

Parades, Contests Feature Second Day Of Carnival

Very large crowds attended the various events that were run off under sunny skies yesterday at the second day of Summerside's first annual lobster carnival which was highlighted by a soap box derby, a fancy dress carnival, a doll carriage parade, and step dancing and fiddling contests. Crowds even larger than the previous day, were on hand to witness the program, and upwards of 1,300 persons enjoyed the delicious lobster suppers which are being served each day from four to eight p.m.

Yesterday's parade, which preceded the first event, the soap box derby, moved off from the Canadian Legion Home going west on Water Street, and was led by the Summerside Sea Cadet Band.

which, under the direction of bandmaster, Sub-Lieutenant Gabriel Chaisson, were flown home from Sydney where they are in training, so that they can participate in the carnival program. The Sea Cadet Band was followed by the Sea Cadet Corps, commanded by Lt. George Oisamp; the Air Cadets, with P.O. Derek Hughes in command; King Neptune and his favorite, Mermaid, on the Fire Department pumper truck; and the first aid ambulance.

SOAP BOX DERBY
The parade broke off at the High School for the soap box derby which was sponsored by the Summerside Lions Club, and was under the chairmanship of Lion Buddy D'Athe. Charles Silliphant was the grand award winner of the Lions derby when he defeated John Poirier in the final run off between the junior and senior winners on a downhill course on Summer Street extending from the new hospital to the High School. Charles also won $10 for winning the junior event, with Kenneth Palmer, second, and winning $10. Ronnie Hickey was third place winner and received $5.

The senior winners were John Poirier, Arthur Williams and Peter Schurman who also received similar awards for the junior class. Prize for the best car in the derby went to Allan Cameron.

In the fancy dress parade held on the stage outside the Civic Stadium, Norma Snowdon of Sackville, N. B., won first prize of a bicycle donated by Bruce MacKay and Co.; Willard MacQuarrie, Summerside, was second, and received a fielder's glove; and Michael and Gisele Landry, Summerside, were third place winners of chocolates.

King Neptune made the presentations to the winners, and the judges were Mrs. W. A. Currie, Mrs. Henry Wedge and Mrs. Muriel MacArthur who also judged the doll carriage parade which drew a very large crowd, and featured some very cute costumes. Coleen MacNeill, Summerside, won a special award of $10.00 for outstanding originality with her carriage decorated as "The Old Woman In The Shoe". Paula Cameron, Summerside, won the first award of $10.00 and Marilyn Gaudet, Summerside, won second award of $5. Lion Buddy D'Athe presented the awards.

FIDDLERS, DANCERS
Last evening before approximately 1,200 people the fiddlers and step dancers vied for top honors with Linus Bolger of Summerside winning the fiddling championship. Bill Chaisson, Borden, placed second and Toussaint Arsenault of Summerside was third.

In the men's step-dancing contest, Anthony Perry, Tignish, won top award, Joseph E. Gallant, Summerside came second, and Gabriel Fiarie, Summerside was third. A special award went to 11-year-old Ernest Hicks of Point De Bute, N. B., who had the crowd cheering wildly with his excellent footwork. Ernest won the Maritime championship for step-dancers at last year's Winter Fair at Amherst.

Myrtle Perry of Kinkora won the ladies step-dancing competition with Shirley Perry of Central Bedeque placing second and Jean Arsenault of Egmont Bay, third. The awards were presented to the winners by Mr. Jock Hopkirk, president of the Summerside Y's Men's Club who sponsored the contests. Mr. George Key, Jr., was master of ceremonies and during the evening called on Coun. W. E. Jenkins, who put on a neat exhibition of step dancing.
