Great Racing Assured

A most promising Old Home Week racing program is forecast by Frank "Duck" Acorn, race secretary and classifier of Charlottetown Driving Park.

Frank is working hard on his first big pace, The Evening Patriot Free-For-All, which goes Monday night, August 13. Dee's Boy, June Byrd, Bob Brook, Hi Jay, Tammany Hall and Sampson are the ones already signed on the dotted line. 'Duck' is still working on two more and he hopes to have all ironed out over the weekend.

These half dozen look like an outfit that will give the opening night patrons a terrific thrill. The rivalry already existing is tremendous and will increase even more in the next nine days. June Byrd will be out to repeat before the home fans. She was 1-1 in The Evening Patriot Inaugural raced here on July 7, copped the $300 single dash affair at Kensington on July 2 and was 4-1 at Sydney in the big Dosco pace on July 23. In addition she took both trips of The Moncton an, breaking the track record in doing so.

Dee's Boy, of course, boasts the fastest miles in the Maritimes in a long time. The roan horse's spectacular miles of 2.30:1 and 2.03:4 at Sackville Downs on Wednesday last stamp him as one of the greatest horses ever to perform in these seaside provinces. He broke the track record at Saint John as well 2 and weeks ago, going both trips in a Maritime circuit outing in 2.04:4.

Bob Brook is probably the most promising horse racing in the Maritimes at the present time. Only four-year-old, Bob should have his greatest racing days ahead of him. He shattered the track record twice at Sydney this year, his best time a 2.05;1 effort in taking the first dash of the Dosco pace. He was second by a whisker to Dee's Boy in 2.03:4 last Wednesday at Sackville Downs.

A Bright Future

MCSAMPSON, another four-year-old, has a 2.06:4 mile to his credit this season at Fredericton, Lake Bob Brook, he has a bright future and will be keenly watched when he struts his stuff before the Old Home Week patrons.

And local folks are predicting much better things for Bill Boyles's Hi-Jay mare who has enjoyed his well-deserved rest. The near-two week layoff should be a great tonic for Buddy Campbell's pacer and he should make things plenty hot in this feature on Monday of Old Home Week.

We'll have something to say about Tammany Hall and the other entrants once Mr. Acorn gets the other two he is seeking.

From this corner, it looks like the greatest pacing classic ever presented here and Old Home Week should get away with a resounding bang with such an attraction on the opening menu.

Big Outside Entry

THE race secretary and classifier tells us that more outside horses are entered than was the case last August. Frank is running around trying to find stall space for everybody and that's quite a problem.

However, you can be sure that 'Duck' will solve the problem and that all the visiting horses will have proper accommodation. It takes a lot of horses to stage eleven programs in one week but 'Duck' feels he has enough to go around.

The last two years the weatherman behaved beautifully and all 22 cards were run off. Naturally the Provincial Exhibition Association and the eager racing fans are hoping for such a break this year.

At any rate, things are bright for a terrific week of harness racing and fans should really get their fill of their favorite pastime during this big week of celebration.

We'll let you in on some of the visiting 'ponies' just as soon as 'Duck' gives us the information.

Great Softball Series

BARRY'S Lions and National Park All-Stars renew their softball feud Monday evening at Victoria Park.

The All-Stars lead the best-of-seven semi-final two games to one but the Lions are showing surprising opposition. Monday before the regular game goes on, they will complete last Wednesday's tilt which was tied when called by darkness.

The Lions vow they'll take this one and enter the nightcap with the series all knotted at two games each.

It surely has become a most interesting series and a fellow by the name of Art Ballem has easily been the big star to date.

Saturday Racing Scheduled Here

A stellar nine-dash program is on tap at Charlottetown Driving Park tonight where one of the season's biggest crowds is expected to be on hand.

The fast class finds five good pacers and an outstanding trotter fighting it out for supremacy. Ginger E has drawn the rail and Clarke Smith will bt tough to beat with Allison Gillis's good pacer. Dunlop B, Helen's Dream, Tracadie Waters and Mr. Rock are the other pacers competing and Poplar Flash is the lone trotter.

Here are two dashes (they go in four and eight) that have signs of being chalked full of excitement. The experts are predicting that no horse will emerge a double dash winner.

