"Yes, John, I certainly will. I've been there before, and can guarantee a good time."

PHRENOLOGY.—Don't fail to attend Mrs. Ellis opening lecture at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday night, for judging from the testimonials received in other cities, the lecture-going people of Charlottetown may anticipate a rare treat in these lectures. The following are a few extracts from the many testimonials received.

The Evening Mail, (Halifax): Mrs. Ellis's lectures are clear and logical, showing that Phrenology has a firm basis in anatomy and physiology, and that she is well versed in all these sciences.

Washington Tribune: No one can attend her lectures without being benefitted thereby.

The Enterprise (New Glasgow, N. S.): One of the cleverest and most earnest exponents now living of the interesting science of Phrenology.

Pictou (N. S.) Advocate: Mrs. Ellis is a highly talented lady and an excellent speaker. Her ability as a Phrenologist is unquestionable.

PERSONAL.

J. T. Flannigan, Cardigan Bridge, is in the city. He is registered at the Queen Hotel.

D. M. Ferguson and T. C. Johnson, registered at the Hotel Davies this forenoon.

Today W. C. White, Esq., Registrar of Deeds, went on a visit to his old home at Montague. His father, the veteran shipbuilder who built and loaded so many ships, and who resides at Montague, is still hearty and vigorous, although upwards of 80 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, while visiting Copenhagen, were visited on board their steamer, by the King and Queen of Denmark. Their Majesties were accompanied by the Crown Prince and Crown Princess the Danish Prime Minister and the British Ambassadar. At a banquet which was given on board the steamer, the King offered a toast in honor of Queen Victoria, and Mr. Gladstone toasted the Queen of Denmark. In offering the toast, Mr. Gladstone dwelt upon the kindred affection existing between the Royal families of England and Denmark, and said that the Princess of Wales, by qualities of heart and character, had earned the unfailing esteem and affection of the British people. After Mr. Gladstone had concluded his remarks, the King warmly shook him by the hand across the table and rising briefly toasted the ex-premier and his wife. Mr. Gladstone responded at some length, making court'y reference to the Czar and other relatives of the Danish Royal family, and expressing wishes for the health and happiness of their Majesties and the prosperity of their country.

CONVENT DE NOTRE DAME.

THE graduating exercises at the Notre Dame Convent attracted a large audience to that institution last evening. The spacious hall of the Convent was thronged with people, and the choice and varied programme prepared was presented in a manner that was in the highest degree praiseworthy, reflecting credit alike upon the young ladies who took part and the good sisters from whom they received their instruction. The concert room was prettily decorated, and the pupils were appropriately arranged on the stage.

Promptly at eight o'clock the curtain was drawn and the performance began, the opening number being a grand overture for pianos, harp and mandolins. The rendition was excellent, and the applause generous. The other musical selections were also well played, bearing testimony to the excellence of the instruction imparted in the convent.

"Tiptoe," a play by the junior pupils, was well presented, the leading parts being cleverly sustained by Misses M. Gorman, Ida Byrne, A. McDonald and M. Ryan. The senior pupils, in the allegorical drama "The Voyage of Life," gave a splendid impersonation. The characters were taken by Misses Gertrude McEachen, C. Kelly, M. A. Clerkin, M. Byrne, M. McDonald, G. Bolger, B. McPhee, G. Gillis, and F. Blake.

Addresses of welcome to His Lordship the Bishop and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor were read by Misses Bessie McPhee and Nellie McDonald. Miss M. Oliver read an essay entitled "Blessings Brighten as They Take Their Flight." Miss M Macdonald was the valedictorian. All the papers were well written, exceedingly interesting, and read in good form.

A most pleasing feature of the entertainment was the calisthenic exercises—ring drill and parade—by the pupils. It was cleverly performed, the various movements being greeted with applause. Several excellent choruses were also rendered during the evening.

The distribution of medals and wreaths of excellence was a feature of especial interest to the parents and friends of the pupils. As each of the successful pupils came forward to receive her reward she was greeted with applause. Graduating honors were conferred on Misses M Macdonald, M Oliver and M L Delisle. The prize list will be found elsewhere in to-day's issue.

After interesting addresses by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and His Lordship Bishop Macdonald, a most successful entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

After midnight another session was held and the following High Standing Committee appointed: Chaplain, H Nelson, Montague; H S W, J E Birch Alberton; H J W, R B Auld, Freetown; H S B, W E Poole, Georgetown; H J B, Dr Dougherty, Cape Traverse; H J S, D P McNutt, Malpeque; H Marshall, W H Prowse, Murray Harbor; H C, R H McDonald, St Eleanors; H Messenger, C W Kielly, Stanley Bridge.
