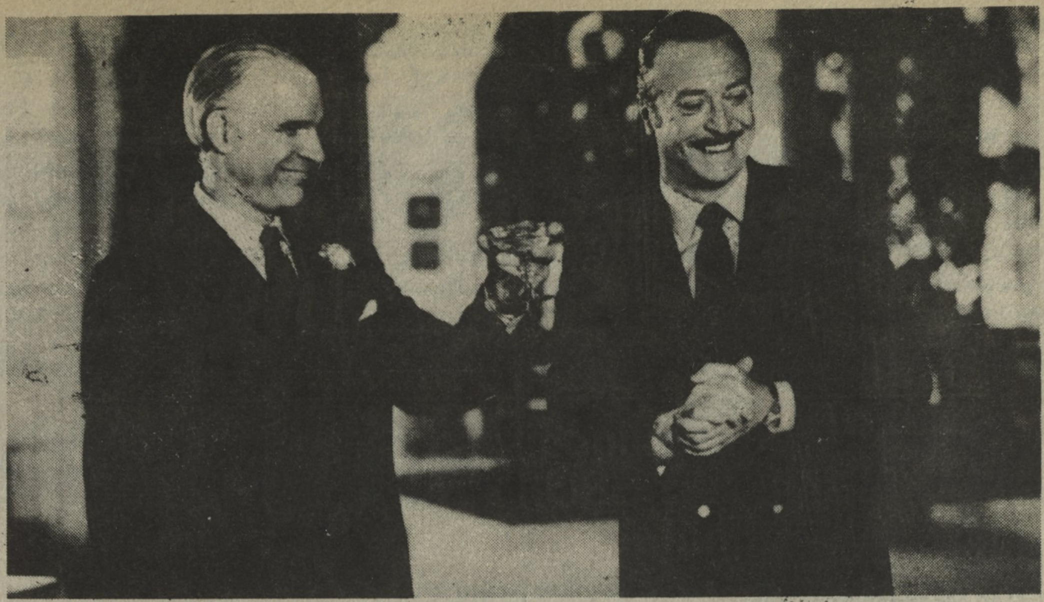
Call for Committee Members

The Student Union needs five interested students (three of whom must be freshman or sophmore students) to sit on a newly struck committee. This committee will examine the impact of the 1991 Winter Games on the university and address any concerns or problems (ie. residence building access during games) arising from the Games question. If you are interested, please leave your name at the Barn.



Steve Martin and Michael Caine yuk it up in Dirty Rotten Scoundrels

'Dirty Rotten Scoundrels"

★ ★ ★

By: Missy Brennan

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels

Playing at the Prince Edward Cinemas

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels, the latest film directed by Frank Oz, stars Steve Martin and Michael Caine. Caine plays a sophisticated, charming, and very rich con-man, while Martin plays the unsophisticated and not-so-wealthy con-man. Caine and Martin meet on a train while travelling in Europe; both were about their usual business of conning somewhat naive, albeit rich, ladies. Martin is travelling to a small town in Zurich, to try to con some wealthy women. It so happens that Caine also has the same thing in mind. They both end up in the same town, and realize that there is only room enough for one. Caine takes Martin in and teaches him everything there is to know about charm and class, only to try to coerce him to leave. Together they are a sensational team, easily preying on the wealthy women with their wonderful rich and nasty lines. They then decide to make a bet to see who will remain. It is decided that the first person to extract 50 thousand dollars from a wealthy American soap Queen will be given full rights to the territory. In competing for the rights to con, they engage in some rather humorous "suave and sophisticated" comedy. The ending, of course, we leave for you to see (perhaps the ending will even con you – it's a rather interesting twist!).

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels is one of the better films I've seen in a while, but I believe it could have been much funnier if they had allowed Martin to play the hilarious actor that he is. Don't get me wrong, there were a number of really funny parts, but Dirty Rotten Scoundrels had the potential to be a much bigger comedy success.

★ ★

The Week Ahead At The PANTHER LOUNGE

THE BEST LINE ALWAYS WINS

Friday Feb 3rd @ 5:30 Rocky Horror Picture Show. 2nd Floor Wet/Dry!!

FRIDAY	FRIDAY NIGHT	SATURDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY
Movies 1. Die Hard 2. The Great Outdoors Movies start @ 1:30 for this week only.	Campus Comedy!! Come chase a Moose & Laugh!	Back by Popular Demand Crazy Hour 9:30–11:00	CFS Student Saver Don't leave home without IT.	BLOW OUT & Modern Languages Pool Tournament	Put a Moose in your hand.	The 6 to 9'er & Somebody's having a Pub!!

Friday Feb 3rd @ 9:30 Campus Comedy!! Get Your Act Together.