BRITISH "SPIDERMEN" PARACHUTE INTO JUNGLE LAIR OF COMMUNISTS

SINGAPORE, (Reuters) — Heavily-armed British "spidermen" slid down silken ropes Thursday into a Communist jungle lair in a bold bid to eliminate the mastermind of the six-year Malayan terrorist campaign.

The 180 soldiers were inaugurating a new technique in their assault on what is thought to be the Malayan Communist party headquarters site. They parachuted into the thick jungle after the area had been blasted with heavy bombs, and slid down long silk ropes from their landing spots in the 200-foot-high trees.

British officers, including Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Bourne, director of a Communist operations, watched the assault and expressed satisfaction with its smoothness. It was the biggest air-ground operation yet carried out in Malaya.

TACTICAL SURPRISE
Because of the remoteness of the target, a valley lying in rugged terrain near Ipoh, northern Malaya, no word was yet available on the success of the operation. But there was optimism here that it may have dealt a major blow at the hidden headquarters of the soft-spoken, limping Chin Peng, terrorist mastermind and secretary-general of the Malayan Communist Party.

The spidermen's quick follow-up of the aerial bombardment was hailed as evidence that the weapon of tactical surprise was at last shifted from the elusive Communists to the security forces.

Some Famed Units Vanish In Reorganization Of The Militia

Dulles Says U. S. Ready To Use Veto To Bar Red China From United Nations

WASHINGTON, (AP) — State Secretary Dulles said Thursday that he does not believe Communist China will be seated in the United Nations.

Furthermore, Dulles told a press conference, "I don't think there is going to be any American withdrawal from the UN or any occasion for it."

Dulles said he thought a two-thirds vote would be required to admit the Reds into the 60-country General Assembly and that the votes just weren't there. As for the 11-member Security Council, he said the United States would exercise its veto to bar them there.

Dulles' statement followed on the heels of President Eisenhower's denunciation Wednesday of Red China as an aggressor and an enslaver of peoples. The president said he was "completely and unalterably opposed to admitting Red China to the United Nations."

The Dulles-Eisenhower statements appeared to have headed off a proposal by some members of Congress that if Red China is admitted to the UN, the United States should automatically leave the UN.

Senator William Knowland (Rep. Calif.) Thursday amended his resolution to the effect that if Red China were seated, Eisenhower would be requested to inform Congress on the implications and recommend a course of action.

Knowland at the same time placed Congress on record anew as being against seating Red China in the UN.

A move in this direction may be made by Communist members of the UN at the September session of the General Assembly, Dulles who authorized reporters

OTTAWA, (CP)—Some famed fighting units vanished today in the reorganization of the 57,000-man Canadian militia.

Details of the sweeping changes in the reserve army were announced by army headquarters. High officers awaited the cries of rage which they said they fully expect from some sections of the country.

The reorganization follows adoption by the government of most of the recommendations in a report prepared for the defence department by three reserve force major-generals, H. F. G. Letson of Vancouver, E. J. Renaud of Montreal and Howard Kenney of Ottawa.

The militia itself agreed to the principle of reorganization but has not been previously informed which units would be disbanded or amalgamated with other units.

In announcing the reorganization in the Commons June 21, former defence minister Clarkon said: "The changes proposed are planned to tap the resources of interested and available personnel so as to provide the best basis for the build-up of forces that may be required in the second or later stages of another world war."

"The over-all number of units will be substantially reduced. It is expected that at the outset these changes may result in some reductions in the total number of officers and men on strength. But it is expected that they will result in more effective use of personnel."

Officers explained today that militia units are being tied more closely to the regular force. For instance, some infantry regiments will form reserve battalions for active regiments such as the Canadian guards and the Royal 22nd Regiment.

The changes are designed so that, in the event of mobilization, reserve units would be able to supply replacements to regular force units. Canada would have mainly an infantry army able to move rapidly and with strong firepower support from tanks and artillery.

OTTAWA, (CP) — A Montreal legal-tax authority Thursday was hoisted into the front ranks of the men who run the government's $4,500,000,000 collection business.

J. Gear McEntyre, 41, was named deputy minister of revenue for taxation, directing 27 regional offices and a crew of 6,000 organized to make sure Canadians pay their taxes.

