PRAYER MEETING in Y. M. C. A. every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.
Talmage Condemned.

The recent pulpit efforts of the Rev. De Witt Talmage, the great Brooklyn sensation, on the night side of city life in New York, are calling out the condemnations of certain journals. The New York "Herald" recently contained the following criticism, which if strictly impartial, would seem to leave the great preacher in an unenviable position:—"It was to be hoped that when the Rev. Mr. Talmage left off reciting the immoral things he had seen in his midnight trip through New York and turned to give the world his views upon New York's pauperism, we should have heard something of value, even if a little luridly colored. It has been suspected that the holy man was "guyed" by his guides, that, in fact they took a profane delight in giving him information of a kind not authentic. A correspondent, with scarcely pardonable anxiety for the good fame of this city, writes to us respecting Mr. Talmage's statement that one hundred and seventy thousand families in New York sleep fourteen in one room on the bare floor or a heap of straw. Our correspondent thinks this is untrue. It is that makes no difference to Mr. Talmage. In 1875 there were in fall two hundred and thirteen thousand four hundred and sixty seven families in New York; there are a few more in 1878, in spite of the hard times. That two out of every three families in this city live in such squalor ought to be difficult for even Mr. Talmage to swallow, although his great capacity has been long unquestioned. That three persons out of every ten in New York live on charity will probably strike somebody else as doubtful, but we beg him not to write to us on the subject. It should be distinctly understood that we do not propose to contradict all the inaccuracies of Mr. Talmage; it is bad enough to print them. He probably serves some purpose in the plan of an inscrutable providence. When he preaches on pauperism his facts may be as contorted as his wiving limbs; his remedies may be as perilous as a policeman's "theories," but he at least does not draw such pictures as are likely to stimulate a desire on the part of the young members to try a little poverty on their own account. We could not say this when he was handling some other features of his journey in New York.

One of the most clever and amusing of Father Prout's literary tours was his translation of several of the "Irish Melodies" into Latin verse and then with apparent seriousness, insinuating that Moore had cribbed them. Moore took it gravely to heart, and when some of his friends made light of it, saying that anyone could see it was a joke, replied: "That's all very well for your London critics, but let me tell you, my reputation for originality has been gravely impeached in the provincial newspapers on the strength of these very imitations." This, of course, made it all the funnier for the literati and proved how admirably Father Prout had done his work.

Bees often make long journeys in search of food. A bee-owner in the best, thinking that they perhaps visited the clover-field of friend forty miles away, sprinkled their backs with flour one morning as they left their hives, having previously requested the friend to watch for them. A telegram came from the latter during the day, saying, "Plenty of your white-jacket bees here."

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

PESTH, Nov. 20.
A despatch to Prether Lloyds from Berlin says that Russia is about to begin a diplomatic campaign with England in relation to Afghanistan. Gen. Kauffman has handed his Government a memorandum pointing out how dangerous to the security of the southern frontiers of Turkistan it would be if the Khuber passes were permanently occupied by British troops. Gen. Kauffman regards as groundless the British apprehensions of Russia threatening the northern frontier of India from Central Asia. This frontier is quite impregnable, while the British occupation of Southern Afghanistan would be a standing menace to Russian Turkistan. The St. Petersburg Cabinet, relying on this report, will ask serious guarantees from England that no changes be made in the territory or independent condition of Afghanistan.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
The Times has the following from Berlin: "A St. Petersburg correspondent of Vienna, in semi-official political correspondence, says Russia has announced her intention of activity by supporting the Ameer in event of England occupying any position in Afghanistan from which Russian dominion in Asia might be effectually threatened. This announcement is based upon the assertion that England has violated the alleged Afghanistan agreement of Lord Clarendon by the occupation of Quetta. The intention of Russia to interfere in Afghanistan is apparently confirmed by the Moscow Gazette, declaring that interference is indispensable—now that the occupation of Quetta has been succeeded by expeditions in the direction of Candahar ad Herat."

The Standard's correspondent with the Khurum column telegraphs, "We will probably attack Peiwar Pass on Saturday. Reconnoissance on Wednesday showed that Afghans who abandoned the Khurum pass were so far without success. They were endeavoring to mount cannon on the summit Peiwar. The British troops will consequently make a dash hoping to capture the cannon and pass. All the sick and weakly will remain in Khurum Fort."

BOMBAY, Nov. 27.
The Times states that Khurum column will resume its advance on Friday, with provisions for six days.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
Lady Annie Louise Gooch, charged with attempting to pass off a spurious child as heir of her husband, Sir Francis, has been committed for trial.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.
Mr. Dymond has retired from the Globe staff. It is reported that Mr. Buckingham takes a position on that paper.

Members of the Government remain at Montreal for St. Andrew's ball.
The Ottawa Herald has an article repudiating assumption of spiritual supremacy in the Governor General's oath, and says Catholics cannot express loyalty to the new Governor General without reservation, because they do not and never did acknowledge supremacy of the British Crown in spiritual matters.

The late Government is said to have contemplated the establishment of a Government detective force had they remained in power, such action having been necessitated by the increase of counterfeit in the Dominion.
Rideau Hall is ready for occupation after thorough refitting.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
An approximate statement of the affairs of the firm of Smith, Fleming & Co., of London, shows gross liabilities amounting to $14,557,425, but only $8,132,975 of this is expected to rank against the estate. Assets are $1,426,915 or less than 3s. 6d. on the pound of the $8,132,995, and after the costs of liquidation are paid it will not yield two shillings on the pound.

GLASGOW, Nov. 28.
Sequestrations of estate of Henry Taylor & Son, grain and flour merchants, is announced. Liabilities $6,500,000. William Taylor, imprisoned director of the city of Glasgow Bank, is senior partner of the firm.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
It is rumored that there will be some failures to-morrow of considerable importance among stockholders, in consequence of speculation in railway shares of one of the partners of the suspended Rochdale Banking firm.

The Preston Loan and Discount Company have suspended. Liabilities £6,000.
Mr. Gye, manager of the Covent Garden Opera, has been accidentally shot, and his injuries are serious.

The Staffordshire nail makers give notice of an intention to strike on Saturday, unless the masters dispense with all out-of-door hands, who are very numerous, and make nails at home during intervals of regular employment.

The marriage of the aged King of Holland to the young Princess Emma, of Waldeck-Pyrmont, is so unpopular among the Dutch that it is said the ceremony will not even take place within his Majesty's dominions. The Prince of Orange has declined to witness the ceremony.
I am no proffitt, nor the sun of a proffitt, but I prophesy this—the man who matches himself agin the devil, at enny kind ov a game, iz allwus a going to git beat.
