SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Blanchard Executed.

SHERBROOKE, Que, Dec. 12.

Until a few minutes before William Wallace Blanchard placed himself under the scaffold erected yesterday by Birchall's famous executioner Radcliffe, a good many people here believed that the sentence of Charles Calkins' murderer would be commuted. It was not to be, however, and Blanchard awoke with a smile on his lips and said he was ready to die. In fact, the doomed man appeared the most unconcerned of the 60 persons who stood around the jail yard, and waited for the end. Before being pinioned, Blanchard looked at the sky, and then upon those before him and said, "I thank you all for your kindness, and may God have mercy on your souls." Having knelt and prayed fervently while Rev. Father Fisette gave him absolution. He arose and Radcliffe adjusted the rope, pulled the pin, and Blanchard went to meet his God. The doctors present say he died of strangulation, 24 minutes elapsing before death ensued. Before leaving the jail, Blanchard went to the other man's cell and said, "Lamontagne, farewell. It is my turn today, and yours will come on Friday next. Prepare yourself well, and we will meet in Heaven." Remi Lamontagne seems completely broken down since Blanchard's execution.

A Valuable Find.

HALIFAX, Dec. 12.

James Brown, while cutting down a willow tree near Weymouth yesterday, discovered in a hollow of it a purse containing four thousand dollars in gold and bank notes. The money is supposed to have been hid there by Mrs. Payson, who became mentally deranged after the sudden death of her husband. She died ten years ago, and people were surprised that she did not leave more money, as she had been considered wealthy. She was a sister of Randolph Oakes, at one time M. P. P. for Digby County. Brown bought the Payson estate. There are two sons of Mrs. Payson living.

Ottawa Notes.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.

The promoters of the Harvey-Salisbury railway will apply at the next session for a charter from the Dominion Parliament.

The Canadian Pacific will apply next session for an act to enable the company to purchase any railway which parliament has authorized to be used by that company.

The railway committee of the Privy Council to day laid down the principle, that in applications by municipalities to compell railway companies to protect level crossings, the applicants must pay half of the expense of protection desired.

Bills of Indictment Returned.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.

The Grand Jury this afternoon returned bills of indictment against Banker Prettyman, whose bank went to the wall a short time ago, and against his cashier, C S. Johnson, on charges of embezzlement. Capaises for their arrest were at once issued. The basis of the indictments is the receipt of money from depositors after the insolvency of the bank was apparent.

The Newfield Disaster

HALIFAX, Dec. 12.

Thomas Isenor, boatswain of the Newfield, died last night without recovering consciousness, so the mystery of the explosion will probably never be cleared up. The rest of the wounded are doing well and will recover. Isenor leaves a widow and five children. McRae and Morrison are unmarried.
