by Zorba's Psychic Network

Aries

You seem to be the centre of attention for now, but do not let it go to your head. Always remember the little people who helped you get where you are.

Taurus

Although your problems seem unsolvable, if you sit back take a deep breath and think with a level head they will seem much more manageable. Take time out to show that special someone you still care.

Gemini

Time to make up your mind. You have left this decision long enough and your choices are becoming more limited, so get to it.

Cancer

The unexpected seems to follow you this week. Some good, some bad, but take it all in stride and things will be great. Someone from your past will bring surprising news.

Leo

Time to spill who that new love interest is, when you do there will be surprising results. You should start making summer job plans really soon or it may be too late.

Virgo

Study, study, study -- that is all that has been on your mind, but once your exams are over it is time to treat yourself to a relaxing evening with your favourite movie or a good book and all you can eat munchies. You deserve it.

Libra

Your future will be very bright if you think logically about this big decision. Money is tighter than ever but if you budget, you will somehow manage to get what you want.

Scorpio

Your friends are worried about you. Reassure them that you are fine by showing your goofy side. Worrying about your love life will not help. Be yourself and things will flourish

Sagittarius

If you keep that secret inside much longer you are going to explode. So, you should think of confiding in someone who you are sure will not blab. Treat yourself to a box of chocolates, they will boost your spirits.

Capricorn

Do not let that annoying person get under your skin. Rise above the rest and show what you can accomplish if you really put your mind to it.

Aquarius

Do not sink to a lower level when you get in an argument and things will blow over quickly. Love will fade if you don't show some interest or enthusiasm soon.

Pieces

Do what you enjoy. Stop trying to please others. Once you put your mind to something you are unstoppable, so show the world what you are capable of.
