BIG TIME.—A good time is expected at the excursion on Saturday, 25th inst. Everyone is going.
STREET MUSICIANS.—Four street musicians—two harpers and two violinists—are doing the city. Some of them play fairly well, and others—not so well.

HOME FOR INTERMENT.—The body of Archibald Campbell, of Rice Point, who was drowned recently, was brought home in the Carroll from Boston to-day.

OUT AGAIN.—An Upper Queen Street man who has been spending the past ten months in the Government boarding house, for violating the Scott Act, was allowed to return to the bosom of his family last evening.

Revids. Alex. Sterling and J. R. Coffin, and Hon. David Laird have been appointed by the P. E. I. Presbytery as commissioners to the General Assembly which meets this year in Toronto on the 12th June.

GOOD TIME COMING.—The parishioners of All Saints Church, Cardigan Bridge, intend holding a mammoth tea party at that place on the 4th July next. They have already begun to make preparations for the event, and guarantee a splendid time to all who attend.

ISLAND POTATOES.—The Halifax Herald says: The potato market is booming at present. An American dealer bought the cargoes of five schooners from P. E. Island within the past few days, which will be shipped to Boston by the steamers.

MAKE A NOTE OF THIS.—The steamer Princess of Wales will leave the Steam Navigation Co's wharf for Pictou, on Saturday morning, 25th inst., at 7 o'clock. The Band of the 82nd Battalion will accompany the excursionists. A splendid time guaranteed all who attend.

A RARE FIND.—A few days ago some of the workmen on the new driving park, at Kensington, ploughed up an axe, gouge, augur, and also the coupler and some other parts of a plough. All are of antique design and must have been placed where they were found many years ago. The axe can be seen at Fraser's carriage warehouses; the other articles have not yet been brought into town.

LAWN TENNIS CLUB.—The Rochford Street (colored) Lawn Tennis Club played for the first time last evening. The play throughout was interesting, some of the contestants showing extraordinary activity. Quite a number of spectators witnessed the game. A very successful season is predicted for the club. FROM BOSTON.—The steamer Carroll, Captain Brown, arrived from Boston this forenoon, having been detained by fog. She brought the usual general cargo and the following passengers: Miss Mary Ross, Miss Ross, Miss Katie Ross, Mr G F Littlefield, Mr Joseph B Robertson, Miss Louise Murphy, Mrs Herford and 2 children, Miss Lund, Mrs Enman and child, Miss Matheson, Mrs Wood, Mrs Carroll, Miss Sarah Colford, Mr H Devereaux and Mr A McInnis.

WORTHY OF IMITATION.—Messrs. Perkins & Sterns inform us that the advertisement which appeared in THE EXAMINER yesterday with reference to closing the stores on Saturday until 6 p. m., was not signed by them, but they agreed to a memorandum to make the day a complete holiday as heretofore. We trust that all other dry goods men and grocery-men as well will see their way clear to close their stores all day on Saturday. The closing until six virtually amounts to no holiday at all, as the clerks will be unable to take advantage of the out-of-town excursions. By all means let them have the whole day.

BLAZE AT CENTREVILLE.—The Journal says: On Monday last a fire started near Centreville, sweeping across the farms of Messrs. Newsum, Hooper, John Howatt and D. Noonan, destroying a great deal of woods and of fencing. Mr. Newsum lost about a mile fencing, and Mr. Noonan about forty or fifty panels. Mr. Noonan's supply of firewood, which was cut and piled in a small grove near his buildings, caught from the blazing fence and was burned. The fire flew from the tops of the trees, catoping on the roof of his carriage house and blacksmith shop, which was, with difficulty, saved by the strenuous exertions of the people. Some hay in his barn also caught, but was discovered and quickly put out. The people worked like Trojans to save Mr. Noonan's buildings, for on their success depended the safety of the village. The building was considerably damaged, but luckily the fire was conquered and the house and barn saved. The flames from the burning trees also caught in Mr. Cook's yard, but were quickly put out. Centreville never before had so narrow an escape.

Personal. A. Mr. Macdonald, formerly proprietor of a laundry at Honolulu, is visiting the Island. Mr. A. Bartlett has returned from his trip to the Old Country, looking and feeling well.

The Canada Gazette reports the "confirmation of rank" of Lieutenant Frederick Parker Carvell, R. S. A., No. 1 Battery, P. E. Island Brigade Garrison Artillery; from 30th April 1888.

