The Improvement of Cascumpec Harbor.

The Patriot's correspondent at Ottawa rarely says anything good of Conservative members, or gives them credit for any good they have performed. The last Ottawa correspondence, however, contains the following:—

"Mr. Hackett made a neat little speech in favor of improving the harbor. He spoke of the importance of the harbor and of the disasters and loss of life that were caused by the want of better harbor accommodation in that part of the Island. He described the harbor, showed that its shoaling was owing to breaks made in the sand-hills, and urgently requested the Government to take measures for restoring it to its original condition, when there were twenty feet of water on the bar, where now there are only ten. Mr. Yeo, who is always ready to advance the interests of the country he represents, seconded the motion. He said that he hoped the Minister of Public Works would see his way clear to place on the estimates a sum sufficient for the improvement of Cascumpec Harbor. The matter had been under the consideration of the late Government, and he had, last session, received a promise from them which he believed ought to be binding on their successors. A small sum to commence with, say twenty or thirty thousand dollars, would be of great benefit to the whole Island. The losses sustained by shipping there, in a single season, would probably amount to a greater sum. No person knew better than the Minister of Marine and Fisheries how necessary it was to have a good harbor of refuge on that part of the coast of the Island, and he hoped that he would use his influence with the Government to have the improvement so urgently required made with as little delay as possible. The Merchants, Shipbuilders, and Fishermen of the Western section of the Island were asking for the improvement of which not only they but many others would reap the benefit. The harbor was becoming worse every year, for where some years ago there were twenty feet of water, at an ordinary high tide, there are now only ten.

PAPAL JUBILEE.
LONDON, March 3.—The general jubilee proclaimed by the Pope, which is to extend throughout the whole world, began yesterday, and will continue until Whitsunday, the first of June. In announcing this jubilee, his Holiness says that he has been induced to proclaim it in view of the approaching anniversary of his election, and by the knowledge of how necessary to him is an abundance of the Divine grace in fulfilment of his mission in this time of mournful strife, while the Church is laboring under such troubles. The benefits of the indulgence are extended to all those who either being in Rome or in going thither shall, during that time, have visited the churches of St. John Lateran, St. Peter and Santa Maria Maggiore, praying there for the prosperity of the Church and of the Papacy, for the extirpation of heresy, for the conversion of sinners, for the concord of Christian princes, for the peace of the faithful, and for the Pope's intentions; and who shall also have followed the rules regarding fasting, almsgiving and receiving holy Communion laid down by the rules of the Church. Persons absent from Rome will obtain the same benefits by twice visiting three churches in their city or parish. If there are only two churches in the parish, they must be visited three times, and if only one church, six times.

United States.

Our cousins over the border are in a state of wild excitement over their political battles. Party warfare is carried to an extreme of violence which augurs ill for the future. The Democrats have used all the means in their power to harass and obstruct the late Congress, in order to compel the calling of an extra session this year. They have succeeded, and the new session will commence before the end of the current month. The Democrats will have a majority in both branches of the next session, and they can therefore have matters their own way, except that the President will likely veto any act that does not meet his approval. In case of such vetoes, there will be very exciting times. Both parties have commenced the Presidential campaign of 1880.—Hc. Reporter.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles, when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Doan's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Doan's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Hon. Mr. Sullivan's Speech on the motion of

WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN THE LATE GOVERNMENT.

Hon. Mr. SULLIVAN, said that it seemed to be his lot to follow the Speech made by the hon. member for Bedeque (Mr. Calhoun) as this was probably the last which that hon. gentleman would make as a representative of that District. The hon. member, when returned to the House, two years ago, stated that a

