

MR. AND MRS. S. G. JACKSON

Double Ring Ceremony At Brackley United Church

A pretty spring wedding was solemnized at Brackley United Church on April 4th at 2.30 p.m. when Rev. George Elliot united in marriage, in a double ring ceremony, Joyce Isabel only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Collinson, London, England and Stanley George, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson, Brackley, Prince Edward Island.

The nuptial music was played by Mrs. Earl Clark, church organist. Luella Clark was soloist, singing "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "A Father All Creating" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her ballerina length dress of white satin with lace over dress. Her finger tip fell from a headress of mother of pearl sequins. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. After the ceremony she was presented with a white horse shoe by her brother. This being an English tradition.

Mrs. Raymond Bernard, cousin of the groom, was matron of honour. She wore a ballerina length gown of mauve net over tulle with bolero to match, mauve shoes, mitts and headress to match. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and mauve mums.

Miss Patricia Sullivan, girlfriend of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina length gown of tulle lace over tulle with bolero to match, mauve shoes, mitts and headress, similar to those of the matron of honour. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and yellow mums.

Mr. Wallace Jackson, brother of the groom, was bestman. Mr. John Blatch was usher. The groom's gift to the bride was a brooch and earrings set. The bride's gift to the groom was gold cuff links and tie pin.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Collinson chose a navy suit with navy and pink accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Jackson, mother of the groom, wore a suit of charcoal grey with black and pink accessories and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Queen Hotel for approximately 40 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was cut in the traditional way. The groom's mother made the wedding cake. Rev. Mr. Elliott proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. The bestman proposed a toast to the matron of honour and bridesmaid. Telegrams from London, England and Toronto, Ontario were read by the best man.

Following the reception, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. The bride's outfit was a blue wool dress with matching hat, and beige gloves, purse and shoes. She wore a grey fur jacket and her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. MacPherson has obtained his private pilot's license and has made the trip to his home in Flat River on several occasions.

The history of dietetics in Canada began in Quebec and Montreal in the 1670's, with the teaching of "domestic science" by two religious orders: the Urselines and the Congregation of Notre Dame.

By 1897 knowledge of cookery and home management was considered so important a number of other progressive schools began to include domestic science courses in their curriculum. The first degree course to train dietitians began at the University of Toronto in 1902 and the first hospital dietitian was appointed to the Sick Children's Hospital there in 1907.

Y's Menettes & Models Are Attractive People

"The most attractive women in the world are the ones you see driving around in station wagons - the young married women with maybe a child or two in the back seat." This was the statement made by Sterling Hayden when interviewed recently by Arlene Dahl.

He should be a competent judge because Sterling Hayden has played opposite some of Hollywood's most glorious women in his acting career. "I see them every night when I'm driving home," he continued, "and they look fresh, sharp and clean. The Hollywood type isn't for me."

Naturalness in behavior was another quality Mr. Hayden admires. "Animation is important, too. Beauty without a 'push' behind it is nothing. I guess it's through taking groups of people out on my boat every weekend that I appreciate a woman who can put something in the conversational pot."

"If she's alert and has a point of view, then she's interesting to have around. This must be natural, too, though," he added, "I can't stand the type who sounds as if she read a news magazine just before she came to the party in order to have something to say."

Discussing a career woman Sterling said firmly, "I don't think a woman can hold down a really demanding job and also raise a family. And why is it called a career only when a woman works outside the home?"

Sterling Hayden would certainly rate at the top the attractiveness and character of Prince Edward Island women. For instance this coming week a wonderful group of them are working hard to present the Summer Fashion Show at the "Y" sponsored by Holman's Ltd. But with all their work "first things come first."

Their homes are uppermost and then come the outside interests. Yes, Sterling Hayden would surely include Prince Edward Island women as among the most attractive in the world.

ELLEN'S DIARY

It's A Crocus, Dear, Please Don't Step On It

The wind of morning, a bright sunny zephyr from up the creek was scented with many a fragrance today - scent of drying field and mossy woodland bank, of fresh-stirred earth and unfolding leaf. Summery it was and warm. In the orchard the lambskins slept so soundly in the pleasant warmth we caught this of that one up in our arms before they were aware of our intention, when James would lead us a hand in getting them away to pasture at the other farm.

A light scarf of blue haze, which seemed but a reflection of the sky above, lay then along the far hills. The near fields tidy now in their fences warmed in the sunshine. Below amid green banks wound the old millstream. Above and close by the road led away in a beguiling ribbon of red. About us wings small and larger dipped and soared, songs rippled in air so long pretty well silent.

"It's one lovely morning!" we commented to James. He nodded. Smiled. "You'll have to put it down odd times, Ellen, to let the ewe come to it" he said of the little black-faced lambkin we carried "else we'll never get her into the truck."

We put it down, holding it fast by a dark-stocked leg. "B-a-a!" the ewe bleated anxiously coming on the run to caress it.

"Ma-a-a!" the small one responded well content to find the mother near. What an instinct it is - curious, striking - the mother-love we see displayed in a hundred places on this farm - in stable, in sty, in field and in fold. How anxious and concerned - and happy the good mothers are. And pitiful those creatures that deny the maternal tie.
