By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Lost By A Knockout

WE have been fighting a losing battle with the 'flu for the past couple of weeks and finally took a knock-out Tuesday night after the Penguins had eked out a 6-5 decision over Fredericton Monarchs.

After a 36 hour rest period, we managed to puff our way to this desk and starting making an attempt to get out a least an abbreviated version of Sports Front.

We don't dare discuss the Stanley Cup semi-finals because we had the results of Thursday night's games when we went to this column to the lineup opposite. Of course, since these second games we can have lots to say about the four teams which are deadlier sources of capturing the cup war last season.

Indeed we couldn't talk about the Old Spain Penguins because we put these thoughts together long before the Old Spainers took to the ice in the York Area in the capital city of New Brunswick.

Royals Entertain

THAT leaves us with Sandy's Parkdale Royals who tackle Fredericton Capitals tonight and Saturday afternoon in the third and fourth games of the New Brunswick - Trios Edward Island intermediate "A" hockey circuit.

The Parkdallers were the Fredericton's first part of this week and were able to manage a split in the two games played there. They won the opener 5-3 but were swamped 8-2 in the second. However, the second game was a much closer affair over there and they were fortunate to escape with first game. After Aps Arsenault was hurt Tuesday night, the Royals had only eight players left in their lineup.

Tonight, however, fellows like Eustace Reeves, Stu McLure, Jim MacLeod and Dick Tingling will be back with the sound and the addition of these four hockeyists should make the going rough for the invaders from New Brunswick.

BRIDGEWATER is leading the Nova Scotia finals. They took the first game of their two-game total goal series with Zince Bay 4-2 and should be able to hold at least a part of that lead before their home fans.

Tonight the Royals are expecting a bumper house to greet them at The Sports Arena. The Capitals are expected to be Fredericton for a two-night stand and Sandy is hoping he will get a bit of that expenditure back tonight. What is lacking tonight should certainly be made tomorrow afternoon when the Royals are hoping to close out the series.

However, before they start closing out on Saturday, they must win Friday's game if the Parkdallers had better not take too much for granted with these New Brunswick visitors.

We think the Royals can win both their tussles here but they are going to need a lot more hockey players than they took Thursday night in Fredericton. Let's pack The Sports Arena tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

Guided Sister In, Says Dave Keon

By DAVE BETTS
TORONTO (CP)—"I just had enough control of the puck left to steer it in."

This was the way Toronto Maple Leafs winger Dave Keon described the goal that put Montreal Canadiens behind 2-0 in the semi-final Stanley Cup series.

Keon guided a slider past Montreal goalie Jacques Plante at 16:35 of the second period to put Leafs ahead for good.

"It was cutting in with Terry Harper pushing by elbow," said Keon, "I tried to move the puck out front but didn't have enough control. I had to get enough control left to sort of steer it in. It never left my stick."

CALLS IT HIT
Captain George Armstrong said the opening goal of the first period was a "gift."

The Chief struck the puck at the Montreal blueliner and lifted a 15-footer toward the Montreal net.

Toe Blake Vows He'll Be Back

By PAUL RIMSTEAD
TORONTO (CP)—Toe Blake, a puckster's delight, vowed earlier, snapped his head to attention and announced: "we'll be back."

He said it in a loud voice, breaking the silence in Montreal as the Canadiens' goalie Blake's Habs had just dropped a 2-3 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs to fall behind 2-0 in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

"We've played that way Tuesday (when they lost 3-1) we would have one anyway," said Blake.

Frank Selke, managing director of the Canadiens, said quietly: "I won't let you disgrace Toronto, but you sure didn't disgrace yourself tonight."

Blake was talking of the winning goal scored by Dave Keon in the second period. Keon drilled in, one arm extended and one hand on his stick, instead of heading. Keon swung his stick over his head and let it continue in its own momentum.

Harper, who scored a great goal and played well defensively, still wondered how Keon scored.

"It's like trying to catch a submarine in a basket. He's the best I've faced."

There was some concern over Gilles Tremblay, who was hit in the third period by Toronto's Bob Pulford.

Tremblay, who suffered fractured sinus cavities earlier this season, said he was hit by an elbow.

The club official said Tremblay suffered shock and would

Hawks Slip Wings 5-2 In a Really-Roiled Game

By JACK SULLIVAN

CHICAGO (CP)—Chicago Black Hawks, operating full tilt throughout the 60 minutes of play, put the Hawks ahead 5-2, walloped Detroit Red Wings 5-2 Thursday night in a scathing penalty-filled second Stanley Cup semi-final.

The Red Wings, who collected 11 of the 21 penalties handed out by referee Art Skov, were ahead 10 in the first 11 minutes of the game, but the roof fell in on them as wave after wave of Black Hawks poured in on Detroit goal-keeper Terry Sawchuk.

Bobby Hull, the blonde Chicago jet with the gimpy right shoulder, suffered a broken arm badly-out-nose in the final seconds of the first goal when he was slashed by the Wings' Bruce MacGregor and Don Barkley of the third and fourth goals on Sunday and Tuesday.

The handsome left winger scored his third goal of the series at 12:58 of the first period—just two minutes and four seconds after Stasik put Wings ahead. Fredericton Don Barkley of the third and fourth goals on Sunday and Tuesday.