"DEEP FEELING" prevailed throughout the country, and he (Mr. Sullivan) was sorry to say that the hon. gentleman had not devoted his energies and talents to the task of allaying that deep feeling. On the contrary the hon. member had entirely directed his attention to the work of fanning into a flame the fire which was then kindled, and now showed that he was anxious to be returned by the people a second time to represent that District. He (Mr. S.) thought that it was UNDERSTOOD ON ALL SIDES that the Education Question was settled, and that it was the intention of both Government and Opposition to allow it to remain as it was at present. But it seemed that the hon. member for Bedeque was not satisfied with this way of dealing with that matter. It seemed to be the hon. gentleman's wish to keep the Education Question before the people, and, if possible, through its instrumentality, to secure his own election. Yet he (Mr. Sullivan) had been told that the hon. member had taken a party to the negotiations which had taken place, during the recess, between the hon. Leader of the Government and the hon. senior member for Tignish, when the former was trying to induce the latter hon. gentleman to take a seat in the Executive.

Mr. CALHOUN said that the action of the hon. Leader of the Government was in accordance with his (Mr. C.'s) views, in offering the hon. senior member for Tignish one of the vacant seats.

Mr. SULLIVAN—As regards the assertion of the hon. member for Bedeque, that the Education Question was still before the country, he (Mr. S.) denied the correctness of it. The hon. senior member for Tignish had declared that it was not his intention to revive that question, and all the other members of the Opposition had expressed their intentions to the same effect. Why, then, should the hon. member for Bedeque seek to attribute to the members of the Opposition, motives and intentions which they did not entertain and which they had never expressed. The intention of the Opposition was

NOT TO INTERFERE with the non-sectarian principle of the Education Act. The hon. gentleman had alluded to a Pastoral issued by His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown, and declared that, no matter what statement the Catholic members of the Opposition might make, they were bound, if possible, to carry out all that the Pastoral contained. In answer to this assertion, he (Mr. S.) again repeated that the Catholic members, as well as all the other members of the Opposition, would not interfere with the non-sectarian principle of the Education Act in the slightest degree, and that the hon. member's alarm was altogether without foundation. If the present Opposition—of which he (Mr. S.) was now Leader—did hereafter form a Government, it was to be distinctly understood that they would adhere to this resolve; and he (Mr. S.), as one Roman Catholic member of the Opposition, would use all the influence which he possessed to bring back to the Catholic and Protestant community of this Province, when he surrendered to them the trust reposed in him, the non-sectarian principle of the School Law, intact and undisturbed. These were his intentions—no matter what Pastoral had been or would be issued. The hon. member for Bedeque was well aware that he DID NOT POSSESS the confidence of his constituents, but was endeavoring to stir up again the "deep feeling" in order to secure his re-election. He (Mr. S.) thought the hon. member had too much intelligence to use such clap-trap as that in which he had indulged to excess during the course of his remarks. If such remarks had been made by the hon. gentleman's colleague (Mr. Lea) he would have made some allowance for them; but coming, as they did, from one of the most intelligent, if not the ablest, members among the supporters of the Government, he was astonished. By the way, he saw that the Bishop's Pastoral had been published in the New Era, the organ of the Government.

Hon. Mr. DAVIES said that the New Era was not the organ of the Government, and that they knew nothing about the Pastoral.
Mr. SULLIVAN.—The Leader of the Government had been most anxious to fill the vacant seats of the four Liberal-Conservative gentlemen who had deserted them, by appointing thereto hon. members entertaining the same views on political questions as those of the members who had resigned. That was all right enough, as his honor (Mr. Davies) was satisfied that the School Question was settled. Knowing this to be the case, the hon. Leader of the Government had asked the hon. senior member for Tignish, whose principles the hon. gentleman well knew were the very quintessence of Sectarianism, to take one of the vacant seats at the Executive Council Board. The hon. member for Fort Augustus had, also, it appeared, been written to by his honor, and asked to come to town in order that he might consult with him on the matter of accepting a vacant seat.
Hon. F. KELLY said that not only had he received a letter, as stated by the hon. Leader of the Opposition, but his honor the Leader of the Government had walked down the whole length of a street with him, and urged him to accept a seat in the Government.
Mr. SULLIVAN—Yes; and it appeared that all this was done in accordance with the wishes
