Canadian Farmers.

Had Sir Richard Cartwright attended the annual meeting of the Merchants Bank of Canada, the address of the general manager would certainly have been followed by a big row. Mr. Hague's remarks upon the condition of the farmers, referring in most cases to the province of Ontario, were particularly interesting. "The past year," begins the general manager, "has not been supposed to be a year of much saving with farmers, but it is a fact that out of 29 branches where farmers' deposits are received, in 28 of them there has been an increase in such deposits. In only two has there been a decrease, and that only of a small amount. I have no doubt that this experience has been common. The whole deposits of the country in the banks and in Government and other savings banks a year ago were $213,000,000. They now amount to $231,000,000. I have little doubt that a large proportion of this increase belongs to farmers."

Mr. Hague appends a few remarks of the bank's managers on the business of their own localities. The information is both interesting and valuable.

"One says: 'As to farmers, opinions differ. My own supposition is they make almost as much as formerly, but spend more freely. The age with them, as with others, is an extravagant one.'

"Another says: 'Nine out of ten of the farmers in this locality are well to do. When one runs behind it is invariably owing to his being indulgent, incompetent or dissipated.'

"Another: 'Manufacturers in this neighborhood, by hard work and economical management, have generally added to their means.'

"Another in an important centre says: 'Last year's good crops, followed by a better winter than usual, has left the farmers in a better position than they were a year ago.'

"Another says of the flour mills in his district that the loss of the Newfoundland market was appreciably felt, and that the year has not been a good one. Woolen mills that were well equipped and worked with adequate capital undoubtedly made money. Of the farmers: 'The wasteful, shiftless one, with fences down and thistles growing round his machines lying in the fence corners, has as much to find fault with here as in any other country. With the hardworking, thoughtful farmer, the position is entirely different.'

"The manager of our Hamilton branch writes that the crop of grapes is becoming second in importance, and is a more certain one than grain. The business can probably be developed to an extent hardly possible to be conceived of at present. The farmers of the neighborhood are doing well. The variety of articles is so great that they are sure to do well in some of them. Distress among farmers is looked upon as due to bad methods."

"In a cheese district a manager reports that 'the business was satisfactory to all parties. Farmers in the neighborhood are doing well. Farmers here have learned that dairying pays better than anything else. Next in importance is raising hogs.'

"Another reports that 'the lazy, indifferent farmers are being weeded out, while the prudent and thrifty are getting more independent. Last year's farmers at this branch deposited 50 per cent.'

"Another, writing from a wholesale centre in a good farming district, says that wholesale houses and manufacturers have done well, and that the loan companies state that payments on mortgages have been far more prompt than in years back. Yet a steady decline in value of farms has been going on for some years, owing to the opening up of new fields of enterprise in the North-west. This has brought about a more economical style of living, not a bad result."

"Another reports that there has been no depreciation of farm property in his section; on the contrary farms are increasing in value. The condition of business generally, and farming in particular in the North-west is so favorable that it hardly needs to be referred to. There can be no doubt that a more healthy condition of trade prevails in its principal centres, Winnipeg, and we hear from our manager that all leading lines have been profitable. The crop, as is well known, was immense in quantity, but bad weather and delay in threshing deteriorated its value largely; and the holding over for better prices proved a terribly mistaken policy, as it has so often done in Ontario. But in spite of all this the North-west has made considerable progress during the year and the prospects for the future are excellent."

The Allan-Hebden Elopement.

Although the scandal connected with the Allan-Hebden elopement is gradually dropping from the public mind, the relatives feel keenly the disgrace that has been brought upon them. Young Allan's escape has cost $200,000 a year, that being his salary previous to the scandal. He has been disinherited, too, and though he has a little money of his own, it will not be very long before he and his paramour's expensive tastes before the bottom of the purse is reached and the guilty couple are reduced to the painful necessity of working for a living.

It has been learned that the eloping pair went first to the Pacific coast. During their short stay in California they met a chance acquaintance and immediately disappeared again. It is now stated that they are in a secluded New Brunswick town. It was by the merest chance that a traveller visiting the obscure place recognized the couple by their portraits.

Hebden, the wronged husband, is in New York with his worse than motherless children, and it is believed should the banker run across the destroyer of his home, he will shoot him on sight. He has the sympathy of all, like deserted Mrs. Allan who is now in the old country.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Warning.

SIR,—As the subject of the losses sustained by this Province, owing to the generosity of our present Civil administration is of vital importance to the people of P. E. Island, it behooves the electors to take into consideration the shameful manner in which the present government have thrown away the public money on their own friends.

During the year in which there was a small loss sustained in the Public Lands Office when the late Government were in power, that stick-at-nothing exaggerating organ—the Patriot—was loud in its denunciation of the management of that office. Yet when its own party are the guilty ones, it has yet not a word to say in condemnation of their conduct, but screams with bare-faced audacity, "It is no worse than Ottawa." Surely that makes the crime none the less! And for want of a better excuse it flaunts this cry in the faces of its readers and the electors of P. E. Island. But, sir, let the Government beware. Let them show that they are in earnest to clear up this scandal, or it will not be well for them when they next appear before the indignant electors of this Province. Let the Peters-Faughan-McLean administration know that the people of this Province will not tolerate a systematic loss to this Province. Nor will favoritism succeed amongst its newly-made friends.

Stanhope, June 18, 1892.

