

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MARCH 8, 1883.

Editorial Notes.

The Presbyterian aptly remarks that: "The editor of the Patriot at first ridiculed our Local Government Delegation to Ottawa, and said they went at great expense to have a nice time. Now, when they are eminently successful, getting every cent that the Local Government spent in wharves and breakwaters since Confederation, amounting to $152,000, and the above Public Works to be taken of our hands for all time in the future, the conscientious Editor says 'they made a bad bargain,' and that they should have got more."

Crossing the Capes! A graphic description of the journey is published in THE EXAMINER to-day. It will give the Government and Legislators at Ottawa, and people, generally, a vivid idea of what we have to endure in the winter season, and of how the stipulation to provide "efficient and continuous communication" is being performed; and it will be regarded as the more trustworthy from the fact that it is by one who is not particularly interested and whose perfect independence with respect to the matter is above suspicion.

The Pioneer quotes an article from the Montreal Witness, which opens with the following striking sentences:—"The increase of Canada's trade has been very rapid and very great during the past few years. During the latter part of 1878 and 1879 Canada was at the bottom of the severest depression she has ever known; at present, or say a few months ago, she was at the height of a corresponding expansion. In 1879 the value of our exports was only $71,491,255, while in 1882 their value reached $102,133,203; in 1879 the value of our imports was $81,964,427, while in 1882 their value was $119,418,500."

It is reported that Mr. Wiggins has postponed his storm for a few days in order that he may have sufficient time to secure comfortable quarters in Halifax. In the meantime we clip the following from an English paper:—

"A prediction which has been published that a terrible gale will occur in March, and that it will not be safe for ships to be on the water between March 5 and 31 having caused alarm in the minds of smack owners as to the safety of their property, Mr. Emmet, underwriter of Ramsgate, wrote to the Meteorological Office, London, on the subject, and received the following reply:—"The prophecy to which you allude emanates from some man in the Finance Department of the Canadian Government. It is utter nonsense. No living man can predict the weather two days beforehand, much less six months. The idea that the Admiralty have ordered ships to be in port is also absurd and utterly false."

The Patriot was either misinformed about the case of Mrs. Fortescue, or it wishes to misrepresent the action of the Asylum authorities. Mrs. Fortescue was sent to the Institution by the Stipendiary Magistrate. She was, in the absence of the Commissioner, admitted on an order from Hon. Neil McLeod. But Mrs. Fortescue should also have been accompanied by certificate from a medical doctor in order to get legal admission. This was not obtained, and the Medical Superintendent had no power to keep her. He, therefore, asked the policeman to return with her to the city, having her examined by a doctor, and, after getting the certificate necessary, he would admit her. Here the matter rests. The law regulating the Asylum authorities prevents them from receiving lunatics without a doctor's certificate. Why such a certificate was not obtained we are at a loss to know. The statement of the Patriot that there is an agreement between the Asylum authorities and the Government, for the temporary admission of lunatics to the institution is incorrect. No such arrangement was ever made. It could not be made with the present law, regulating the Asylum, in force. If there be any blame, it lies with the law—not with the Medical Superintendent nor the Government.

Hydrographical Survey of Canadian Waters.

DR. FORTIN, M. P., points out that whilst there is in the United States a Coast Survey under a Department of the Government, Canada has nothing of the kind, though the requirement is no less urgent. He speaks highly of the excellent work done by Admiral Bayfield of this City; but says the hydrography of a coast is never complete. A rocky coast may not change; but along the banks and at the mouths of river constant changes are taking place. This must especially be the case at the mouth of that mighty river, the St. Lawrence, which drains so immense an area of country. Moreover, the circumstances are not the same now as they were fifty years ago. At that time Upper Canada, drained by the great lakes and connecting rivers, was only partially settled, while in Lower Canada the back country was hardly settled at all. But to-day the most of the Valley of the St. Lawrence and the country along the great lakes and rivers is settled; and as a consequence, it is drained almost to perfection. In the spring-time when the snow thaws, an immense body of water runs into the St. Lawrence; and this water rushes down at an immense speed. The changes which are made by this drainage are not of course noticed by the charts made many years ago by Admiral Bayfield; and, therefore, Dr. Fortin holds, there exists a great necessity for a new survey. He urges the Government to obtain from the Imperial Government, or elsewhere, a hydrographical officer to survey the Gulf and River St. Lawrence.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has given an assurance that, in this matter, the Government will not be slow to do all that is necessary.

Union Bank of Prince Edward Island.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting the 19th Annual Report of the Bank, the Directors congratulate the Shareholders on meeting them in more favorable circumstances than they did last year. It will be remembered that then the suspense resultant on the efforts to restore the Bank of P. E. Island had a paralyzing effect on trade. Since that time the Bank of P. E. Island has gone into liquidation, and the effects of its failure have been severely felt throughout the Province. It is gratifying to know, however, that while the volume of business is smaller, credit now rests on a more solid basis than for some years past.

