Amalgamation

Charlottetown Metropolitan Area

INFORMATION CORNER

By The Board of Trade

The populations of practically all cities in Canada have increased fairly rapidly during the past decade. This necessitated the construction of large numbers of houses. During the same period, the commercial areas in the cities were expanding and former dwellings were purchased for business purposes which further increased the demand for homes by those who had to vacate. Building lots within the ate boundaries soon became scarce, and in many cases expensive, and it was necessary for an increasing number to build or purchase homes outside the cities' limits, in what are referred to as the "fringe areas."

This created no immediate problem while the areas were sparcely settled. Water was safely taken from wells and in most cases each home had it's own sewage disposal system. In fact they had many advantages, such as larger lots, etc. However, many of these areas developed very rapidly and soon reached the stage where water for domestic and other purposes, as well as sewage disposal systems, were necessary not only for convenience but for sanitation reasons. Other problems followed such as additional school facilities, streets and sidewalks.

COMMON PROBLEM

Fortunately perhaps for the residents of this metropolitan area the cities in other and faster growing areas were the first to encounter the problems, and we have had the benefit of their studies and can see the results of some of their actions. The problem has been a common one to practically all cities in Canada, including Saint John, Fredericton and Moncton in our neighbouring province.

So far, amalgamation of the fringe areas with the adjoining and larger urban area has, in general, been found to be the easiest and most satisfactory solution to the problem. Why should this be? In the first place it is a matter of finding some means of providing the fringe areas with water and sewage disposal, as well as a portion of the other services such as streets, sidewalks, fire and police protection, etc. These necessitate heavy capital expenditures with resultant tax rates which would be very high if not prohibited in areas which are largely residential. According to a recent report of a Royal Commission on Metropolitan Development, cities and towns usually collect at least 40 per cent of their revenue from commercial and industrial properties and a further substantial portion from business taxes. It goes on to point out the difficulty of financing such services in areas which are largely residential.

TWO-FOLD PURPOSE

Amalgamation has a two-fold purpose; to provide the fringe areas with essential services sooner and at less cost than it could be done by the area alone and secondly, the City which takes in the area acquires space for future development both residential and commercial and at the same time increases its future tax potential.

542 Adults Get Anti-Polio Shot At Clinic Here Today

The adult anti-polio clinic held yesterday at the local Naval Barracks provided first protective shots to 542 persons, the largest number to attend any clinic of the current series.

Dr. R.G. Lea administered the inoculations during the morning session; Dr. Alan MacMillan, with an assist from Dr. E.S. Giddings, in the afternoon.

Others assisting at yesterday's clinic were Mrs. Margaret Turner, R.N. Mrs. Frank Walker, Mrs. Clive Currie, and Mrs. Rose Savage.

Committee headquarters reports that the next clinic will be held at Holman's on November 12th. This is the first repeat clinic of the current series and officials in charge hope that all those who received their first shot at the original Holman clinic will be on hand Tuesday to get their second shot.

Mary Miller Auxiliary Meets

The Mary Miller Evening Auxlary of Trinity United Church held their Thankoffering Service on Wednesday evening, October 30th in Heartz Hall. Mrs. A.F. MacLean led the Worship Service which opened with singing Hymn No. 157, "Spirit of God Descend Upon My Heart". The scripture lesson John, chapter 24, beginning at verse 30 was read by Mrs. MacLean who gave a very fitting and inspiring talk on the lesson read. Prayer was offered by Mrs. MacLean and a lovely solo "I Walked To-day Where Jesus Walked" was given by Miss Helen Wilson. The Devotions closed with singing Hymn No. 261, "O Master of the Waking World".

Rev. A.F. MacLean thanked those who had taken part in the Worship Service and introduced the guest speaker, Miss Beryl Morson, Missionary from India, who gave a very vivid and instructive talk on the work being done in India. Colored slides were shown which added much to the interest of this address. Miss Morson stressed the need of more missionaries and the real satisfaction to be found in this work. The Trinity Male Eight rendered two beautiful selections, "Seeking the Lost" and "That Beautiful Land".

Rev. A.F. MacLean pronounced the Benediction and everyone was invited to the Social Hall where a delicious lunch was served by the Social Committee assisted by members of the Afternoon Auxiliary.

A short business meeting was held after lunch. It was decided to hold a Pot Luck Supper, December 2nd. Mrs. Kirby to be in charge of the programme.

Not To Discuss Hospital Ins.

OTTAWA (CP)Prime Minister Diefenbaker has indicated to the provinces that national hospital insurance should not be a subject for detailed consideration at next month's federal - provincial fiscal conference.

The indication is contained in a letter sent by Mr. Diefenbaker last Thursday to provincial premiers confirming that the conference will be held in Ottawa Nov. 25 and 26. He tabled the letter in the Commons Monday.

All 10 premiers previously agreed to attend a conference on the two dates to review present tax - sharing agreements. Saskatchewan asked that the question of hospital insurance be included on the agenda, along with other topics.

Mr. Diefenbaker's letter said: "In regard to the scope of the conference, the federal government believes that it should centre on Dominion provincial fiscal relations but should afford an opportunity to discuss other current issues which have an important bearing on our fiscal relations.

"On the other hand it should not extend to detailed consideration of particular subjects that would better be taken up in a group with more specialized responsibilities."

YOU MAY HAVE WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. And that's exactly what JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE does . . . kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

For your own sake and the health of your children and loved ones, don't put off treatment. Get started with JAYNE'S at the very first sign of Pin-Worms. For once established these parasites are highly contagious and often spread through entire families.

So be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S, famous for worm remedies for over one hundred years.
