Hendricken - Boyd

On August 25th Saint Columbia's Roman Catholic Church at Lakevale was the scene of a very lovely Autumn rainbow wedding, when Marie Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan A. Boyd, Lakeville, became the bride of Joseph Peter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danial Hendricken, Peakes, P.E.I., in a double ring ceremony.

The marriage and Nuptial Mass was performed by Rev. Bernard MacDonald, close friend of the bride's family.

The Church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, roses and dahlias given by the bride's family.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother Joseph who gave her in marriage in the absence of her father, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Margaret McGeehan. The Hymns chosen by the bride were sung by Beverley MacDonald. She looked lovely in a floor length gown of glistening white nylon net and lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with low cut scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. Many tiny satin covered buttons fastened over the back. The long lace sleeves tapered to lily points over the wrists. The hooped skirt featured 13 miniature tiers of nylon net with lace panel inserts. Her finger-tip veil of nylon was held in place by a tulle and sequin. The bride wore a shrimp ballerina length nylon gown and headpiece to match, she carried a nosegay of shrimp and white carnations.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene MacDonald (Martha), sister of the bride who wore a shrimp ballerina length nylon gown and headpiece to match, she carried a nosegay of shrimp and white carnations.

The bridesmaid was Rita, a sister of the bride, who wore a blue ballerina length nylon gown and shrimp ballerina length nylon gown and headpiece to match and carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

The groom's home, the groom's family had a second wedding reception for the newly married couple. During the course of the evening about two-hundred and fifty guests were entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendricken will reside in Seven Island where the groom is employed. Previous to their marriage they were tendered showers at Lakevale and Hamilton, Ontario.

Don't Hoard Treasures

By ELEANOR ROSS
We heard a touching story the other day about a young homemaker, the mother of four small children.

Like most young mothers, she was thrifty and tried to run her household in an economical way. She didn't use her wedding presents—the beautiful china, silver, lovely linens, monogrammed sheets—very often, but saved them for important occasions.

As it is with so many of us, these occasions seldom happened. Meantime, she made use of the so-called indestructible furnishings and many makeshifts. Even Sunday dinner found the table settings just adequate and not much different from those used every day.

Then illness struck her down. After she had recovered, and the family was happily reunited, she felt the event called for a celebration. This time, out came all the lovely tableware, linens, the silver fruit bowl, the centerpiece. What a picture they made! And how astonished the youngest child was because, in all his four years, he had never seen so much beauty!

RARE OCCASION
The young mother decided then and there that she would never again save her beautiful household things for rare occasions. She suddenly realized that there was nothing in all this world as important as her own family, that every meal with them all seated at the table was an occasion—a rare and important one.

Out to stay came the prettiest china, silver, linens and sheets.

They became part of that family's regular daily living and are helping the children to grow up frugally.

We certainly agree with that homemaker's decision. We all have but one lifetime to live, one lifetime in which to enjoy as much grace and beauty as the home can provide.
