COUNCIL APPROVAL REQUIRED

Coun. Johnstone in a letter written to the Council at its last meeting, but not discussed, gave strong disapproval as chairman of the Finance Committee, to the spending of large amounts of money in certain departments without first having obtained the approval of the Council.

When questioned as to what particular department he was referring, Coun. Johnstone specifically mentioned the street department and particularly the building of an addition to the City barn. He said that all chairmen of the various committees were aware of the minimum spending ruling and should govern themselves accordingly. In future, he said it would be at the discretion of the Finance Committee whether such bills would be paid.

His Worship asked Coun. McCormac, chairman of the street committee, whether he was holding regular monthly meetings of his committee, to which Coun. McCormac replied that he had held five such meetings during the year. The Mayor was of the opinion that all the members of the committee were not invited to attend, and since a representative of each ward should sit in on a committee, this practice was open to a lot of criticism. He added that cases of emergency could be excepted.

Interesting Talk On Investment Broker's Role

Mr. Reginald Howard was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of Trinity Men's Association held last night. In an informative address, Mr. Howard traced the economic and industrial development of Canada and the part which the investment houses played during the past half century.

Chairman for the meeting was Mr. Kenneth Parker, who acted in the absence of the president, Mr. Ches Cooper. The meeting opened with Rev. Howard Christie asking Grace. Alan MacKenzie delighted the audience with three well played clarinet solos. Stan Lancaster led a sing-song and George Thompson presided at the piano. Mr. Russell Sellar was asked to extend the thanks of the association to the ladies for the bountiful dinner.

Mr. Howard, who was introduced by Mr. Fulton Pierce, explained that in the early part of the present century most of the investment capital in Canada came either from the United States or from the British Isles. He said that the role of the investment dealer first received recognition in World War I when it was found that great difficulty was experienced in putting across the first victory loan drive when the second one was launched under the direction of the investment houses it was a decided success.

"From then on," said Mr. Howard, investment dealers continued to play an important part in the nation's economy. He pointed out that today, 85% of the capital invested in Canada is Canadian while a few years ago this situation was reversed.

Mr. Howard went on to show the part an investment dealer takes as a member of his community. "His place is not always recognized for what it really is," said the speaker who pointed out that an investment dealer finds capital for the users of capital. Before concluding his remarks, Mr. Howard gave a very interesting description of the various types of bonds and debentures, as well as their uses.

Mr. Kenneth Parker on behalf of the Association extended sincere thanks to the speaker for his interesting address.

Cross Society required to pay taxes. Coun. Gaudet felt that before the Council came to a decision on this matter, the question of investigating other institutions that could come within a charitable category should be considered. For example he took the Sacred Heart Home. Coun. MacDonald felt that if they began to look into all the charitable institutions it would scare you."

Mr. Johnstone said he was in regard to an investigation. The matter was left for the consideration of the next meeting.

SCALE HOUSE

Coun. Gaudet, as chairman of the market committee, reported that the scale house was ready to move into the boiler building in an inspection by Mr. Van Marion of the Maritime Electric Company, showed that the installation of the boiler was satisfactory with the exception that much of the heating pipes should be insulated.

Councillor Rogers asked whether the Council had been approached by the Charlottetown Forum for financial assistance. City Recorder, K. M. Martin answered that he had been approached Mr. Martin said he advised a Forum official that a loan was out of the question. When asked whether a grant could

B.I.S. Presents Centennial Minstrels At College Hall

The Benevolent Irish Society started the ball rolling last night in the series of entertainments for the next few months listed as "Centennial", and their initial presentation in "The Centennial Minstrels of 1955" at Prince of Wales College Auditorium proved highly entertaining.

Under the distinguished patronage of the Hon. A. W. Matheson, Premier, and Mrs. Matheson, and His Worship Mayor J. D. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, the show as directed by Hugh P. Trainor received a splendid reception on stage and much favourable comment from the lobby as the large number in attendance left the auditorium.

The show started with an overture of Irish Airs by the orchestra consisting of Brian Albert O'Blanchard and his Dublin Five, followed by the opening choruses "You don't have to be Irish", "If you're Irish come into the parlor" and "It's a great day for the Irish".

John Walsh an "End Man" sang "Harrison" followed by Patsy Leightizer in the vocal solo "Mickey". Earl Clinton sang two numbers, "End Man" and "Everett". Beagan Jr. followed in "Strawberry Moon" and Loman MacAulay in "Midnight in Mayo". Teresa Doyle in costume did a clog dance and "End Man" James McAleer sang "I'm the son of an Irishman".

Phyllis Carr was then heard in the vocal "River Shannon Moon" and "End Man", Ivan Docherty concluded the first section of the program with the song "Fancy Nancy Clancy".

Following intermission the show took on a new aspect with specialties scattered through six quick scenes and added variety to the program. In these scenes Chester Donovan and Beryl Beagan presented "A Soldier's Farewell" and Frank MacIntyre and Leith

Antigone", directed by Rev. Adrien Arsenault. At the meeting held last evening, Mrs. Eddy Morrison, president of the P.E.I. Drama Association, reported that tickets had been received from the printers and issued to various centres of the Province. Miss Lillian Duchemin, Festival secretary-treasurer read the minutes of the previous meeting, and a report from Mrs. Fred Gates, convener of programmes, was given.

Other committee heads giving reports of progress were Judge H. L. Palmer, adjudicator; reception: Mr. T. H. Morris; stage: Mr. T. D. DeBlais; hall: advertising and publicity, Mr. Bugden and contestant reception, Mrs. W. Scantlebury. Mrs. B. W. Patterson was appointed convener of the theatre conference.

