

FASHIONS FOR FALL FEATURED

Scene stealers last evening at the "Round The Clock" fall fashion show sponsored by the Ladies Branch of the Charlottetown Curling Club were above left, Linda MacDonald and Rosemary Ives, who opened the performance in these smart corduroy housecoats. Linda's hair stylist is Mrs. Ed Wood. The Branch's annual project, convened this year by Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins and Mrs. J. C.

Gallant, will be staged again this evening in the clubhouse at 7:15 and 9:00 p.m. Wearing apparel is from Moore and MacLeod's department store and the LePage Shoe Co.

Food Important Issue, Speaker Tells League

TIGNISH — Rev. Donald McLellan, director of the P.E.I. Credit Union League, addressed members at the annual meeting of the Tignish Credit Union that was held in the regional high school auditorium.

Using as his theme "Credit Unions in Action" around the world, Mr. McLellan spoke on defeatism. "We must learn," he said, "to solve our own problems, and in the field of econ-crease of $45,000 over last year. Membership now stands at 1,116, an increase of 158 over last year; 126 are under the age of 16 years.

The report of the credit committee and a report on the annual convention of the P.E.I. League held in Vernon River was given by Frank Arsenault. Mr. Arsenault reported 53 meetings held with full attendance.

The supervisory committee report was given by Mrs. Arsenault. It was passed by the members that three per cent will be paid in share dividends.

Members of the following committees were appointed: board of directors, Elmer Perry, re-elected, Gerard Gaudet, Roy Doucette, Alvide DesRoches; credit committee, John Hackett, re-elected, David Harper; supervisory committee, Mrs. Carman Hogan, re-elected, Aubin J. Gallant.

Twenty-one winners of an increased savings contest in the credit union were drawn at the meeting by one of the chartered members, Joseph Arsenault.

Change Of Command Made At RCAF Station

SUMMERSIDE — A brief but impressive ceremony denoting the handing over of command, took place at RCAF Station Summerside yesterday afternoon with the command of the station being passed from the hands of Group Captain A.G. Dagg to the new commanding officer, Group Captain Grover Berry, DFC.

The ceremony was held before an impressive array of dignitaries which included Lieut.-Gov. W.J. MacDonald and Premier Walter R. Shaw. Prior to the signing of papers making the hand over of command official, the Lieutenant Governor inspected an Honor Guard.

The signing of the documents then took place after which both the incoming and outgoing commanding officers spoke briefly. With this portion of the ceremony being completed, Group Captain Dagg, who is retiring from the Air Force following 27 years of distinguished service, was presented his personal pennant by one of the Station NCO's.

The retiring C.O., who has proven a popular figure during the five years he served as Station commanding officer, then marched off the parade area to the accompaniment of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow", played by the RCAF Band.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Officers' Mess.

Officer of the guard for the ceremony was F-L Hal. Johansen.

Tignish Rink Keeps Active

TIGNISH — The Tignish Centennial Arena built as a skating rink has not had time to close its doors much since the cold weather ended in April of the past year, as the members come up with one entertainment after another for the youth of the area.

The Women's Working Auxiliary of the Association whose main interest is promoting programs for the youth held a Halloween party in the arena on Saturday night. A large turnout of young children and teen-agers enjoyed an evening of games that concluded with a record hop.

Treats for the children were provided by local firms, organizations, and individuals. Helping to supervise the party beside the women were Franklyn Perry, John Hackett, Carl Hackett and Earnest Richard.

Prizes were given for the best costumes, Marie Gavin of Sea Cow Pond won the prize for stumping the party members in keeping her identity of Castro an evening secret.

Several parents accompanied their children to the party.

In the Scotch Shorthorn Gerald Dollar had one second, two fourths, one eighth and one tenth placing. Prizes here start at $100 for first place and graduate down to $20 for tenth. Mr. Dollar's second was the reserve grand champion.

George Phelan, Morell had a second, a third, a fifth, a sixth and a seventh in the Scotch Shorthorn ring.