The Morning Globe, of Tacoma, (May 15) gives particulars of the catastrophe which caused the death of Mr. Thomas C. Bell, of this city. It appears that Mr. Bell was, with eighteen others, working at a new four-story frame building, when a cyclone came up and made a complete wreck of it. Four persons were buried in the debris and killed, while eight others were severely wounded. Among the killed was Mr. Bell. We learn that his body was on the way to his native place.

ANOTHER STEAMSHIP HORROR

The Polynesian and Cynthia

Run Into Each Other,

AND THE CYNTHIA GOES DOWN

Seven Minutes Afterwards.

EIGHT LIVES LOST.

MONTREAL, May 22.

A serious collision occurred this morning on the river, between the R. M. S. Polynesian, of the Allan line, commanded by Captain Hugh Willie, and the Cynthia, of the Donaldson line, commanded by Captain John Taylor, resulting in the sinking of the latter vessel and the loss of the lives of eight of her crew. The Polynesian was proceeding down Vairenes Canal, opposite Point St. aux Trambles, when she perceived the Cynthia inward bound. John Coates, chief officer of the Cynthia, says he had barely time to observe anything as the Cynthia began to settle down, and it appeared about seven minutes from the time he felt the shock to the time she sank. The position in which the Cynthia now lies is proof positive that she was on her proper course, and as the Polynesian was struck on the starboard side, he contends this shows that somehow or other she was going out of her proper course. He believes that something had gone wrong with the steering gear of the Polynesian, as otherwise she could hardly have gone so far astray.

The following is the list of those of the crew of the Cynthia who lost their lives: Hugh Irving, Chief Cook, Glasgow; Alex. Nichol, sailor, Glasgow; Andrew Vance and Charles McCracken, trimmers; James Low, fireman; James Fovrin, boatswain; David Young, stowaway from Glasgow, and Charles Blackstock, mess room boy. The Polynesian proceeded to Quebec with 120 passengers.

QUEBEC, May 22.

The Polynesian arrived at 8 p. m., but her officers refused to be interviewed. They said, however, that three of their men were nearly killed. One of the Cynthia's crew jumped on board when the collision took place, thus saving his life. There is a break in the ship's starboard bow fully 20 feet in diameter. The officers say the Polynesian slackened her speed, but the Cynthia came on in full speed with the evident intention of crossing her bow, hence the collision.

MURDER MOST FOUL.

Doctor Cronin's Body

FOUND IN A SEWER.

How He Came to His Death.

CHICAGO, May 22.

The dead body of Dr. P. H. Cronin, the Irish-American who disappeared two weeks ago, was found this evening some distance north of the city in a sewer on Wanston Avenue. A bloody towel was wrapped around his head. A Catholic emblem which the Doctor wore suspended about his neck was untouched. On the dead man's head were a dozen deep cuts that severed the scalp and indented the skull. The opinion of the police is that Cronin was foully murdered by some man who could not disturb the Catholic trinkets. The finding of the corpse was accidental. Some laborers working in the vicinity were attracted to the catch basin by the smell of decomposing flesh. The body had been apparently hastily pitched into the basin with its head underneath and the feet and legs in the opening. Doctor Brandt carefully examined the body to-night. He said the blows on the head must have been made by a sharp instrument, perhaps an ice-pick.

Shot by a Boy.

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 22.

A man named Thompson Wood, living on the Shediac Road, four miles from Port Elgin, was shot to-day by a boy named John Niles. Wood was trying to drive young Niles from a farm which was in possession of his father, George Niles, and was armed with a revolver. Niles, armed with a gun, fired, shooting the revolver from Wood's hand and lodging sixty duck shot in his hands, arms and body. Wood will die. Niles has been arrested.

New Steamboat Rules.

OTTAWA, May 22.

Under the provision of the Steamboat Inspection Act of last session, new rules and regulations are being prepared by the Board of Inspectors respecting the testing of boilers and matters connected with their construction and working. Pending this, it is proposed to apply by order in council the provisions of the act to steam vessels registered elsewhere than in Canada.

DEE.

In this city, May 20th, of scarletina John Roderick, dearly beloved child of George and Margaret Vissey, aged one year, ten months and nine days.

The little babe we loved so much On earth we'll see no more, With angels robed in spotless white He walks that city o'er; A city that is not made with hands, A city, bright and fair, Peace and happiness and love Are always reigning there; And many spotless little ones As fair and sweet as he Have joined the happy, countless throng Who now their Saviour see. Dear Lord, my mourning heart is glad To think my precious boy In that bright, happy home above Is tasting of the joy That is in store for everyone Who early seeks thy grace; For if we serve Thee on this earth In Heaven we'll have a place.
