Upon the motion of M. Freteau it was decreed, that seals should be put upon all foreign papers, which should arrive in the several offices, to be opened only by order of the National Assembly.

M. de la Porte produced a Memoir, in the hand writing of his Majesty, which he said he had just received from a servant in the department of the first valet de chambre.

No observations were made upon this memoir, but it was referred to the Committee of Constitution.

M. Barnave moved, that the Commanders of Troops resident at Paris, should renew their oaths at the bar of the Assembly.

CHARLOTTE-TOWN.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY II.

A correspondent, who, with infinite pleasure, observes a frugal Disposition pervading the Inhabitants of this Island, recommends the following most excellent quotation to be continually retained in their minds, that they may have in view the dreadful consequences attendant on a departure from such necessary principles:

“ FROM the moment you have allowed yourself to pass the line of œconomy,
