DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

deal man should be sought and his advice taken. If he finds adequate foundation for your trouble, and supplies your husband with all details, a better understanding should be achieved all around. Don't expect indiscriminate suffering to elicit sympathy from your husband; it won't! A genuine, scientifically labeled ailment probably will!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend Allen is moving about forty miles away from here. We have been going steady for a year. I told him that when he moves I will not even think of going with any other boy, and I don't want him to go with other girls, either. My friends think I'm silly to tell him that. Every time I think of all the fun we've had together, it makes me cry. I am going to miss him terribly, even though we will write to each other. I really think his moving will upset my examination marks. He is 17, I am 16.

MARGUERITE T.

ANSWER: Your grief at losing a good friend is readily understandable, but you are making altogether too great a tragedy over it. Forty miles isn't such a terrific distance and after all you're not living in the dark ages. Mail service is very reliable, and a telephone call over that short distance isn't too expensive.

After Allen has been away for a while, you'll find new interest in other boys—though at the moment I know you think me quite heartless to suggest such an eventually. Sixteen is much too young to face a ruined life over forty miles. Whatever happens, Marguerite, don't let those exam marks suffer! They are much more important to your life right now than Allen's place of residence.

*DEAR MISS DIX: I am 15 and very fond of a certain boy. The only objection to him is that he's four inches shorter than I. Do you think I should go out with him anyway?
MICKEY

ANSWER: If you like him enough, you'll overlook the difference in height—as apparently he is willing to do. Remember, too, at his age he has lots of time to grow and will quite probably bridge the four-inch gap before long.

Miss Nissen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of general interest through this column.

Wool Growers Attention

Wool prices this year are much lower than last season. The Prince Edward Island Sheep Breeders' Association is handling the product again for the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Limited, recognized as an institution of great value to sheep breeders in Canada. The advance payment this year is not large, and because it is not comparable with prices being paid by competitive interests the advance may seem disappointing. Keep in mind, however, that the advance is only a portion of the full market value. The full value, which may be higher than present quotations, will reach you later. Figures recently issued through the Co-operative Union of Canada, show clearly the benefits of selling through your own Association. In the last 32 years the overall prices paid through Co-operative marketings were higher than the average net farm price in Canada for shorn wool in all but four years, and averaged 3.41 cents per pound for this period more than the open market price. In some years the Co-operative price reached as high as 9 cents per pound over the open price, and usually the spread was higher in years when wool ranged at low prices. In addition this difference did not include patronage dividends which amounted in 1951 to 4 cents per pound and in 1950 to 5 cents per pound.

Sheep breeders, market your wool through your own Association, and secure top market prices. Further, your Association is supplying material for internal and external parasites at reduced rates, servicing through field contacts, and sheep demonstrations, and rendering assistance in providing breeding stock to the industry.

Support the organization that is supporting you. Ship wool, freight collect, or deliver direct, to Wool Warehouse, foot of Prince Street, Charlottetown. For information apply to:

Scientists in this Hertfordshire town are testing a newly-invented washing machine which operates on low-frequency sound vibrations. It is hoped the machine can be sold at less than half the price of a conventional model.
Magistrate John Power said at a meeting here: "Some magistrates do crossword puzzles, sign papers and continually watch the clock during cases, but justice with one eye on the clock is apt to be in-justice."

Voids Must Keep You Free of Body Odor, Head to Toe, the Whole Month of June or it Won't Cost You a Cent!

Here's how you can try new, amazing VOIDS CHLOROPHYLL TABLETS WITHOUT RISKING A CENT!

ASK at any drug counter for a 36 tablet, month's supply package of Voids at $1.25, take it home and before retiring take a bath or shower. (Do this to insure removing any underarm cream deodorant you may be using or tell-tale traces of odor on any part of the body.) Swallow your first Voids tablet before going to bed, take another next morning and thereafter only one

Voids a day before breakfast each morning. (Occasionally, if you perspire excessively or in stubborn cases, one extra tablet a day should be taken.) VOIDS ARE AS HARMLESS AS THE FOOD YOU EAT so never worry over taking the odd extra tablet. DO NOT USE YOUR REGULAR DEODORANT while you're taking Voids as YOU WILL NOT NEED IT. Voids are all you need to protect you head to toe from all body odor, including underarm, feet, scalp, excessive glandular activity, nervous perspiration or more intimate conditions.

If, after taking 18 Voids according to directions, you are not completely satisfied and delighted with results, mail the remaining half package to Adrem Limited, 225 Mutual Street, Toronto 2, and we will refund your $1.25 plus your cost of postage.

NOTE: Do not confuse VOIDS CHLOROPHYLL TABLETS with candy mints which are not effective for body odors. (A supply of VOIDS for clinical purposes will be sent free of charge to any medical doctor, dentist or recognized hospital or institution.)

Chatham, N. B.,

was the winner of the GRAND PRIZE for May, and

MRS. HAROLD DREW,
94 Pownal Street,
Charlottetown, P.E.I., was the winner of the 4-lb. Carton of Fancy Assorted Biscuits, drawn for weekly.

My heart's in the Island, my heart is still there,
In Prince Edward Island, a'-breathing sea air,
A'seeing the home scenes and old friends I know,
My heart's in the Island wherever I go.
Farewell P. E. Island, the land of my birth,
The birthplace of Canada, the Island of worth,
My memory's flying back home like a dove,
To Prince Edward Island, the land that I love.

My heart's in the Island, my heart's ever there,
In Prince Edward Island forgetting all care,
A'swimming and fishing and boating, I trow,
My heart's in the Island wherever I go.
Farewell to the North Shore, waves capped when winds blow,
Farewell to Green Gables and Golf Links below,
Farewell Shining Waters, surf bathing and shore,
Farewell P. E. Island, the land I adore.

My heart's in the Island, my heart's ever there
In Prince Edward Island, a'seeing the Fair,
A'seeing Old Home Week's horse racing and show,
My heart's in the Island wherever I go.
Farewell to the Festive Week's sunshine and shade,
Farewell to the Queen of the Beauty Parade,
Farewell to Gulf Garden and all of its thrills,
The charm of the Island my memory fills.

My heart's in the Island, my heart's truly there,
In Prince Edward Island enjoying its fare,
A'seeing hills, valleys or streams as they flow,
My heart's in the Island wherever I go.
Farewell P. E. Island a'leaving by air,
Beneath is a landscape exceedingly fair,
The Gull's sparkling waters encircle the shore
Of this beautiful Isle, the sun shining o'er.

—Refrain—
My heart's in the Island, a'salling I note
The carryer Abegweit, none better afloat,
O'er Northumberland Strait she sails to and fro,
My heart's in the Island wherever I go.

—Ethel Stevenson.