Your Directors regret that the satisfactory results of the business of the past year are greatly impaired by the large amount it has been found necessary, after careful revision of the assets of the Bank, to write off, owing to several accounts which from the unparalleled depreciation in value of properties and other causes have turned out more unfavorably than could have been anticipated. They are glad to state however that the earning powers of the Bank are undiminished and have reason to hope that in future the appropriation for losses will be materially reduced.

The net profits of the year after deducting charges of management and providing for bad and doubtful debts, amount to $14,350.63 Transferred from Reserve Fund, 10,000.00 Balance from last year, 2,495.55 $26,846.18

From which have been paid,— Dividend No. 36, $6,488.90 Do. 37, 6,488.88 Amount appropriated to provide for depreciation in securities, 8,978.79 21,956.57

Leaving at credit of Profit and Loss $ 4,869.67

The general business of the Bank, notwithstanding the stringency caused by the suspension of the Bank of P. E. Island, has been fairly maintained.

In accordance with the resolutions passed at a special general meeting of the Shareholders held on the 16th November last, a bill was prepared for the amalgamation of this Bank with the Bank of Nova Scotia on the basis then agreed upon. This bill is now before Parliament. After the necessary powers asked for in the bill have been obtained, you will again be called to consider the terms of amalgamation before the agreement is finally adopted.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THE SCRIMGEOUR-CONNOLLY CASE CONCLUDED—A HEAVY VERDICT.

Judge Hensley charged the Jury at some length in this suit yesterday. His charge was remarkably clear, and ably reviewed the evidence on both sides in a fair and impartial manner. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff for two thousand four hundred dollars damages.

The Queen on the prosecution of John Weatherbie vs. Joseph Campbell—This is an indictment for assaulting a constable while discharging his duty, and the trial commenced yesterday. At the time of our going to press it is still going on.

Prince County Items.

(From the Summerside Pioneer.)

We are informed that Mrs. Wm. McGregor near Read's corner is very low from diphtheria. She has a family of nine children mostly small, and it is hoped the malignant disease will not be allowed to spread. A son of Mr. Jeremiah McArthur, of this town, was also ill with the same disease, but is fast recovering.

ALMOST A VICTIM.—Last Sabbath afternoon as some of the neighbors were going to water their cattle, a horse and sleigh were discovered standing on a small creek which runs between the farms of Messrs. Wm. Simpson and John Woodside, of Hamilton, Lot 18. The driver was found unconscious on the snow, while a closer inspection showed him to be the proprietor of three bottles of brandy, one of which was nearly empty. The person was on his way from Summerside, and it would appear the horse turned up off the ice and got entangled with bushes or stumps, where he was found. Our informant thinks the drunk man would have perished from cold if not discovered before night. We at present forbear giving name of the party.

FIRE AT LOT 12.—About midnight last Friday, the building known as Robertson's Hotel, on the Western Road, Lot 12, was reduced to ashes. With the exception of three beds, our informant says the occupants lost all their effects. The building was one of the oldest in that section, and was used for a hotel probably more than forty years ago. For many years after it was built and inhabited, there was not a house within a great number of miles, while the bear and fox were the only tenants of the unbroken forest in all the section of country. The fire originated from a defective flue.

Mr. Reid's Concert.

