with the neatness of the farms and efficiency with which practically every square foot of land is utilized. He was also pleased to note the lack of weeds along the roadside. Mr. How said he was pleased to see so many young farmers in attendance at the convention which indicates that young men are interested in agriculture.

Mrs. How said she had a wonderful opportunity of seeing around Charlottetown while her husband attended the meetings. She was very impressed with the swine section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

PROMPT ACTION

Senate Approves Pipeline Measure

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's thorny pipeline legislation, which spent three storm-tossed weeks in the Commons, was put through two critical stages by the Senate Wednesday night.

Second reading — approval in principle — was given after 6½ hours of debate and the bill was put through a clause-by-clause study without amendment in another hour.

The Senate only Wednesday morning got the legislation from the Commons. All that remains now is third reading, which the Upper Chamber is expected to give with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

said. Both Mr. and Mrs. How avowed that it would not be too long before they would make a more lengthy visit to the Province.

PROMPT ACTION

Senate Approves Pipeline Measure

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's thorny pipeline legislation, which spent three storm-tossed weeks in the Commons, was put through two critical stages by the Senate Wednesday night.

Second reading — approval in principle — was given after 6½ hours of debate and the bill was put through a clause-by-clause study without amendment in another hour.

The Senate only Wednesday morning got the legislation from the Commons. All that remains now is third reading, which the Upper Chamber is expected to give with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Under the government agreement with Trans-Canada, the bill has to become law no later than today if the company is to be held to its agreement to build the 575-mile prairie leg to Winnipeg by Dec. 31.

Delay of third and final reading to the bill was made at the insistence of Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader.

He said he did not want the Senate accused of passing such a controversial bill in a single day.

COMES SUDDENLY
Second reading of the bill came suddenly.

Speaker Wishart Robertson put the motion to the reading after completion of a speech by Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) who strongly opposed the bill and came out instead for public ownership of the 2,200-mile line.

Solicitor General Ross Macdonald said the bill, after being approved by the Upper House, will be given with little or no debate when it reassembles at 11:30 a.m. ADT today.

DEADLINE MET
Thus the government's deadline for the bill's passage is almost certain to be met.

The bill would lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd. to build this year the prairie section of the $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal.

Supervisor Praises Alberta School System

Education is a very important subject indeed in Alberta, reports Wilson Ross, B. Sc., B. Ed., Supervisor of Schools in District No. 4, who has just returned from a leadership course in education at the University of Alberta.

Everyone on the Premier's down takes keen personal interest in the schools, so much so that it is commonly spoken of as "the schoolteacher's Government."

On a visit to a large unit of school administration Mr. Ross was more than ever convinced that such a set up an essential factor in administering schools to best advantage of all pupils. One board supervises the schools in a given district, usually providing high school facilities at a central point. It can thus provide educational facilities quite beyond the capacity of smaller units.

"If we in Prince Edward Island," said Mr. Ross, "will raise the standard of teaching qualifications, pay more adequate salaries and reorganize the administration of rural schools, then our Province could compare favorably with any in Canada so far as education is concerned."

He was addressing 300 delegates at the Maritime convention of the Canadian Restaurant Association. The two-day convention will continue today.

Restaurateurs Hold Convention

HALIFAX (CP) — The best entertainment Maritime restaurateurs can offer tourists is quality seafood, A. I. Lohnes, chairman of the Halifax tourist committee said Wednesday.

He was addressing 300 delegates at the Maritime convention of the Canadian Restaurant Association. The two-day convention will continue today.

No Reports From Raft Wednesday

HALIFAX (CP) — No reports were received from the drifting raft l'Egare Wednesday as the log craft apparently continued to move across the ocean and signals from her hand-powered radio weakened.

The signal received Tuesday from the four Frenchborn adventurers was described as "very weak" and ham operators here said Cape Breton hams would try to contact her for the next few days.

Fog prevented crew members from fixing a position Tuesday, and their exact location is not known.

Tanker Irvingbrook Goes Into Drydock

HALIFAX (CP) — The 18,000-ton tanker Irvingbrook, damaged a week ago when she grounded on a harbor-mouth shoal, went into drydock here Wednesday night for repairs.

The tanker, carrying a cargo of gasoline for Saint John, N.B., damaged about 100 feet of her hull when she grounded on the shoal near this harbor entrance.

Her cargo was unloaded before going into drydock. The ship was originally scheduled to undergo repairs at Chester, Penn.

DREW REMAINS SILENT

P.M. Attempts To Have Censure Motion Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Appealing unsuccessfully to have a censure motion against Commons Speaker Rene Beaudoin withdrawn, Prime Minister St. Laurent Wednesday may have hinted at making the speakership a permanent office.

He referred, very briefly, to an earlier reference by CCF leader Caldwell to the possibility of appointing a Speaker on a long-term basis as the Commons resumed consideration of Opposition leader Drew's censure motion against Mr. Beaudoin.

Mr. St. Laurent said: "We feel that the views expressed by the leader of the CCF party, when he recalled the discussion which took place in this chamber about a year ago that it might be desirable for this House to have the speakership a permanent office that would go on from one Parliament to another are views that would still be valid at the present time."

DREW REMAINS SILENT
His appeal to Mr. Drew that the censure motion be dropped brought no immediate reply from the Opposition leader. Debate on the unprecedented motion went on for about 40 minutes.