Races five and nine could be equally as interesting. Claude O'Brien has the rail with Rankine MacLaine's Just Gary. The opposition will be furnished by Jolly Dick, Gay Laird, Sunny King, Jean Clegg and Orchestra Leader.

Two other double dashes and a single round out the exciting card that swings into action promptly at 8 o'clock.

Pari-mutuel bettors are reminded that the first daily double is on races one and t wo. Another double, a quinella and an exactor are also available in addition to win, place and show betting.

Starting once again is 8 o'clock sharp.

Worcester Pro Heads Tourney

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)— Mild-mannered Paul Harney, of Worcester, Mass., requiring only 28 putts, shot a blistering 66 Friday for a 36-hole total of 132 and the halfway lead in the $35,000 Insurance City Open golf tournament.

The 33-year-old Harney, with back - to - back 33s, posted six birdies, all one-putters, in his 34-32 round Friday, over the par 35-36—71 Wethersfield Country Club course.

"It was my best putting performance of the year," said the 145-pound Harney, who missed four of the 18 greens but more than made up for it with his brilliant short game. The putts ranged from two to 25 feet, the longest on the 13th.

Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., who was the first-round leader with a 65, shot a 70 for 135.

Two strokes behind Harney at 134 were Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Gene Littler, of San Diego, Calif., the 1961 U.S. open champion.

Al Balding of Toronto covered the course with a 70 for a two-round total of 68-70—138 while Al Johnston of Montreal was one stroke back with a 67-72—139.

Good Time Seen Tough On Cyclists

QUEBEC (CP) — This city's renowned hospitality may have eaten into the condition of the 74 bicycle racers entered in the 1,015-mile Tour du St. Laurent, which starts today.

"We're training hard when we can get away from the receptions," said Kenneth Matthews, manager of the British team, in an interview Friday.

"We've been given a very good time here and while it may not hurt the team, it may take them three or four days to run in."

Matthews' team is pinning its hopes on John Geddes, 25, of Liverpool, who finished in the classic Tour de France this year.

The Tour de France is so tough, with its Alpine climbs and lengthy laps, that a British racer has only held the lead in it once in its 60-year history. That was Tommy Simpson who briefly wore the yellow jersey—badge of the leader — in this year's race.

The British manager said Geddes has done well on the continent and backed up by veteran Stan Britain, 31, of Liverpool, and Kenneth Laidlaw, 26, of Hamick, Scotland, the team should do well. The other team member is John Woodburn, 25, of Henley - on-Thames, England.

Matthews points to the Russian entry as a formidable one.

It includes Victory Kapitonov, 29, Moscow, winner of a gold medal in the 1960 Olympics. His victory prevented a clean sweep of the bicycle races by the Italians, who won the other five events.

"The Russians have got the strongest possible team they could get," said Matthews. "The Austrians and the Swiss also have brought good teams."

The only other Europeans in the week - long race are Ange Roussel, 28, of Remungol, France, and Egedio Bolzone is defending champion and Roussel won an earlier Tour du St. Laurent.

There are 30 Canadians and 26 Americans listed as entries.

They'll race in a figure eight course that will run from here to Hull, Quebec, and Howard; Pizarro (10-11) Joyce (5) Stone (7) Wynn (9) and Carreon. HRs: NY—Tresh (10), Howard (12), Richardson (5).

WILD BERT KENNY

Island Boxer Battled Dempsey To Draw

A gentleman who traded punches with Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the boxing world, is visiting his native Prince Edward Island.

He is Bert Kenny of New York City and a one-time resident of St. Theresa, Prince Edward Island. Only twice in the last 45 years has he returned to the Island. His last trip here was in 1939.

Known to the boxing world as Wild Bert Kenny, the former Islander has had a most impressive boxing career. It was back in June, 1916 in Fairmont, New York that Kenny climbed into the ring with Jack Dempsey as his foe. It was a ten round draw on that occasion despite the fact that "Wild Bert" had suffered a broken hand in a fight six months earlier.

He tried desperately for a return go with Dempsey but he was never able to get the second chance. Dempsey later described his fight with the Prince Edward Islander as 'the toughest' of his career. Kenny maintains if there had been a second one, it would have been tougher.