The McGill graduate who joined the department 12 years ago and became an assistant deputy, succeeds Charles Gavie. Mr. Gavie resigned the deputy ministry last week to become one of the three members of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

FACES NEW RULING
The new deputy, together with senior deputy revenue minister David Sim, working under Revenue Minister McCann, will be responsible for collection of government tolls extending from taxes on salaries and sales to duties on imports.

Mr. McEntyre's specific responsibility is the field of personal and corporation income tax and succession duties.

Mr. McEntyre practised law in Montreal for about four years before joining the revenue department's taxation division. He was promoted to assistant deputy in 1951, working directly under Mr. Gavie.

Mr. McEntyre is married and the father of three children, all of school age. His main hobby is golf.

Guest Speaker At Women's Institute Convention Stresses Need For Planning

"People require study in planning, as well as land in zoning, or crops and livestock in farming," Dr. Helen C. Abell, Rural Sociologist, Canadian Department of Agriculture said in an address before the P. E. Island Women's Institute at their evening session yesterday in Prince of Wales College auditorium.

"The naive assumption that any group of persons will fall in with any plan about which they have not been consulted and which has not taken the social system into account has proved false so often in history that its survival is one of the world's mysteries," the speaker said. "The economic and sociological research work carried on by the Canadian Department of Agriculture is to provide a factual basis for understanding the dynamics of agriculture and rural life in this country."

Steelworkers Take Strike Vote As Dispute With Big Firms Simmers
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — Five thousand workers at the Algoma Steel Corporation plant were to vote Thursday night on the question of striking in their union's dispute with Canada's big three steel companies.

The firms have refused to pass on to 15,800 Canadian workers gains made in the U.S. last year plus a 12½-cent "package" increase combining a pay raise and fringe benefits similar to that provided by the recent U.S. settlement.

Five cents of the 12½-cent wage package is a pension benefit. The pension is not an issue at the moment at Sault Ste. Marie.

Under Ontario's labor code, strikes at Sault Ste. Marie and Hamilton would be illegal at present because disputes at the plants are both in the conciliation stage. A union can only strike legally after a conciliation board has recommended a solution to an industrial dispute.

SANDBAGS FLOWN IN
Sandbags have been flown in from Winnipeg, the Canadian joint air training centre at Rivers and from Camp Shilo, Man.

At Winnipeg Thursday, Mayor Garnet Coulter pledged Winnipeg aid for Brandon in the battle to hold back the Assiniboine.

Plant officials said, however, things are in "much better shape" to withstand the Assiniboine's battering than it had been during the 1948 flood. The plant is diked on all sides and has the use of a good road, and it "still is operating."

Montreal Man Takes Over Tax Collection Job

OTTAWA, (CP) — A Montreal legal-tax authority Thursday was hoisted into the front ranks of the men who run the government's $4,500,000,000 collection business.

Bakeries Strike In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Bread baking halted Thursday in Vancouver's major bakeries.

Workers at McGavin Bakeries Ltd., went on strike, and plants of six other firms in Vancouver and two bakeries in Nanaimo closed at noon as operators enforced a lockout.

A 35-hour work week and certain fringe benefits are sought by the workers. The present work week is 38 hours. No pay boost is sought by the employees, members of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union T.L.C.

The strike and lockout involves 450 workers. The stoppage will cut off bread supplies to an estimated 500,000 persons in Vancouver and the lower mainland.

Garage Fire At New Glasgow, N. S.

NEW GLASGOW, (CP) — Two cars were destroyed and others scorched Wednesday night in a $55,000 fire that swept through a section of a garage owned by Henry R. Thompson, the auto dealer who last year took over the Drummond coal mine at Westville.

Firemen kept the flames away from paint and tire stores, and most departments were back at work Thursday morning.

B. C. Rivers Continue Climb

VANCOUVER, (CP) — British Columbia's major rivers continued their slow but relentless climb Thursday adding to the mounting fears of a repetition of the disastrous 1948 floods.

Along the Fraser river, dikes maintained their defence against the surging waters. The water level at Mission inched up to 20.06 feet Thursday, an increase of .02 feet in 24 hours. The normal level at this time of year is about 14 feet.

MARKET GARDENS HIT
The flooded Assiniboine river areas the water in the cellar was due to recent heavy rains and not caused by high river levels.

The river's level here around noon, CDT, stood at 22 feet two inches above normal, only eight inches below the peak of the 1948 flood, but weary workers were heartened by the fact that it had risen only one inch in nine hours.

