Advisory Council Receives Report On Alcohol Studies

A good representation of interested associations was present at the Charlottetown Hotel last night for the annual meeting of Provincial Alcohol Studies Advisory Council.

A.K. Ellinwood, New York, noted author, lecturer and counsellor on alcoholism was the special guest speaker. He also led a discussion and question period following the meeting.

Attending the meeting were representatives from: the teachers federation, Alcoholics Anonymous, social welfare agencies, ministerial association, the Temperance Federation, RCMP, private citizens, physical education, Allied Youth, and the Public Health Association.

David M. Boswell, director of the advisory council, gave the annual report on the Division of Alcohol Studies in which he outlined the past very successful year. Brief remarks were also given concerning other provincial programs and the program for the coming year.

Mrs. Helen MacDonald gave a special report on the new television program "Challenge."

Fire Damages Vacant House; Two Others Are Destroyed

Five fires were reported in the Charlottetown area last night, the most serious being in a vacant apartment house belonging to Hon. David Stewart at the corner of Kent and Pownal streets, opposite the Charlottetown Hotel.

The latter broke out around 10 p.m. and the interior was badly damaged by smoke. The fire was between the walls and was confined mainly to the back of the building and the upper stories.

Charlottetown firemen were able to get the blaze under control before flames actually broke out, but smoke billowed from the building for about an hour. The building was part of the old Gill property.

Two other abandoned buildings were destroyed last night, one in Harrington and the other on the York Road at the Old Mill Road bridge. The forestry fire department extinguished the first fire and the second was attended by the Sherwood fire department.

During the afternoon there were two minor fires in Charlottetown and both were extinguished without much damage.

One was at 222 Dorchester Street and the other was at 29 DesBrisay Crescent.

Clinics For Alcoholics Are Urged By Speaker

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

Keith Ellinwood, Rochester, N.Y., addressed a group of Alberton citizens at an informal gathering Wednesday evening.

Rev. David MacDonald called upon David Boswell, director of physical fitness and alcohol studies for the province, to introduce Mr. Ellinwood who is a noted counsellor on alcoholism.

The main purpose of his address was to transmit a greater understanding of the alcoholic whom, in answer to a question, he defined as one who is harmfully dependent on alcohol, and what may be done to help the one who is addicted to its use.

He stressed the need for clinics where alcoholics who recognize their need of help may receive proper treatment over a period of several months. Understanding doctors and nurses are needed to staff such clinics, he said.

After treatment the patient must be helped to attain and maintain a happy sobriety and he suggested that Alcoholics Anonymous offers the best program of this type. He also pointed out that the recovered alcoholic needs a job and that he usually makes a better than average employee.

As reasons for the increase in drinking he suggested that sometimes men drink to escape their own conscience when in troubles them concerning the things they are compeled to do in order to succeed in business and industry, and to the fact that so many people are trying to live two different types of life at the same time.

As an illustration he said that in business a man is involved in competitiveness, aggression and scepticism. Then, at home in the evening he tries to substitute for these their opposites, cooperation, loving kindness and trust.

He deplored that drinking is made to appear so desirable in advertising and stated that adults should set an example for teenagers. He suggested that Allied Youth gives the young person a chance to develop wholesome recreational and social activities without alcohol.

Two-Year Prison Term Given Parolee In S'side

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

A Summerside resident, out on parole from Dorchester penitentiary since August of this year, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Magistrate W. Chester S. MacDonald in Prince County magistrate's court yesterday.

Joseph Walter Eric Gallant, senetnced to serve two years in Dorchester in June, 1962, for uttering forged documents and released on parole this August, drew two years yesterday for having unlawful possession of two bicycles valued in excess of $50.

A second Summerside man, Wendell Francis Grady, 18, appearing on a similar charge, was remanded for sentencing to Nov. 7 following a change of plea from not guilty to guilty.

Both Grady and Gallant were arrested Sunday, Oct. 20 by a police dragnet following two store breaks at Mont Carmel. The two accused were riding the bicycles on the Linkletter Road when picked up. Both bikes were reported stolen from a garage in St. Nicholas.

In pleading the case for Grady, lawyer J. Melville Campbell presented a fine and said the accused didn't smoke or play cards and these were the only activities in Prince County jail. He said that the jail was not conducive to rehabilitation and felt the youth wasn't beyond the point of rehabilitation.

Crown Prosecutor George McMahon asked for a substantial jail term and said he would have asked for a term in penitentiary only he felt there might be a chance of rehabilitation. He noted that the accused was already serving a one-year suspended sentence.

A man was fined $5 and costs for failing to halt at a stop sign. For passing another vehicle along a solid white line another was fined $10 and costs. A third man was fined $10 and costs for having an unlawfully parked vehicle on the highway.