He is retired as an iron worker since 1960 but still keeps abreast of the world's boxing activities. He was a young man of 18 when he left his Prince Edward Island home and went to Maine to work as a lumberjack. It was a good preparation for a career as a fighter. In 1908 he began amateur boxing in Boston Within a year he turned pro and was ready to meet all comers.

Later in 1908 he moved to New York and took up the iron worker's trade. It was in Bigtown that he earned himself the name "Wild Bert Kenny." Finally he was pinned on him because he had the habit of propelling opponents out of the ring. In his career of more than 100 pro bouts, Bert sent seven opponents out through the ropes.

In the golden age of boxing his name was one of the brightest on a card. He met and conquered powerhouses such as Bart Madden, Billy Misk, Kid Norfolk, Joe Jeanette, Panama Joe Gans, Battling Levinsky, Frank Moran and Jeff Clark, "the fighting ghost."

He has loads of pleasant memories about his boxing career but he is bothered because he didn't get another crack at Dempsey. He gives the impression that, had that second bout come about, Dempsey's career might have been different.

Bert came to the Island three weeks ago with his niece, Margaret Mooney, R.N., New York. While in the province he is the guest of Andrew Mooney, Peakes.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKenna, 64 Great George St., Charlottetown tendered a dinner in honor of the once-great fighter. Mrs. McKenna, like Mr. Mooney is a cousin of Mr. Kenny.

Dr. Kenny Mooney, Montreal, is a nephew of Mr. Kenny and accompanied Miss Mooney and Mr. Kenny from Montreal to the Island. Dr. Mooney also attended last night's dinner honoring his uncle.

SPORT OF KINGS

Bombers, Eagles Staging Great Battle For Loop Lead

By ED CLINTON
Souris Bureau of The Guardian

There is quite a battle for first place in the King's County league at the present time. Georgetown and Peakes are currently tied for first place with Morell and Mount Stewart only a half game behind. The latter two teams have played one game less and a victory in that game could make it a four way deadlock in the battle for first place.

While these four teams are battling it out for first place, the remaining four teams are fighting for fifth place, with no hope of any of them making the playoffs. At the present time the league's newest entries, Iona and Cardigan, are tied for fifth place with Souris and St. Peters a game and a half behind.

The battle for first place should continue after this coming Sunday when the top clubs all meet lower division teams. Georgetown is at home to Cardigan, while Peakes takes a trip over to Iona. Morell travels up to Souris, while Mt. Stewart takes a trip down to St. Peters. These lower division clubs have put up some good battles in games to date, so it may not be as one-sided as it would appear to be.

TO CHARLOTTETOWN

The League All-Star team will take a trip into Charlottetown on this coming Wednesday night to play a game under the lights against the Abbies. It should be quite a game, and right away, we'll go out on a limb and predict a victory for the All-Stars. However, don't be surprised if you stop attending the game because it should be a close contest, and those are the kind of games that are nice to watch.

Youth is having its fling in the League. Mike Kelly, sixteen-year - old pitcher - shortstop of the Morell Beavers is te current batting leader for the league with an even .500 average, which is a very nice average to have. In addition to that, he's sporting an undefeated record in two contests as a pitcher. Not bad for a young fellow, eh what?

The Souris Midgets, who are aiming for an Island title are having trouble playing exhibition games. Two main reasons for this are: Either the other team calls up and cancels out, or the weather just doesn't cooperate. They've managed to get in two games to date. They took a short handed team to Cardigan where they lost 6-2, but, with most of their regulars, they went to Tracadie where they won 12-1.

On Tuesday night they play in Souris against Montague, and on Wednesday night they are hosts to the Tracadie boys. Other exhibition games are already being arranged. We understand that the Island playoffs are scheduled to get underway right after Old Home Week. As far as we can tell, there are teams registered from Souris, Montague, Tracadie, Charlottetown, and Summerside. In all probability Souris and Montague will meet in the first round, and at the same time decide the County championship.

