TELEPHONE EAR.

How It is Produced and Ways in Which It May be Avoided.
Have you the telephone ear? If you use the telephone three or more times a day the probabilities are you have it, though it may not have occurred to you. But if you be past 30 years of age you have already noticed a difference between the right and the left ear in acuteness of the sense of hearing. There is little doubt, now that your attention is called to it, that you remember your left ear to a trifle keener in matters of hearing than is your right. Not when you are listening over the wire, but when in an ordinary conversation, with the noise of the street about you or the hum of business in office or shop, or the buzz of talk in the parlor, you will find your left ear to be the more acute. You have the telephone ear, and haven't noticed it.

In Germany the telephones are arranged with double receiver, and each ear of the operator in the stations is provided with one. The sound is delivered equally in each ear. In such cases there is no varying result. Both ears become equally acute. If the general patron of the telephones in America were to use such a contrivance there would be no phenomenon like the "telephone ear."—Chicago Times-Herald.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

BURNING KELP IN IRELAND.

How Iodine is Produced From Seaweed Cast on the Shore.

For many months past the most skilled workers of embroidery in the Russian convents were hard at work embroidering, in delicate gold and silver, on white satin, the coronets and tiaras of such and such a nobleman. As it was so enormously long it had to be worked in separate pieces and sent to St. Petersburg to be pieced together. Judge of the consequence if a court modesty when the precious parcel was unwrapped. All the beautiful silk threads had turned black! How such a catastrophe could have occurred is related in mystery. The only possible conjecture that can be arrived at is that the parcel was wrapped in must have been some corrosive acid in it. Busy fingers worked night and day to finish another in time. Of course it was impossible to produce in a few days what the work of months of patient labor did, and the beautiful Corina was obliged to wear a less magnificent gown than was at first intended.

Glass Monuments.

A company of glass workers have recently discovered that ordinary plate-glass will make a more durable monument than the hardest marble or granite known to stone masons. In a graveyard at Paris there is a gravestone of plate-glass, and it is certain to last longer than any other tombstone in the cemetery.

Poetry in South America.

South America has glorious singers and songs, but the greater are to come. The countries of the south temperate zone are pulsing with literary activity and expectation, and Aconagua is a new Parnassus, and is likely to be the last in the west.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:—
"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." Mrs. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amherst, N. Y.