For not having proper lights on his vehicle a Park Corner resident, Robert MacLeod Montgomery, pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. He pleaded not guilty to a second charge of operating a vehicle powered by marked gas and the case was adjourned until Nov. 21.

Charged with being in possession of liquor not purchased on his individual permit, the case was adjourned to Nov. 21.

Another accused was fined $20 and costs for being in possession of liquor without a permit.

John Joseph Morrison, Summerside, was fined $10 and costs for speeding.

New London Anglican Parish Forms Gospel Partnership

KENSINGTON — To get all the people who call themselves Anglicans totally committed to the worship and work of the church is the purpose of the partnership in the gospel program now under way in New London parish as well as some other parishes throughout the Diocese of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Rev. Canon S.J. Davies of Halifax met with the executive and general committee at St. Mark's Hall, Kensington, Wednesday evening and presented the urgent need to bring the indifferent Anglicans into a closer relationship with Christ and His church. He also introduced the method by which this may be accomplished.

He asked that the key members of the parish, who were represented by the group of approximately 35 attending this meeting, take a greater participation in the partnership in the gospel, as envisioned by the Apostle Paul.

Canon Davies stressed that the program can only be effective if carried out with love, consideration and kindness.

Following a period of Bible study, a film strip was shown by Rev. E.J. Flander, rector of the parish. The film white picturing a portion of the work being done by the church, showed the need for much greater efforts by Christians who were commanded to "go into all the world and preach the gospel".

Canon Davies pointed out that "all the world" includes very definitely the people "who live in your own home and also your neighbours and associates".

A second general committee meeting will be held next Thursday.

Bridge Fire Is Quelled At St. Peters

ST. PETERS—The St. Peters Bay bridge nearly caught fire last night as the result of a Hollowe'en prank.

A large pile of straw was ignited in the middle of the bridge and threatened to spread to the wooden planking for a time until the St. Peters fire department arrived on the scene.

At several points along the St. Peters Road motorists reported small barricades, however, no major damage was listed.

The Charlottetown RCMP reported a very quiet night, but there was the usual general mischief.

Several small fires were reported, however, and some fire crackers were put under seizure.

A few arrests were made.

Hallowe'en Is Quiet At Souris

SOURIS — This area experienced one of the quietest Hallowe'ens in many years last night although there were the usual pranks.

Several of the small bridges from the highway to houses were taken out and a large collection of mailboxes from surrounding districts appeared at Naufrage.

In the Selkirk area the common sight was of farm wagons on top of roofs, while at New Zealand there were some tires on fire in the road. In Elmira some hay was set ablaze on the highway.

On the more pleasant side of the Hallowe'en night, the Souris Lions Club held a party for the younger children at the St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Wind Blows Down Barns

TIGNISH — Some sections of the Tignish area were without electrical power until late Wednesday afternoon due to Hurricane Ginny.

A barn belonging to Roy Doucette, Skinners Pond, was blown down along with other barns down in the Sea Cow Pond area. Many large trees were uprooted around the village, but no great damage was reported.

Heavy seas and high waves, the worst reported in many years lashed the Tignish shore, but no damage was reported. Fishermen stood by their boats and added extra lines, until the storm subsided.

Flax Industry Prospects Good

By NEIL A MATHESON

In reference to the studies being carried out on the possibility of starting a flax producing and processing industry in the province, Agriculture Minister Andrew B. MacRae, stated "the prospects look awfully good."

Mr. MacRae further stated "they look almost too good to be true" declaring that the plan put forward by Zeger Salome Bedeque, requires more information before any decision can be reached on the request for government backing.

Mr. Salome told this paper a few days ago that the plant required to do the initial processing, and purchase the machinery for harvesting, would probably run to $50,000.

MARKET READY

Mr. Salome and Melis Visser, Gravendeel, Holland, said there is a market for all the flax the Island could produce, and Mr. Visser, manager of a large purchasing and processing firm in Holland, said he had tested samples of Island flax sent to him by Mr. Salome and found it to be "slightly better than anything produced in Europe."

A crop of flax would net the Island farmer $75 to $100 an acre and the only work entailed is preparing the land for seeding and sowing the seed. The purchaser has the harvesting machinery which pulls the flax — the linen producing fibres go down into the roots — so that the farmer has no further responsibility, it was explained.

The proposal is to process the plants to the stage where the linen yarn is produced, if the necessary financial backing is received.

Further equipment to produce the actual linen and the various byproducts would be installed later, as the industry develops, it was suggested.

Mr. Salome estimated the industry could bring up to $1,000,000 to the Island producers in a couple of years' time.
