

What's on at the Panther Lounge

On Thursday, November 12 the Panther Lounge will be presenting The Scared Weird Little Guys, a duo from Melbourne, Australia, who perform their own brand of witty musical comedy.

Having performed together for over five years in various groups, The Phones, John Fleming and Rusty Berther formed Scared Weird Little Guys to perform their own original songs as well as some scared weird parodies. Songs range from their tongue-in-cheek ode to conservation (Trash the Planet) to Prince's song Kiss done in any musical style at all, to a medley of the world's greatest love songs done as they have never been done before.

They have worked seasons at all major Melbourne comedy venues and with the Amazing Jonathan, Marty Putz (Coming second semester) and Glen Foster. They have appeared on every national television show in Australia and appear weekly on a high-rating Melbourne radio program where they compose songs on the spot - any topic, any time.

In the last five years the guys have performed an incredible 111 shows together including club dates at Sneaky D's, the Comedy Nest in Montreal, as well as television spots on Chaps Comedy Club and Breakfast TV. After being on tour in 1991, the Scared Weird Little Guys are returning to Canada during October and November for a more extensive tour. We hope everyone takes this opportunity to see this entertaining group.

This week's movies are Batman Returns and Ernest Scared Stupid. Joe Pesci fans will have to be here for our Movie Pub on November 6, as we'll be showing My Cousin Vinny - our second movie will be Gladiators, a boxing movie with one of the best endings you'll ever see. Make sure you take a break from school every Friday and kick back at The Panther Lounge.

September and October were 2 of our best months ever! Let's keep it up. After all, are we here to study (NOT!) or to have a good time!!

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT
