

— our comment —

It would, we assume, be only proper to comment on the state of the union (student union, of course) so to keep things proper...the union, or rather, council is going through a bit of turmoil. (That wasn't meant to be an understatement). Why? Not too many people are aware of exactly what they are supposed to be doing, meetings are composed of trivial details that unfortunately do have to be dealt with, there seems to be a good deal of back-biting and not enough of the necessary co-operative spirit, and people really are primarily full-time students. Maybe it would be a good thing if council did fold (You have heard the rumour?) Maybe nothing is being accomplished. Maybe nothing can be accomplished. We, however, are OPTIMISTIC! (We are also nuts.) Student Union can be an important body, it can, with a little input from the entire student body.. Let's just remember that this will be the first successful general meeting in the history of U.P.E.I. and that before people can work effectively they must feel that their efforts are being appreciated On to matters of even greater consequence... our executive has decided that The Cadre's name has Communistic overtones and therefore must go??? According to the dictionary Cadre means, "a framework" or "nucleus". Hardly Communistic in our opinion. Besides it seems only proper that those working on a paper should be able to call it whatever the Hell they feel like calling it and we love The Cadre!

Communications problems

Dear Cadre,

In answer to "Concerned for Free but Equal Speech", myself and Chuck DesRoche decided to hold an open live show on Tuesday, Nov. 17th at 6 p.m.

I was not acting as an impartial broadcaster, but as a concerned councilor on the issues pertaining to Student Union. We were attempting to find out from the students the problems they would like to see solved by Student Council. From many answers arose the word Communication. Some suggested a meeting between the Executive of the Student Council and the Councilor themselves, to set down the exact duties pertaining to all members of Student Council. Another important solution derived from the callers, was for Student Councilors to reach out and communicate to their fellow students on a personal basis. The Communications Officer was asked to call CIMN in regards to these problems. It was then learned that Elisabeth Burke was out of the province.

Nothing was said against her in anyway shape or form. I do not say things behind people's backs. The general consensus of many is that there is a terrible lack of communication between the student body and Student Council.

Many councilors do not even know what is going on in Student Union Affairs, (although this is in many cases the Councilors own faults).

The show was for the purpose of solving a few problems. Chuck and I learned what some of these problems were.

I myself have several ideas to overcome some of the communications problems between the Student Body and Council, which I hope can be acted upon by Council if we are still in effect after December 2nd.

I remind all students to be at the Duffy Amphitheatre on December 2, at 1:00 p.m., if they do indeed want a Student Union.

Sincerely,
Cheryl R. Cannon
Senate Representative

general meeting

Dear Cadre,

This is a letter directed to a elected councilor of the Student Union from someone interested enough to read the "comments". Once again the subject up for popular discussion was the general meeting and the lack of attendance there of.

It is indeed interesting to note that the council which is criticizing our attendance was itself a remnant of our esteem representatives. It seems if our dually elected councilors were truly interested in the support they should receive, they would have been in better array. Although there was some fruitful discussion it lacked new input and ideas.

It is becoming unceasingly obvious that a majority of the students attending this humble institution are not interested in upgrading their interest and involvement. Academics are only a part of the learning process at this university.

It was the students who voted them into office to attend to our affairs. It is now up to us to determine what these affairs should be. As the situation now exists, it is quite obvious if we don't do it, it won't get done.

So, see you Dec. too (2)