James A. MacDonald, Hunter River showed two animals and did creditably well in the strongest Shorthorn show seen in a Maritime ring for many years.

Over $5,000 Price Looms As York Owner Marks Time

By NEIL MATHESON

HALIFAX — How would you feel if a matter of something more than $5,000 was riding on what you will hear this evening from government meat graders who are carefully checking the carcass of a steer you bred and raised, against 25 other steers bred and raised by that many other guys?

If you can answer that question you'll know how Irving MacDonald, York, feels as he awaits the return carcass grading points on the animals that showed here Saturday afternoon on the hoof, at the Atlantic Winter Fair.

Irving won the live competition Saturday when his 1,162-pound Angus steer scored an almost perfect 27 points out of a possible 28 points in the live-weight judging.

But the other 72 points are awarded, after the carcass has been graded and assessed in four different ways. There are 18 points for the gain in weight per day of age, and the MacDonald steer should rank high there because he's the heaviest steer in the show.

There are 18 points for what is usually termed "the eye of lean." I'm afraid I can't explain that one satisfactorily.

EYE OF LEAN There are another 18 points for the distribution of fat over the eye of lean—I'm simplifying the language or trying to—and another 18 points go for the carcass grade conformation and quality.

Several experienced beef cattle observers told me Monday afternoon Irving MacDonald's steer has a really good chance of having the best carcass. If he does, Mr. MacDonald will feel that all of this waiting has been worth while.

The price paid at the auction Saturday night was $4.75 per Mature Cow, five years and over — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 2. Daniel Jewell; 3. Waldron MacPhee; 4. Keith Barrett; 5. Sterling Wood and Son.

Four best animals — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 2. Daniel Jewell; 3. Keith Barrett; 4. Waldron MacPhee.

Grand Champion, Female — Sterling Wood and Son; reserve grand champion, Daniel Jewell.

The best offered class — All dairy breeders were represented was won by Gordon Dickie, Truro, N.S., with a Holstein cow. A Jersey cow was in second place.

No Island-owned cow finished in the top ten animals.

SCHOOL GROUP Views Film

The Parkdale Home and School Association held its monthly meeting at Parkdale Junior High School on Wednesday night with a large attendance.

Film was shown entitled "Problems Which Confront the Middle Child." This film pertained to family life around the home.

Earl Elliot was elected president of the association.

It was announced that adult physical fitness classes will be available for both women and men of the community. Registration for the classes will begin tonight at 7 p.m. at Parkdale Junior High.

GREKS WORE TATTOOS Some ladies in ancient Greece wore tattoos to indicate nobility.

of the total value will be roughly $5,500. If the MacDonald steer wins it all—he's heavier than the others.

The fair deducts one and one-half per cent for expenses, and the rest goes to the breeder.

I asked Irving Monday evening "are you praying?" and his answer was "I've been doing nothing else since the sale."

Mr. MacDonald may not have been 100 per cent serious, but then he may have been. Wouldn't you pray too, if more than $5,000 was riding on what you'll hear this evening?

ALL TIME RECORD The price was an alltime record here, but Monday I heard from a reliable source that Dominion Stores was ready to go to a full five dollars per pound.

They were disappointed when auctioneer Bill Cunningham—and he's a dandy—dropped it at $4.75.

So there's another twist to this bizarre story of the 1965 Atlantic Winter Fair Street Show and Sale.

Sometimes this evening we'll know who, really gets all that money. It could be Mr. MacDonald, the man who showed the grand champion on the hoof. But it could be one of a half dozen other guys.

What about Fulton Sanderson, York Point? His steer was fourth Saturday, in the live judging.

Fulton was third last year and he won it all when his steer was that much better in the carcass grading.

There are other praying here. They'll continue to pray, until they hear the decision, perhaps late this evening.

Five thousand dollars is a lot of money to get for a single steer.

I'm not being sacrilegious, but many a person has prayed for a lot less.
