

MR. AND MRS. A. W. JUDSON

Popular Young Couple Will Reside In Mt. Hope

A very pretty autumn wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ross, Executive Head of the bride, on October 30, 1957, when Miss Kathleen Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Livingston, (son and daughter-in-law of W. J. Judson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Judson, Mt. Hope, were united in marriage by the Rev. Rowland Ham.

The bride wore a ballerina-length dress of white nylon net and tulle. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a tiara of sequins and pearls. She carried a nosegay of red and white carnations.

ELLEN'S DIARY

James—Bless Him! Had Flu Along With Ellen

We heard the farming continue today as though from another world—a remote, faraway place to which only echoes reached. A Martinian spot, perhaps, if on that planet there was a slow-slung farmhouse and with a momentary check-room tucked up quietly beneath the eaves.

"Aye, that's a good lad!" "Bought ewes! James, echon at brightening. Oh, yes, those we talked about."

"Yes, Got them home?" "Not bad, Dad says."

"Good teeth, at any rate," the youngster chuckled. "Oh, I'm not feeling too badly. James commended. 'I'm not really sick at heart' you know."

"I guess I'll see them myself in the morning. James was definitely improved in health. A few more days and he'll be back to his usual round."

"I guess I'll see them myself in the morning. James was definitely improved in health. A few more days and he'll be back to his usual round."

"Everything's done," Mack came by in the evening to present his report on the work.

"Did the old mare and foal come down from the field, James asked."

"Yes, I brought them down."

"Dance Teachers Are Annoyed"

LONDON (AP)—A dancing teachers' organization complained Monday that Princess Margaret's approval of rock 'n' roll has brought a blight to its business.

The organization says anyone can learn to rock after brief practice but it takes study to learn the quick step, fox trot, waltz and tango.

Newspaper pictures in recent months have shown Princess Margaret smiling and tapping her foot in time to the beat as she watched rock 'n' rollers bounce around in London parties.

The Midlands Association of Teachers of Dancing said business in dancing schools has declined 75 per cent compared with last year.

National Night Observed By Ch'town B.P.W. Club

National Night was celebrated by the Charlottetown Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular meeting on Monday evening. At this time the national president's message was read by the president, Mrs. L. phigenie Arsenault.

During the evening, the members of the Charlottetown Club attended the Nova Scotia Conference in Yarmouth.

The club welcomed three new members — Miss Ida Mackay of Mount Stewart, Miss Helen Crosby and Miss Laura Crosby.

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate family was held at the home of the groom. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom.

For travelling the bride chose a tailored suit of light grey wool lined with turquoise accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. The honeymoon was spent touring Nova Scotia, Mr. and Mrs. Burhoe will reside at 206 Fitzroy St. in Charlottetown.

The chairman of the programme committee, Miss Frances Simmons and her committee, Mrs. Hilda Harper, Rosa Bell, Edith Sutherland, Kay Sutherland, Emma Whelan and Lily Dewar presented a most interesting programme. Miss Lena MacLaine, guest speaker, gave a delightful picture of events in Ottawa during the Queen's recent visit.

The Charlottetown Club has adopted a little girl under the name of a successful business woman. The sale of the regular meeting helped well the fund for this purpose.