It came to a shocked adjournment then as the Commons learned of the sudden death of John Lorne MacDoughall.

Mr. St. Laurent, with unanimous consent of the House, immediately adjourned the sitting for the remainder of the day.

Earlier, the prime minister said that on Monday when he moved adjournment of debate on Mr. Drew's motion he had thought that to reflect the House would not have to make any announcement on the motion.

He had thought Mr. Drew "would feel that the best interests of Parliament would be served by withdrawing the motion."

There was no apparent reaction from Mr. Drew at these words. Mr. St. Laurent then added:

"Apparently that is not to take place and the matter probably will have to come to a decision."

BLAMES GOVERNMENT
John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert), speaking after Mr. St. Laurent's suggestion that the motion come to a swift vote, Mr. Diefenbaker went on to call for the resignation of Deputy Speaker W. A. Robinson.

In order to restore "this House to a sense of its responsibility, I believe that the Deputy Speaker should indeed present his resignation," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

The Speaker's office alternates for the life of each Parliament between a man of French-language origin and one whose native language is English. In London, the Speaker remains in office as long as the House wishes. He divorces himself from party and by custom is not opposed in elections.

SAYS NOT WARRANTED
Mr. St. Laurent said he feels Mr. Drew's censure motion is neither necessary nor warranted. Conduct of Mr. Beaudoin, Liberal member for Vaudreuil-Soulanges, from the day in 1953 when he took over the office "has been such that it deserves the commendation and affectionate regard" of all members.

The motion should be disposed of as quickly as possible, he said. "I think you (Mr. Speaker's) conduct is the best refutation of the statements made in the motion."

The motion says Mr. Beaudoin took unprecedented action in reversing one of his decisions without notice, repeatedly refusing to allow members to state points of order and in subordinating the rights of Parliament to the will of the government.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the censure motion was not a personal one, but a move based on Parliament's ancient tradition that the Speaker should maintain Parliament's rights.

"That he will err no one denies... that he will ever be on the side of wrong is to deny the traditions of his high office."

Fires In Alberta, Floods In B. C. Under Control
By THE CANADIAN PRESS.
Western Canada breathed easier Wednesday as the threat of floods dropped in British Columbia and Alberta's widespread rash of forest fires were reported under control.

In British Columbia, the snow remained in the hills but the rivers were dropping and it appeared that the battle with high water had been won.

A crest, expected to sweep down the Kootenay river, failed to materialize and the river dropped slightly.

An army liaison officer said 100 of the 150 engineering troops rushed into the Creston area to work on the dikes will be withdrawn Saturday.

At Trail, on the Columbia river 48 miles to the west, the river level went up six inches Tuesday night but a downward trend has been set upstream.

FIRES LICKED
T. R. Hammer, chief superintendent of forest protection for Alberta, said all fires are "under control" following heavy rains in the danger areas.

Officials were hoping the weather would continue in their favor so they could bring an end to the worst forest fire situation since 1949.

More than an inch of rain fell in the Edmonton area, 130 miles west of Edmonton and at Whitecourt, 100 miles northwest. Both areas had been declared in a state of emergency last week.

T. R. Hammer, to cover all burned areas and extinguish smoldering trees and brush. Two aircraft were to take inventory of the fires and direct ground crews in mopping up operations.

DREW REMAINS SILENT

P.M. Attempts To Have Censure Motion Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Appealing unsuccessfully to have a censure motion against Commons Speaker Rene Beaudoin withdrawn, Prime Minister St. Laurent Wednesday may have hinted at making the speakership a permanent office.

He referred, very briefly, to an earlier reference by CCF leader Caldwell to the possibility of appointing a Speaker on a long-term basis as the Commons resumed consideration of Opposition leader Drew's censure motion against Mr. Beaudoin.

Mr. St. Laurent said: "We feel that the views expressed by the leader of the CCF party, when he recalled the discussion which took place in this chamber about a year ago that it might be desirable for this House to have the speakership a permanent office that would go on from one Parliament to another are views that would still be valid at the present time."

DREW REMAINS SILENT
His appeal to Mr. Drew that the censure motion be dropped brought no immediate reply from the Opposition leader. Debate on the unprecedented motion went on for about 40 minutes.

It came to a shocked adjournment then as the Commons learned of the sudden death of John Lorne MacDoughall.

Mr. St. Laurent, with unanimous consent of the House, immediately adjourned the sitting for the remainder of the day.

Earlier, the prime minister said that on Monday when he moved adjournment of debate on Mr. Drew's motion he had thought that to reflect the House would not have to make any announcement on the motion.

He had thought Mr. Drew "would feel that the best interests of Parliament would be served by withdrawing the motion."

There was no apparent reaction from Mr. Drew at these words. Mr. St. Laurent then added:

"Apparently that is not to take place and the matter probably will have to come to a decision."

BLAMES GOVERNMENT
John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert), speaking after Mr. St. Laurent's suggestion that the motion come to a swift vote, Mr. Diefenbaker went on to call for the resignation of Deputy Speaker W. A. Robinson.

In order to restore "this House to a sense of its responsibility, I believe that the Deputy Speaker should indeed present his resignation," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

The Speaker's office alternates for the life of each Parliament between a man of French-language origin and one whose native