"Because I Love You."

"I cannot bring you wealth," she said;
"I cannot bring you fame or place Among the noted of the race, But I can love you.

"When trials come to test you, sweet, I can be sunlight to your feet;
My kiss your precious lips shall greet,
Because I love you.

"When daylight dies along the west
You will come home to me to rest,
And I shall sleep upon your breast,
Because I love you.

"If sickness comes, beside your bed I will bend low with quiet tread,
And pray God's blessing on your head,
Because I love you.

"As dew clings to the violet, Making the fragrant chalice wet, So my life into yours is set,
Because I love you.

"Only myself, my all, I bring;
But count it, sweet, a precious thing To give my life an offering,
Because I love you.

"I bow before no other shrine;
If I go first across death's line I will return to claim you mine, Because I love you."
—Sarah K. Bolton.

Prize Studies of Tornadoes.

ATTENTION ISLANDERS
The American Meteorological Journal desiring to direct the attention of students to tornadoes, in hopes that valuable results may be obtained, offers the following prizes:

For the best original essay on tornadoes or description of a tornado, $200 will be given.

For the second best, $50.
And among those worthy of special mention $50 will be divided.

The essays must be sent to either of the editors, Professor Harrington, Astronomical Observatory, Ann Arbor, Michigan, or A. Lawrence Rotch, Blue Hill Meteorological Observatory, Readville, Mass., U. S. A., before the first day of July, 1889.
They must be signed by a nom de plume, and be accompanied by a sealed envelope addressed with same nom de plume and enclosing the real name and address of the author. Three independent and capable judges will be selected to award the prizes; and the papers receiving them will be the property of the Journal offering the prizes. A circular giving fuller details can be obtained by application to Professor Harrington, Ann Arbor, Michigan, U. S.

A Lively Eviction.

A Dublin despatch of the 4th states that the eviction on Lord Clanricarde's estate were resumed on Tuesday. The evictors first attacked the house of a man named Tully, at Clonooce. The house faced the River Shannon. A deep trench had been dug about the building, the roof of which was banked with clay and stones. Trees had been sunk in the ground parallel with the walls, which were made much stronger thereby. The first attack of the battering ram was beaten off by means of stones and boiling liquid, which the garrison used with good effect. The attacking party was compelled frequently to retreat.
Then the constables were ordered up on the roof of the house, but many of them were hauled down into the ditch by the defenders, who captured a number of the boarding party's rifles and an officer's sword. The police made repeated attempts and finally, after a hard fight of an hour and a half, succeeded in capturing the house and evicting the inmates. The next house attacked was one occupied by a man named Tucky.
The fight here was shorter though equally terrific. Eighteen young men of the garrison were arrested. The majority of them had sustained severe sword cuts on the face and arms and on various parts of their bodies. Three other families were evicted at Dams.

Angry Subscriber (to editor)—"I'm mad all the way through, an' I want my paper stopped!" Editor—"Yes, sir; do you want your bill made out?"
Angry Subscriber—"No, I ain't mad enough for that."

"Here, head waiter, I want you to give me another room. My next neighbor snores so dreadfully as to shake the pictures on the wall. Could you not find me quarters somewhere near that charming fair lady I met at the table d'hote to-day?"
"Why, she's the very person—her room is next to yours."

The New York Catholic News is advised of the postponement of the Papal consistory that was to have been held this month until November. Several new cardinals, among them the Pope's Major-domo, Mgr.
Machia, will then be created. The new bishops of the United States will be recognized, and it is expected that the vacant Canadian sees will be filled.

Arthur Stanley, claiming to have jumped with a parachute from Clifton Suspension Bridge, England, wants to go over Niagara but receives no encouragement from the authorities. He proposes to wear a suit of cork and rubber. He anticipates that his parachute will do the proper thing when the edge of the falls is reached, but he is not sure what the rocks may do with his suit.

A woman in Chicago objected to her husband carrying a revolver for fear of an accident; so she took it out of his pocket and put it in a hand satchel for safe keeping. That afternoon she went shopping and took the satchel with her. By some mistake the contents got jarred and the revolver, which had been quite forgotten, went off and seriously wounded a messenger boy that happened to be passing at that moment.

The salary paid the average Iowa "school marm" by the year is $212.45. Presuming that her board and washing costs her about $3 per week, and her clothing and incidentals $50 more, she will then have a surplus of just $8.45 a year to build up a bank account, which in twenty years of hard work would amount to more than $100. Truly it has been said that it is the honor that forms the chief reward of a literary life.

A funny elopement story comes from Maryland. Both parties were inmates of the Queen Anne's county almshouse at Rothsburg, and the gay Lothario of three-score and fifteen left a wife behind in that institution. George W. Sullivan and Martha Morgan are the names of the principals, one 75 and the other 60 years old. The other night Sullivan borrowed a friendly neighbor's team, ostensibly to visit the county town, and in this way the pair hurried away to Caroline county. Since then they have not been heard from.

Snake catching.

The best method I have found for capturing snakes, says a writer in Swiss Cross, except the large black ones, is the following: When you see one that you want, endeavor, by all possible means, to cover him with your net. Then grasp his neck between the thumb and forefinger of your gloved hand and put him in one of the tin cans. On returning home saturate a small sponge with chloroform, which thrust into the can with your snake. You can do this in a small room to prevent the snake's escape. In the course of a quarter of an hour the snake may be taken from the can and arranged in a bottle, which is then to be filled with alcohol and tightly corked, and your specimen is ready for the museum.

On one of these hurts a lady who was searching for botanical specimens happened to come along just as I was putting a snake into one of the tin cans. She inquired what I was going to do with it, and I said:
"Preserve it," whereupon she asked: "Do they make good preserves?" Goethe kept a pet snake which he took from the chimney corner and fondled every night, which shows that he was partial to these "noxious reptiles," and Dr. McCook says the snake is the most beautiful animal in creation. I don't know but I agree with him.

Cause For Anger.

Gentle reader, you sometimes wonder why newspaper men occasionally give way to passion; you think it strange that they should not always be in the angelic mood in which you know them best. But if you were to write, "Her dainty feet incased in satin slippers that might have served for Titanic's fairy boots," and to find upon reading the paper that the composer and proof-reader had entered into a double conspiracy, and transmuted your delicate rhetoric into "Her dirty feet were encased in satin slippers that might have served for Titanic's ferry boats," wouldn't your amibil-ity bounce and flutter like a quib? Zounds! the chances are you'd break all the commandments, as Moses did, at once, and glance about for more.

News Notes.

It is estimated that San Francisco has been shaken 417 times by earthquakes in the last 80 years.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company advertise a harvest excursion to Manitoba and the Northwest on the 24th of this month, tickets good for return within two months. The fare is extraordinarily low.

The estimated cost of the proposed suspension bridge over the North River at New York city is $37,000,000. It will give entrance for ten railroads into the city of New York. The central span is 2,850 feet long.

The Catholic bishops of Germany assembled at Fulda have signed an address to the Pope in which they severely attack the clauses in the new Italian penal code regarding abuses by the clergy. The Archbishops of Cologne and Posen are among the signers.

Mr. Frank E. McGrieron, of Salt Lake City, gave an exhibition of his skill and speed on the type writer, at Chicago, a day or two ago. He made a record of 108 3.5 words a minute from dictation, beating all previous records. When blindfolded he wrote 107 words in a minute.

A gentleman in Oswego had a member of his family nervous and sick, and to save intrusion from the neighbors, put up a sign on his front door:—"There's sickness in this house!" A German on the opposite side of the street had his wife die, and taking the cue from his neighbor opposite, posted on his front door:—"There's dead-ness in here!"