This year, as in 1948, flooding is mostly confined to market gardens

REPORT LITTLE CHANCE OF SETTLEMENT SOON IN RAILWAY-UNION DISPUTE

OTTAWA (CP)—There is virtually no chance of a settlement of the contract dispute between the railways and non-operating employees before the unions complete a strike vote next month, informed quarters said Thursday.

The hope of a settlement without the enforcement of a strike vote had been open up to now, but Thursday the union negotiating committee for 135,000 workers—standing by at Montreal since June 22—dispersed without a resumption date.

The committee had been waiting in the railway headquarters city on the possibility that the companies would make an acceptable offer following the end of a second session of direct negotiations late last month.

NO PROGRESS SEEN
The disputants met briefly but halted talks without announcement of any progress.

Informants here said Thursday that at this conference there was some move in the direction of compromise, but there was no information on how far either party may have gone in this direction.

Despite an apparent complete break-off, it was learned, the June negotiations were held open for possible new offers from one side or the other. Thursday's dispersal of the union negotiators, a labor informant said, means there is scant chance of a settlement before the end of the strike vote, barring an unexpected retreat by the railways.

The vote now is in progress across the country among the non-operating employees—those who do not actually run the railways. Tabulation of the ballots is expected about mid-August.

NEXT MOVE IN DOUBT
Meanwhile, there was no immediate indication of government action to try once again to bring the antagonists together.

The next move probably would be the appointment of a special mediator, but this was not planned at the moment. Nor has the government yet acted to draft strike-related legislation such as was used at a special session of Parliament to cut off the 1950 tieup.

In this dispute, the employees—members of 14 unions—are seeking fringe benefits such as 18 days a year of paid sick leave, higher pay for Sunday work, eight paid holidays a year and an improved setup on paid vacations. The railways have turned down the proposals on the ground of inability to pay.

Fined $2,000 Or 23 Months For False Confession

HULL, Que. (CP) — Allan Siemens, 21-year-old British Columbia truck driver who confessed to a murder which never happened, Thursday was fined $2,000 and costs or 23 months in jail on a public mischief charge.

Siemens changed his plea from not guilty to guilty when he appeared before Judge Victor Chabot. He was given until Wednesday to try to raise the money to pay the fine and several hundreds of dollars in costs.

Siemens started a cross-country chase by Quebec provincial police when he "confessed" to Calgary police that he had "murdered" a youth named "Clyde" by beating him with a stick and shoving the body into the Gatineau river near here.

DEATH BY DROWNING
The body of Claude Fare, 19, of Hull was taken from the river June 21. Death was found to have been caused by drowning. This was confirmed after the body was exhumed.

Quebec police travelled to Calgary, Banff, Alta., Vancouver and Abbotsford, B.C., to question Siemens and hunt for clues.

Lieut. Ubald Legault said Siemens was picking strawberries at Abbotsford, his home town, June 21 and it would have been impossible for him to have been in Hull at the time Fare disappeared. He said Siemens had read in Calgary a newspaper article about the body. Siemens claimed in court earlier this week that he was under the influence of alcohol when he made his "confession" to Calgary police.

Can't Blame H-Bomb For The Weather

TORONTO — (CP) — You can't blame cold weather on the H-bomb a Toronto meteorologist said Thursday.

Replying to a Japanese scientist's statement that cold summers could be due to H-bomb tests, Lou Shenfield, Malton weather forecaster said: "Any bomb test effect on the weather would be brief and localized."

"The energy from the bomb lasts only a short time and does not compare with the sun's energy," Dr. Hisanoo Hatakeyama, president of the Japanese Meteorological Society, has claimed that colossal quantities of radioactive ash spread through the atmosphere could effect meteorological conditions and could possibly be responsible for the chilly summer reported in Europe.

Urges Britain Accept U. S. As Senior Partner

YORK, Eng. (Reuters) — Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, has urged Britain to accept the United States as her "senior partner" and abandon resentment of American leadership.

Addressing the York Diocesan Conference, the archbishop, who is co-primate of England along with the Archbishop of Canterbury, warned: "Without American aid, we could not resist Russia. If American help were withdrawn soon, we should either be invaded by the Soviet Union or become another of her helpless satellites."

The archbishop said that Britain should always retain her right to criticize and act as a self-respecting ally, but she must realize that world leadership had passed into American hands.