Dr. Douglas in a Temper.

The St. John Sun relates the following anecdote of Rev. Dr. Douglas: "Some years ago, when Dr. Douglas was less infirm in body, and no less forcible in speech than now, he was president of the general conference of the Methodist church of Canada. This was before the Union of the Methodist Episcopal body with the Wesleyans and before the time of general superintendents. The conference of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island was in session at Fredericton on a certain Friday. On Saturday Dr. Douglas, having officially visited the Nova Scotia conference, was on his way to attend the session at Fredericton. Procuring a morning paper, he read the report of Friday's proceedings. It chanced that the course of business had led to the discussion of the transfer of a supernumerary minister from Newfoundland to New Brunswick. Members of the conference strongly criticised the fact and method of transfer, claiming that in the given circumstances it was irregular and unprecedented. Dr. Douglas, who was chairman of the transfer committee, and who accepted the responsibility of the transaction, took a personal view of the strictures of his brethren. The conference, in anticipation of his arrival, had appointed a deputation to meet, greet and escort him to the assembly room. It had made provision for his entertainment, and announcements had been made that he would preach on Sunday. Great was the astonishment of the assembled brethren when the deputation returned with the news that the president of the general conference declared that he had been insulted, and that he refused to meet the members or attend the meeting. Dr. Douglas would not accept Methodist hospitality, but went to a hotel. He refused to preach, and a New Brunswick minister was called upon at short notice to fill the gap. The insulted dignitary did not even attend services in the Methodist building, but went to a Presbyterian church, where, however, as it unfortunately happened, a Methodist minister preached that day. Next morning Dr. Douglas left the place without having shown himself to the conference. The ministers on recovering from their surprise, went on with their work as though nothing had happened."

Personal.

The will of the late Sir Alex. Campbell, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, disposes of an estate valued at $84,665, of which $13,079 is in cash, $20,716 in bank stocks, $18,562 in life insurance, $2,315 in mortgages, $2,000 in securities, $1,290 in book debts, $5,000 in household goods, $5,550 in real estate. The will is dated April 2, 1892. The estate is left mainly to his son Charles and daughter Marjorie.

The month of August next is expected to bring important if not wonderful and sensational developments in the study of our mysterious heavenly little kinsman, August 5th next Mars will arrive at a point directly opposite this earth, which it reaches but once in fifteen years, when the distance between the two planets will be reduced from 141,000,000 to 36,000,000 miles. Upon that night a thousand telescopes will be levied at the planet, which will pose in resplendent beauty in the southern skies, and a thousand eyes will seek to pierce the veil of distance that conceals the knowledge for which science thirsts. Wonderful results are expected by reason of the marvellous improvements that have been made in astronomical instruments within fifteen years and since the last most favorable observation was made. With the powerful lenses and the photographic appliances of today it will be as if the far away visitor, tempted by curiosity, had drawn nearer to the earth than ever. Although Mars will be 35,000,000 miles away, the powerful Lick telescope will magnify her to a size as if viewed at a distance of but 17,500 miles. Mars but 17,500 miles away. What wonder, then, that astronomers are feverish with anxiety for August to come.

A well-known and thought-to-be truthful resident of Bedford informed a Halifax Chronicle reporter a few days ago, that potato bugs were becoming very numerous in that locality, and that several of them were seen on the roadway looking at two oxen ploughing in a field near by, to see if potatoes were to be planted there. The bugs, he said, had followed the oxen all the way from the Eastern Passage.

"PERFECTLY CURED"
BY SKODA'S Ointment and Discovery.

LEWISTON, ME.
GENTS—I wish to inform the suffering through you that SKODA'S GERMAN OINTMENT and SKODA'S DISCOVERY will cure the worst SKIN DISEASE to BETTER be found. This I think a true statement of my own case, will convince the most skeptical. For some eight years I have had a terrible skin disease from which I have suffered untold misery. I have tried Physicians of repute and about all the so-called "skin cures," but the result was failure. My body was covered with white scales, it itched intensely, and when I would rub or scratch the scales off, a burning sensation such as only those afflicted as I was may know, tormented me.

My skin was so dry that my elbows, fingers, hands, etc., would crack open so badly that they would bleed freely. My scalp was so that I could not comb my hair, and had to keep it clipped close to my head.

I have now used a half dozen bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and about eight times SKODA'S COLD CURE. My skin is soft as an infant's, instead of scurfed. I have sweet sleep at night, and a good head of hair.

World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893.

THE Government of the Dominion of Canada has been appointed to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago from 1st May to 31st October, 1893. As it is important that a very full display of Canadian products be made on that occasion, a general invitation is extended to Canadian producers and manufacturers in agriculture, horticulture, manufactures, arts and crafts, etc., to bring together such a display of the natural resources and industrial products of Canada as will be a credit to the country.

An Executive Commissioner for Canada has been appointed, who will have the general charge of the exhibits and the management of the same, and the several Provincial Governments have been invited to co-operate with the view of making the exhibition as complete and satisfactory as possible.

The Dominion Government will pay the transport of exhibits going and returning, and for the printing of articles sent.

Exhibitors must be made not later than 31st July. The responsibility of articles at the Exhibition building will terminate 1st November, 1893, and all exhibits must be in place by 1st April, 1893.

Forms of application for space and general information can be obtained on applying by letter, post or in person, to the undersigned.
