A series of unpredictable mishaps dogged the landing parties and though the raid succeeded—at heavy cost—in testing German strength, the death toll was higher than anticipated. Only a few tanks got ashore to support hard-pressed infantry and no artillery reached the beaches.

The entire force withdrew when German reinforcements were rushed to the scene. But Dieppe never forgot the heroism of the troops. Her residents have a special place in their hearts for victorious Canadians who finally liberated the port Sept. 1, 1944.

Claim Tea-Making Lost Art In Britain

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Have tea-drinking Britons lost the art of making tea? The world's big tea producers think so and are worried about it.

They claim a dozen years of rotating ways to prevent this situation. They say of British tea-making. They say a whole generation of Britons have never had a decent cup of tea.

The main trouble, a survey showed, is that British mothers don't use enough tea, nor do they brew it properly. Some don't even use a pot but dip tea bags into cups of hot water—anathema of old-style tea drinkers.

To put things right, the tea kings have launched a campaign to bring Britain back to the right way of making tea.

It seemed apparent that a population of 14,000,000, with its working force of 5,000,000, would not be able to meet both this expansion and the defence program.

16 Cases Of Polio Reported Since Jan. 1st

A total of 16 cases of poliomyelitis have been reported in this Province so far this year, but Dr. O. H. Curtis, Chief Health Officer, stated that most of them were very mild. There was one death early in the year.

The great majority of the cases so far have been in the western and eastern parts of Prince Edward Island with only two cases in Queen's County. The total is said to be about the same as last year. Though it is higher than other years prior to 1951 this is felt to be due to better reporting of cases by physicians. Now they are more inclined to report all cases which resemble polio.

Sister Of Canadian Minister Named In Visa Fraud

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The United States Justice Department today made a second arrest in an alleged Canadian visa fraud and said the sister of one of the Dominion's top officials is involved.

She was named as Mrs. Alene Steigerwald, said by the department to be also known as Mrs. N. Wald of Windsor, Ont. Her brother, Paul Martin, is Canada's minister of Public Health and Welfare.

Mrs. Steigerwald's alleged involvement was disclosed with the arrest at Detroit this morning of Lawrence MacKinnon of Windsor, who was charged with entering this country on a visa obtained through fraud.

MacKinnon works in Detroit and commutes to his home across the border. Attorney-General James McGranery said in a statement that "the MacKinnon case involves Mrs. Steigerwald."

Department officials asserted she has been a visa adviser at Windsor. Such advisers made a regular business of counselling persons seeking border-crossing permits and in expediting such permits. The business itself is legal.

Mrs. Steigerwald was not immediately available for comment at Windsor.

Minister Distressed

However, Martin said that he was "deeply distressed" about the Washington announcement concerning his sister.

He said he had, more than a year ago, asked the U. S. consulate at Windsor to take "strong measures" against her use of his name in connection with visa applications.

"At any rate, I feel that I have done my best to prevent this situation from arising," he commented. The Justice Department said, in response to an inquiry, that it has no jurisdiction over any activity in which Mrs. Steigerwald may have engaged inside her own country, and that there is no evidence she was ever in this country in connection with the handling of visa matters.

McGranery disclosed 10 days ago that a year's investigation had established a denotation hearing in Detroit had obtained their visas for crossing the border through misrepresentations to the U. S. consul at Windsor concerning their financial situation.

Immigration regulations require such persons to establish proof they will not become public charges after arrival in the United States.

Bulletin Warns Against Blight

Recent rains, showery weather and heavy dews have made conditions favorable for the development and spread of potato late blight, states the Weekly Potato Bulletin. The spray schedule should be maintained and advantage taken of fine days for making applications.

Aphids are very abundant especially in fields which were planted early. In some cases they are causing severe damage to the plants. DDT 25% emulsion, 1 quart to 100 gallons of spray every 10 days will give good control. A number of growers have been inquiring about using nicotine sulphate (blackleaf 40) for controlling aphids but this is not recommended for potatoes.

Beetles, Colorado beetle larvae and tarnished plant bugs are also numerous and are causing considerable damage. The DDT as recommended for aphids will also control these insects.

Opening Play For Little Theatre Guild

"Pig in a Poke," a play written by a well-known Canadian author, Catherine Brickenden, who has several times visited this Province as the guest of Premier and Mrs. Jones, is to be the opening production of the Little Theatre Guild. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Little Theatre executive held last night. Mrs. E. S. Giddings and Mr. Arthur MacLean will be the co-directors of this production, which is scheduled for presentation early in October.

Mrs. Morton Dew, chairman of the casting committee, reported that the play "Eros at Breakfast" by Robertson Davies has been cast. $100,000 Reached In Dairy Farmers Fund

TORONTO, Aug. 20 —The first $100,000 mark has been reached in the Dairy Farmers of Canada's 1952 June Advertising Set-Aside, according to an announcement here today from the national headquarters of the organization.

Records are now being received at a faster pace and officials are optimistic that, despite the depressed condition of some sections of the industry, this year's total will exceed last year's $304,000. Finalization of the 1951 Set-aside returns shows that Alberta was the only province to set-aside a full 100-per cent of its possible total. It is expected that Alberta will equal last year's record and that other western provinces will show an increase this year. It is anticipated that the set-aside from the cheese section of the industry will be down this year, due to the number of plants not operating and the depressed state of the cheese industry. However, officials are encouraged by the number of cheese plants which, despite conditions, are making set-aside returns.

Well Known Sportsman To Leave Island

Jackie Kane, well known athlete and City sportsman has entered the employ of a mainland construction company and will leave the Province this morning for Saint John from where he will later be transferred to St. Anthony in Newfoundland.

An electrician, Kane has been working with the Good Electric Company of Charlottetown. He will work as an electrician with the mainland company in Newfoundland.

A native of Ontario, Jackie came to Charlottetown as a 20-year-old hockey player back in the middle thirties to play with the Abegweit in the Old Big Four.

A small but shifty centremen Jack made up in speed what he lacked in weight and he turned out to be one of the leading goal scorers in the Big Four. He was later offered a contract with the Toronto Maple Leafs but never played pro hockey.

Following his playing days Jack took to coaching and guided Saint Dunstan's University to their only Maritime Intercollegiate Hockey Championship back in 1947. The next year he brought the Saints to the Maritime finals.

For the past several seasons he has been coaching Abegweit Intermediate, junior and juvenile teams.

In the summer months Jack has been giving baseball a hand with his umpiring and base judging duties. He called the balls and strikes in the Sunday game here between the Junior Abbies and Curran and Briggs Juniors.

His company's contract in Newfoundland calls for a two-year job and Jackie expects to be away at least six months before returning to the Province. We join with sports fans throughout the Province in wishing him the best.
