THE DAILY EXAMINER

AUGUST 26, 1899.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The publication by L'Impartial of the correspondence between Mr. Buote and Mr. McCarthy, leaves no alternative but the publication of Mr. McCarthy's last letter to THE EXAMINER. This completes the series of two letters each. It will, of course, appear in L'Impartial. So far as THE EXAMINER is concerned the correspondence is now closed.

The Cape Breton Advocate comes out under new ownership and management upon the following platform:

"In politics the Cape Breton Advocate will give a hearty support to the Liberal Conservative party and policy, because the policy of that party has not only made the whole country prosperous, but has in an especial sense created the coal industry and rendered possible the establishment of the projected iron and steel works and all that they imply."

A correspondent at Ottawa states that "it has all along been conceded that nothing will be determined upon until Mr. Tarte has personally sized up the situation. He will be back in plenty of time to take the measure of his party's chances in an appeal to the country. The Montreal Star remarks:

"The truth, probably, is that the Government itself does not know with certainty whether the present Parliament will see another session or not. The general impression seems to be that the Liberal leaders are much divided on the question. The private members are, as they generally are, in favor of another session and another sessional indemnity, especially a large proportion of the Ontario Liberal members, who see little hope of ever getting back again. Mr. Blair is said to favor an immediate appeal to the people, and the other ministers are too panicky to be very certain what they want. Most likely nothing will be decided until the return from Paris of the Master of the Administration."

Yes, it may be taken for granted that nothing will be done about a general election until after Mr. Tarte comes home. In the meantime, Pacaud will be placated.

There are increasing indications that public opinion in the States is turning against the administration on the Philippine war. President Hadley, of Yale, says in the University Review:

"We bought Spain's equity in the islands, stepped into her shoes, and demand the submission of the people. When they resisted a war of conquest began and has now continued six months. What have we accomplished so far? We hold a few ports and regions in their immediate vicinity. In no direction from Manila do we control more territory than could be covered in a day's bicycle ride. It is becoming clear day by day to an increasing number of our people, despite the mists of cant that have been studiously thrown about our position, that we have undertaken just what Spain had on her hands in Cuba—the reduction of an unwilling people to subjection. Our policy has thus far failed, and it will continue to fail unless prosecuted with a strength and ruthlessness for which we are not ready."

If the Philippine war were popular in the States such languages as this would not be tolerated there.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES

St. John Sun: "The growing time has reached Nova Scotia all right," says a valued grit contemporary. The saying is true. The policy of protective coal duties and of protective iron bounties, denounced by the ministers now in power, and yet retained by them, makes a growing time at Sydney.

Montreal Gazette: Mr Ernest Pacaud is spoken of as a probable candidate for Lotbiniere, which the retirement of Dr. Rinfret has made vacant. Mr Pacaud is a typical Liberal, who has done much and suffered much for his party. His presence in Parliament as an exponent of its principles would make the exhibit of Liberalism complete.

Rose Valley Notes.

It may not be uninteresting to some of your readers to learn that the highest point of land in P. E. I-land is in Rose Valley and not far distant from the site occupied by the Presbyterian church here. This fact was established by a competent civil engineer of the name of Curtis. This eminence commands a magnificent view of the surrounding country for miles, and Summerside harbor, distant about 20 miles, appears quite near. The water of the harbor, which looks like a large sheet of silver, seems to be almost on a level with the spectator's eye, an effect no doubt produced by refraction. I do not know the altitude of the point referred to, but I should judge it to be about 400 feet. Tea Hill, in point of height, ranks a fairly good second, I should imagine. According to the late Mr. Bain, the geological formation is the Triassic (otherwise known as the New Red Sandstone) all through this and adjoining sections of the western part of Queen's County.

Mr. Allan McDougall, our genial and enterprising blacksmith, is at work with hammer and tongs; "each morning sees some task begin each evening sees its close."

Mr. William McIntosh has just erected a barn of vast proportions. He had ten men employed in building it for some time. It is one of the most magnificent structures I have seen.

