Central Creamery. — The Central Creamery will re-open in the Welsh and Owen building on lower Queen Street, about 1st November. We understand that Mr. Dillon anticipates a larger business than last year. New Perth will also be a Central Station—Murray Harbor North, Murray Harbor South, and other places sending their cream and milk there. The separating stations which will send their cream to the factory in town are: Kensington, Hampton, Dunk River, Mount Stewart, Hillsboro, and probably Hazelbrook. Whole milk will be received from Marshfield, Cornwall, Winsloe, and other near by settlements. The output of butter per week will be very large. We trust that, after the splendid cheese season and the excellent fodder crops, farmers will rally to the support of this winter dairying movement which has been so successful so far and promises to be more so this season. Creamery butter is now quoted higher than it was last year and prospects are for a firm market.

A THING OF BEAUTY.

We have had the pleasure of seeing a very fine specimen of china painting by Miss Chisholm. This artistic piece of work is a punch bowl. The base on which it stands is of gold and bronze. The decoration on the bowl is a running design of chrysanthemums. The flowers are exquisitely painted, the colors being beautifully blended in different shades of pink and carmine. The leaves are painted in rich tints of moss and olive greens. Those in the background are painted in warm grey and deep blue green in delicate washes, while running all through the design is a delicate tracery of gold in raised paste. Inside the bowl is the following inscription in gold:—"Better cheer you may have, but not with better heart."

Miss Chisholm is an unassuming young lady who speaks very little of her work. In talking to her she informs us that she had instruction in raised paste from Dudley, of the Royal Worcester works, England. This fact alone will give an idea of the value of the work on the bowl. The punch bowl is now on exhibition in the window of Watson's Drug Store, and we would like all our readers to see it as it is seldom they have the privilege of seeing such an effective piece of china painting in this city.

A meeting of Montreal business men passed a resolution calling upon the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways to postpone enforcing their winter rates from November 2 to the close of navigation.

KID GLOVES.

Do you know that we show a very large range of Men's and Boys' Kid and Wool Gloves, and have all the leading and best makes in stock, marked at a very moderate advance on cost, that is on our cost, not what they cost competitors. Our gloves are bought direct from the manufacturers for spot cash.

Reefers and Overcoats.

There are so many reasons why we can supply anything in the clothing line cheaper than others, that it would be useless to attempt to explain them all on paper. However we will give you one or two. First, we buy in very large quantities; second, we buy all our clothing for spot cash; third we sell more clothing than any other house in the trade; fourth, we sell our clothing for spot cash; fifth, our clothing is marked to sell, not to make a fortune;—see the point?

MEDICAL ADVERTISING.

At the last meeting of the Medical Council the practice of publishing in the press so-called great cures and brilliant operations performed by certain medical men was considered and severely condemned by the Council. A committee composed of Drs. Johnson, McLeod and Taylor was appointed to embody in the form of resolutions the opinions and recommendation expressed by the Council. The following resolutions were adopted:—

Whereas, the practice of publishing in the press, whether with or without the connivance of the medical man, so-called great cures and brilliant operations, has become very common, which practice, besides being very disgraceful in itself, is dishonoring to the profession, and by its deceptive character is injurious to the public interests,—

Therefore Resolved, that the Medical Council, on behalf of the Medical Society, hereby expresses its strong disapproval of this practice, and henceforth will not consider the physician blameless, unless he can clearly demonstrate his non-complicity in such advertisements; also with a view to the interests of the public, which may be deceived and misled by exaggerated and ignorant statements; also with a view to the protection of honorable medical men who may be wrongly accused of complicity. It is also resolved that the press shall be respectfully asked to refuse insertion in their columns of detailed descriptions and comments on medical and surgical practice, unless such shall be signed by the medical men themselves."

It is thought that the assumption of the authorship by the medical man himself places the responsibility on the proper shoulders, and leaves him to be dealt with in the usual manner.

Mrs. Vincent, a middle-aged woman of Rome, Georgia, died recently of joy. A son, long absent and given up for dead, returned home without warning; and when his arrival was announced, she with a cry of joy arose to her feet, staggered forward and fell heavily to the ground and died instantly. The young man is almost wild with grief over the sad and tragic result of his homecoming.

SOURIS ITEMS.

About 4 p. m. on Saturday, a gale commenced from the south east. At the time only two or three vessels were in port, the American fishing fleet having been reported to have gone to Margaree, C. B. But about five o'clock the vessels commenced to come in sight and within an hour the whole of about thirty sail was safely anchored or moored inside the Breakwater. To see them rounding the Breakwater and running up to Knight's wharf and the Railway wharf was a grand sight, and the cheering on the wharf as each vessel arrived safely showed the brotherly feeling that exists among the fishermen, and their praise of the Souris Breakwater as affording them a harbor of shelter.

Special praise is due to Captains Hardy, Parsons, Campbell and Cuddy, for the way they handled their vessels. They arrived when the storm was at its height, and looking from the shore it seemed almost impossible for them to make their way through the fleet without doing damage; but to their credit, be it said, they brought their vessels safely through and moored them at the Railway wharf.