It was announced that the trophy "Antigone" and the cash award of one hundred dollars had already been received, and as well as competing for these the two contestants will be trying for the honor of being selected to represent this Province in the finals. These will be held this May in Regina, and it is Mr. Van Gysegheam's duty to select the eight best plays seen during his Canada-wide tour to compete at that time for Dominion championship.

Girl Killed In Crossing Crash

TORONTO, (CP) - Freda Davidson, 20, formerly of Upper Derby, N. B., was killed Sunday night and her companion, Charles Clark, 24, also of New Brunswick, was severely injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by a freight train at a crossing in suburban York township.

Police said the car went through red signal lights at the crossing during a heavy sleet storm. The train carried the car half a mile down the tracks. Miss Davidson was pinned in the wreckage for half an hour before police, using crowbars, could free her. She died while being carried to an ambulance. Clark crawled from the wreckage. He suffered head cuts and other injuries. Hospital authorities said today his condition was satisfactory.

United Nations Night At Local Women's Club

Six new members were cordially welcomed to the Charlottetown Business and Professional Women's Club by the president, Miss Dorothy Cullen, at the regular monthly meeting, held at the Charlottetown Hotel last evening. They are - Mrs. Elsie Inman, Montague, Mrs. Helen Sauter, Mrs. Walter Bears, Mrs. Pope Beer, Miss Emma Dougan and Miss Lena McLure, all of Charlottetown.

Mrs. Helen Dunbar, chairman of civic affairs committee, outlined plans for B. and P. participation in centennial year celebrations and her committee was authorized to finalize arrangements for holding a conference of Maritime B. and P. clubs in Charlottetown next summer.

Miss Helen Yeo, provincial president, read excerpts from a letter from Miss Margaret Hyndman, Q.C., national chairman of employment conditions committee for the Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs of Canada, in which she outlined the projects adopted by the National convention in Toronto last summer re employment conditions for women. Miss Hyndman urged continued endeavours in promoting equal pay and the wiping out of discrimination against women.

It was agreed that three members be added by the executive to the already existing committee on "Equal pay for equal work".

Since January is the month set aside by B. & P. Clubs throughout Canada to the study of world affairs, the committee in charge, headed by Miss Gertrude Love, capably and entertainingly enacted a scene presumed to be taking place in the United Nations building in New York. Mrs. Ireta Sutherland, Mrs. Christine Agnew, and the Misses Muriel Archibald, Alma Mason, Beatrice Vandenberg and Ethel Taylor, pretended that they had just toured the U.N. building and were seeking further information with regard to the organizational function and work of the United Nations. They discussed the importance of the work of the United Nations in the interests of world peace through its varied committees, not the least of which is that of the Economic Council of Women.

Table decorations were carried out in blue and white, the colours of the United Nations, and were enhanced by six dolls dressed in costume to represent as many different countries as well as one depicting Queen Elizabeth II in her coronation robe. These were the handiwork of Girl Guide companies from various parts of the Province who dressed these dolls as the requirements for the Eastborough Shield competition during coronation year. The dolls were kindly loaned for the occasion by the Provincial Girl Guide Association.

Showed Fine Colored Views Of European Beauty Spots

A highly interesting program was provided at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday by Lieut. Col. E. W. Johnston, E.D., who showed coloured views which he had taken while touring the British Isles and Continental Europe last summer.

In a vivid running commentary, Col. Johnston described the places shown in the views taken in many of the eleven countries visited. The selection reflected the knowledge of things beautiful which has marked the Colonel's interest in rural beautification, and many of the floral scenes recorded by his camera are works of art. In London, the trooping of the colours, the foot guards and horse guards and their inspection by the Queen on her official birthday, June 2nd, presented an unusual picture, souvenir of a memorable experience.

The three acres of flowers under canvas at St. James' Park, and other parks and gardens were also visited and greatly enjoyed.

The Tower of London, Hyde Park, a boat trip on the Thames, a visit to Ann Hathaway's Cottage, Shakespeare's church, where he is buried, a tour through the beautiful Devon country, King's College Chapel and other views were faithfully recorded and shown. Stress was laid on the zeal and care with which the English people cultivate flowers, even on a small scale in a back-yard garden. Col. Johnston drew particular attention to a copper beech tree and remarked that as far as he knew, there was only one of these beautiful trees growing on the Island.

Wales was visited and a number of pictures shown in which stone cottages and stone dykes dominated the farming country. In Scotland, Burn's Birthplace was visited, the home of Sir Walter Scott, and the graves of Sir Douglas and Lady Haig, Edinburgh Castle, the Cathedral, Loch Ness and Balmoral Castle were also pictured.

Crossing to Amsterdam, the visitors saw a flower display equal to that which they so greatly admired in England. Windmills are rapidly becoming a thing of the past in Holland and the only one seen was pictured. The Royal Palace at Brussels, and the battlefield of Waterloo were next in line of visit, followed by a stop-over at Luxembourg.

A trip on the Rhine proved extremely interesting and the immense amount of shipping by barges and boats remarked upon. The Bavarian Alps, St. Mark's square and church and other scenes at Venice were viewed with delight. Yugoslavia, although semitropical, has a very poor soil and only olive trees appear to flourish.

On the Adriatic, Cyprus trees appeared to be most in evidence. In Switzerland much attention is paid to the tourists and perfect English is spoken by most employees in the hotels. After a brief time in Paris, Col. Johnston went to the Vim Memorial and visited the Canadian Cemeteries where every grave was marked with a red rose and kept in perfect condition.

The speaker was introduced by chairman, Ralph Jones and thanked by co-chairman, Frank MacKenzie.

Guests of Rotary were, J. C. Saint, Robert Szazelle and Walter Shaw.