INTO PLAYOFFS

The Souris Town Baseball League has decided to call off the rest of its regular schedule and get the playoffs underway. Later's Construction and the Star's Downtowners were deadlocked for second place with neither team having a chance of overtaking the first place MacLeans Uptowners. The Centertowners and Downtowners will meet in a best of five semi-final series with the winners meeting the defending champions Uptowners in the finals.

The Downtowners were just starting to click during the latter part of the schedule and have discovered a new pitcher in the person of Elmer Paquet, who's proven to be quite an asset. The Downtowners in the meantime have lost the services of Terry Clinton (He's a cousin) and the entire pitching burden has fallen on the youthful shoulders of Wayne MacDonald. This series will be power (provided by the Downtowners) against top defensive play (provided by the Centertowners), and from where we sit, we'd hate to predict the winner.

And by the way, PARENTS, all playoff games will be played in the evening, so let's see a few of you there.

Norm Beckett Captures Ontario's Biggest Shoot

By STUART LAKE

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont. (CP)—Wo2 Norman Beckett of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry (militia) Friday won Ontario's biggest rifle event for the fourth time in the final event of the four-day provincial rifle association's annual competition.

The 53-year-old cost accountant from Ancaster, near Hamilton, won the lieutenant-governor's match and medal with a score of 143 of a possible 150 points. In 30 rounds from the 600 and 900-yard ranges, Beckett fired 23 bullseyes and seven inners.

A veteran rifleman who has been named to Canada's Bisley team 12 times, Beckett won the Queen's Medal at Bisley, England, in 1961.

Runner-up in the match was L. Cpl. Larry Fish of Queen's York Rangers. The Toronto marksman had a score of 138. Third was Maj. R. W. Hampton of the Royal Canadian School of Infantry, Camp Borden, Ont.

W. E. (Bill) Hare of Ottawa and Gary McMahon of Shearwater, N.S., shared top honors in opening matches of the three-day national hand - gun championships.

McMahon, a former Canadian open champion, took the day's first event—the metric slow fire—with 285 points of a possible 300. He was runner-up in the second—silhouette rapid fire—with 285 of 300 points.

Hare won the second match with 287 points and was second in the first match with 858.

Both are members of the Canadian pistol team that is to compete in the world championship at Cairo, Egypt, in October. Hare is a final-year arts student at Carleton University and McMahon is a Defence Research Board underwater scientists.

Bedard Ousts Fauquier; Lone Canuck Still Alive

By REMY d'ANJOU

Quebec (cp) — Bob Bedard of Lennoxville, Que., Friday night ousted Harry Fauquier of Toronto in straight sets to become the sole Canadian still in the running for the men's singles at the Canadian open tennis championships.

The top-seeded Canadian took the quarter - final match 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., second-seeded foreigner won his quarter - final match Friday against Rod Mandelstam of Johannesburg, South Africa 6-1, 6-6, 3-6, 6-4.

Frost lost his service in the first game of the first set but went on to win it handily. Mandelstam offered more resistance in the second and took the the third when Frost appeared to tire.

The Californian, however, recovered strongly to take the fourth set.

In the women's singles, an all-Toronto final is assured as the result of Friday's semi-final matches.

Ann Barclay defeated Shirley Miarit of Montreal 6-3, 6-1, and Lorna Brown won 7-5, 6-2, 6-1 over Mary Habicht of Santos, Brazil.

Frost, who kept Mandelstam on the run throughout the match, said later he was suffering from an intense pain in the big toe of his left foot.

Mandelstam, a University of Miami student, appeared nearly powerless in the early stages against Frost's strong forehand drives to alternate sides of the court.

The South African took the third set, however, by moving up to beat back Frost's drives.

RUSHED NET

In the fourth set, both players rushed the net in furious rallies. Then with Mandelstam leading the set 4-3, Frost dropped back to play cautiously from the back of the court, winning the last three points.

Miss Barclay eliminated Shirley Harit easily in two sets.

The Montrealer had little chance against the well-placed drives of Miss Barclay, who served six aces in the second set.

Mrs. Brown needed three sets to dispose of Miss Habicht, an unseeded 17-year-old.

After dropping the first set, Mrs. Brown broke the Brazilian girl's strvice four times and kept her running to opposite corners of the court to return well-aimed shots.

The matches were played in a sunny, 80-degree temperature.