The block at the end of the Breakwater which was placed in position on Friday night by Mr. Smith, has received very little damage, as far as can be ascertained this morning. It was only partially ballasted. When this block is completed the harbor of Souris will be second to none on the Island as a harbor of refuge, and although Souris is charged with receiving so much money from the public chest for the construction and repair of this work, it is very evident that Souris alone does not receive the benefit of the breakwater, but all who are engaged in the fishing business whether American or Canadian, as it is in close proxmity to the fishing grounds and safe to approach at all times and in all kinds of weather.

LIQUOR AND A DEAD MAN.

An esteemed correspondent at Souris sends The Examiner the following additional particulars regarding an incident to which reference has already been made in these columns: The schooner Maggie Alice arrived at Souris on Friday (yesterday) morning. She had a rough passage on her last St. Pierre trip. Her captain and owner, James Lannigan, reports that on the return trip, when about fifty miles off St. Paul's Island, he came across a wrecked schooner on her beam ends and full of water. On going on board it was found that the wreck, on which no name was visible, had on board a quantity of liquor and tobacco and one dead man. Five barrels of liquor and five kegs of tobacco were taken on board the Maggie Alice and brought to Souris and handed over to the Collector of Customs. The liquor etc., was afterwards shipped on board the cars for Charlottetown where the Scott Act is supposed to be in force. The body of the dead man being much decomposed, was wrapped in canvass and buried at sea. The probability is that the remainder of the crew are drowned, but no traces of any bodies but the one could be found on or about the wreck.

PERSONAL.

Revs. J. A. Macdonald, Miscouche, and P. J. Hogan, Tracadie, are in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. B. McCready left this morning on a few days visit to friends in St. John.

Rev. G. M. Campbell and Mr. G. Frank Beer were passengers in the western train this morning en route to St. John.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Halifax, who is visiting his native province, preached an able sermon at High Mass in St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday.

Mrs. Mason, Georgetown, and Jas. Laird, New Glasgow, registered at the Queen Hotel this forenoon. H. M. McKay, Ottawa, registered on Saturday evening.

Mr. John F. Carter, of Summerside, who has been in the city during the past few days, left for home this afternoon.

Rev. Dr. Brecken arrived at Summerside in the Northumberland on Saturday evening, and preached at both services in the Methodist church there yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Morrison returned from his trip abroad on Saturday evening, looking well. During his absence from the province Dr. Morrison visited Montreal, Boston, New York and other leading cities of Canada and the United States.

A. C. Fife, of Trenton, has leased the Acadia Nursery, Pictou. As Mr. Fife's tastes run toward the beautiful in nature, we have no doubt but he will make a success of it.—New Glasgow Enterprise.

W. E. Louson, Montreal, and R. McHaffie, Hamilton, registered at the Hotel Davies this forenoon. The arrivals on Saturday evening included: R. W. Houston, Wm. C. Blundell, F. D. Scott and W. M. Scott, Montreal; D. B. Macdonald, St. John: J. W. J. Maguire, Quebec; Rev. H. Beers and wife, Georgetown.

We quote with great pleasure the following from The Enterprise of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia: "Miss Annie Hyndman sang a solo "Consider the Lilies," in St. Andrew's Church Sunday evening, her clear sweet voice charming all hearers. One excellent feature of her singing is her clear enunciation, a person being able to hear every word.

Mr. William Buckingham, who was removed from the position of Deputy Minister of the Interior in 1878 by Sir John Macdonald, has written to the press to say that he has not applied to be reinstated, nor has he written to any member of the Government except to say kind words for Deputy Ministers whose positions were threatened.

The New York Sunday Herald of Oct. 18th contains a graphic account and vivid picture of the Rev. Albert B. Simpson, who on that day thrilled an audience in New York city to such an extent that the meeting gave as a collection $122,000 The rev. gentleman said that God, not he, inspired the people to give that vast sum for foreign missions. "In the name of Him who shed his blood on Calvary for our salvation," he pleaded, "I present the bill from my Master's hand and call upon you to pay the debt." This remarkable man was born on P. E. Island, of Scotch Presbyterian parents. He gave up a salary of $5,000 a year at the 13th Presbyterian Church in New York to "get at the people," as he phrased it, and he is now head of the missionary alliance. In three meetings, within a few months, he has raised over a third of a million dollars. The salaries the alliance give the missionaries are: Africa, $300; India, $250; China $200, and they have now 300 men in the field. Rev. Mr. Simpson, with his wife and family, live in a small flat and live frugally and very plainly.

Wedding Rings

"WELL, SAM, since the engagement ring wears so well these long eight years you bought from G. G. Jury, I accept your proposal if you promise to buy the Wedding Ring from him also. My friend Nell was married a few days ago, and you should see the beautiful ring she has, and oh, so cheap. She says Mr. G. G. Jury has a fine assortment from 14k to 18k, and he buys them from the largest establishment in Canada, and they will last a lifetime; and you know one wedding ring must do these hard times."