The stunning house that greeted the beneficiary at the Market Hall, last evening, must have gladdened the heart of that estimable gentleman, and it was a matter of deep regret among his legion of friends that he was denied the ineffable pleasure of witnessing the splendid ovation, the sight of which would have made him the happiest man in the Dominion. Long before the opening hour, people began to troop in, and in a short time the old Market Hall was filled with one of the finest audiences ever assembled in Charlottetown. The Glee Club started off with a rattling chorus, capitally sung, and (to save space) we may here mention their performance of a finely rendered chorus from "Ernani," and another from "Semiramide," given in splendid style,—one which we trust to hear often repeated, sung as it was, in that exceptionally brilliant manner, which does such credit to this highly creditable and efficient organization, which, on good authority, we pronounce, in point of excellence, second to no similar Club in any of our Canadian sister cities. Mrs. Longworth sang, with great taste, a little gem "Tit for Tat," which was heartily applauded. The Orchestral Club, under Mr. Vianicombe's leadership, followed with a "Gavotte," very harmoniously played, and towards the end of the programme, gave a set of Waltzes—"The Waver"—in such good time and style as to call up visions of the Ball Room in the minds of many of the fair listeners, notwithstanding the Lenten season. The rendition of the "Bend of the River," by Miss M. Macleod, with violin obligato by Mr. Crosskill, and Pianoforte accompaniment by Mr. Earle, was especially pleasing, and secured the first encore of the evening. The fair singer possesses a beautiful flowing soprano, and notwithstanding a little timidity, which is epidemic among lady amateurs the world over, sang the celebrated composition of the eminent composer, Blumenthal, with charming effect, which was materially added to by the harmonious blending of the kind of instruments and its admirable conductor, the Pianoforte. Mr. Fletcher executed one of his inimitable cornet solos "Sweet Spirit hear my Prayer," in a most accomplished manner, and his pure mellow tones rendered an encore imperative. Mr. F. Herbert Beer's "Newfoundland Dog," spiritedly and tastefully given, so stirred the hearts of the listeners that he too had to appear again. Mr. Maynard sang the popular "Bay of Biscay" nicely, and appeared again with Messrs. Blanchard and Reed in the trio, "Oh! Restless Sea," which did much credit to these gentlemen's musical abilities. Dr. Cramer's ever popular, "Shells of Ocean," was much enjoyed and heartily applauded. Miss M. Crabbe never appeared to better advantage than on this occasion. "Would I were with thee" was a happy selection, and with the excellent accompaniment of Messrs. Crosskill and Earle, received loud applause; an encore being demanded, was not responded to, on account of the length of the programme. "The Gem" of the evening was the "Musical Trial," by Messrs. Reid, and Earle. The former's rich low tones penetrated every nook and cranny of the hall, and harmonized capitally with Mr. Earle's sparkling tenor. The piece brought down the house, and an encore which could not be escaped, was responded to. Miss McFarlane gave "The Day is Done," by Balfe, very sweetly, and with much attention to detail. Mr. Reid turned up the list of solos with the Old Turn-key, and the latter venerable and generally execrated individual descended for once to sentiment, showing that his heart was not altogether flint. Mr. Reid sang up the "Old Boy" admirably, and received a tumultuous encore. The closing chorus was given with much dash; and thus ended one of the most successful Concerts ever given here. We know we speak the sentiments of the performers when we say that Prof. Earle is justly entitled to Mr. Reid's kindly reference in his Card which appears in another column. For weeks past Mr. Earle has been indefatigable, and has rendered the most valuable assistance, which we are pleased to notice is so well appreciated by the one most interested.

THE STUNNING HOUSE THAT GREETED THE BENEFICIARY AT THE MARKET HALL, LAST EVENING, MUST HAVE GLADDENED THE HEART OF THAT ESTIMABLE GENTLEMAN, AND IT WAS A MATTER OF DEEP REGRET AMONG HIS LEGION OF FRIENDS THAT HE WAS DENIED THE INEFFABLE PLEASURE OF WITNESSING THE SPLENDID OVATION, THE SIGHT OF WHICH WOULD HAVE MADE HIM THE HAPPIEST MAN IN THE DOMINION.

The Concert Last Night.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Last evening I had the pleasure of attending the Concert in the Market Hall, given for the benefit of our much respected citizen Mr. Reid, and I am sure every one present must have felt pleased to see such a crowded house, for if there was any person in our midst to whom the citizens owed a benefit concert, I consider it to be Mr. Reid. The programme was good, and with one or two exceptions was well rendered. We trust that after last night's performance those who undertake to hold concerts in the Market Hall will see the necessity of having a good energetic chairman, not only to save so much time from being wasted, but also to maintain some degree of order throughout the building, not only in the main hall, but also behind the scenes. We were very much surprised to learn that our amateur performers had so little feeling for each other. It seemed at times as if there was almost a feeling of jealousy between them. Just fancy, a vocalist doing his or her best to render a piece of music, while those close by, separated only by a thin flag, were engaged in blowing through the valves of cornets, packing up band stands, smoking tobacco, and moving around generally, to the great annoyance of the performer, and the disgust of a part of the audience. If this has been done through forgetfulness, we trust this hint will prove successful in preventing the repetition of those annoyances to which we have referred.

Yours truly,
CONGRUY-GOER.

(Edinburgh papers please copy.)

CARD OF THANKS.

MR. REID desires publicly to tender his most sincere thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted in carrying out the programme at his concert last evening, and to the public generally, who so generously extended to him such a handsome patronage. The members of the Glee and Orchestral Clubs will also accept his thanks for their able assistance, as also Mr. Fletcher, who kindly offered the use of his fine toned piano. To Professor Earle as organizer and accompanist, Mr. Reid is under deep obligations, as to the former a large measure of the success of the entertainment was due. Mr. Reid also desires to thank the Civic authorities for courtesies extended in connection with the Market Hall.