The carpentry interests of the place are efficiently looked after by that ingenious and industrious mechanic to Mr. John Stewart. He has had a larger number of contracts this summer than usual. He has completely remodelled his own residence and Mrs. Grundy infers various theories therefrom, one deduction being that he is to join the ranks of the Benedictines.

A new branch of industry is shortly to be introduced here by Mr. Murdock McDonald. He is establishing a tannery here. The building is on a fair way to completion. This will be a valuable addition and a great convenience to this and adjoining places.

Rev. D. MacLean preached last Wednesday evening in Rose Valley. His sermon was characterized by his usual eloquence, force and pathos. He is one of the ablest pulpit orators in the province by common consent of most who have had the pleasure of listening to him.

I detected three typographical errors in my last communication, which marred considerably the general beauty of that literary gem. If the printer is to take liberties with my copy, I trust it will be to improve it and not to destroy it.

OBSERVER.

A British officer recently returned from Manila states that until the Americans completely remodel the whole of their Philippine organization and administration the resistance of the islands may go to the Greek Islands.

MR. BUOTE'S COMPLAINT.

SIR,—That disappointed individual, Mr. F. J. Buote, has, I see, another letter in your paper of the 19th inst.

Having failed in his attack on the Con- venger, he now desires to make it appear that the Conservative party in this district is split up into factions. His statement in this regard is not correct, as was proved at the last election. The party here is strong and united, and with the exception of a little wriggling by the small clique, to which he belongs, the great- est unanimity prevails. Not satisfied with his silly attack upon the convenger for the district, he now charges me with not having voted for him in 1898 after being chosen, as he claims, by 38 out of 54 delegates attending the convention. We who attended that meeting know Mr. Buote secured the nomination, and he should be ashamed to refer to it now. He refused to allow his name to go before the convention unless the candidates were confined to a certain class, thereby disgusting all right thinking and independent men. His candidature was forced upon the convention by himself and a few other would-be dictators, and he knows the result. The messes taken by him and a few more, coupled with his unpopularity gave a victory to Mr. Gallant which he could not have gained under any other circumstances.

That election is a sore spot with Mr. Buote, but he might have withheld his slang about "Kickers and unlucky numbers."

The Conservatives who did not vote for him on that occasion had good reasons for doing so, and Mr. Pineau's splendid victory last month shows that Mr. Buote is the person who carries the "unlucky number." He says he is pleased with Mr. Pineau's success and that he voted for him which was all he could do. True Mr. Buote's vote counted one, and to that extent he helped the Conservative candidate. That was as much as was expected from Mr. Buote's record as a Conservative and a great many were doubtful as to whether he would vote for Mr. Pineau. But is it possible that he, an ex-candidate, could do nothing more than vote. He certainly could do more if he tried, and thus help along the good cause that he looks upon as being the salvation of the taxpayers of the Province.

But Mr. Buote did not. He simply polled his vote, returned home, and immediately set to work abusing the Convenger who not only voted but also lost time and money preparing, in accordance with his instructions, the Conservative party for the contest.

Mr. Buote says if I wish to cripple the Conservative party in this district I will go on praising the Convenger to the detriment of others. I deny praising the Convenger to the detriment of any man; and if he were deserving of praise he would receive it from me also. But the time may come when he will deserve praise and then he will find me prepared to do him justice. At present those who know him have only pity for his extraordinary conduct. Those who do not know him, will undoubtedly mingle a large share of contempt with the pity. Letters of the kind he writes are no benefit to himself or the party, and he must be a thoughtless man not to see it. It is clear to all that he cannot continue in his present course long, and if he should persist in doing so he will shortly find himself landed on that pile of waste material cast off by the Liberal Conservative party in recent years.

Yours Faithfully,

D. P. MCCARTHY,

CIVIC NEGLECT.

SIR,—"Taxpayer" in the Guardian points to one item of neglect. At the corner of Malpeque road and Euston street a ten foot space is left by the trench-diggers for teams to pass. In this space one of the city's familiar danger signals is stuck into a horse trap. It has been there several days and so far has not been discovered by the city engineer.
