cept of interdependence into broader fields than just defense or common political collaboration when negotiating with the Soviets.

"I re-read the Declaration of Common Purpose which President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan issued in Washington after their talks late last month when they said The countries of the free world are interdependent and only in genuine partnership, by combining their resources and sharing tasks in many fields, can progress and safety be found. I was struck again by the fact that the recognition of interdependence was not confined to safety alone. We need more than safety. We need progress."

Recalls Early Experiences As Militiaman

St. Peter's Cathedral Anglican Laymen's Association has as guest speaker at their monthly supper meeting last night, Major T. Edgar McNutt, who reviewed in a humorous way, his first experience as a militiaman in the Charlottetown Engineers.

His talk dealt with the visit of the Duke and of Duchess of Cornwall and York to Halifax in October 1901 when 80 men of the Engineers Company composed part of the guard of honour. A feature of the Royal Visit was the presentation of South Africa war medals to Major, Rev. T. F. Fullerton and Lieut. A. J. B. Mellish of Charlottetown.

The province was represented by Hon. Donald Farquharson, Premier, and the city by Mayor James Warburton.

The speaker was introduced by president Robert Acorn and thanked by Lieut. Col. Arthur Peake, Mrs. H. D. Patterson, convener, was thanked for the work of the ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral Guild in providing the splendid supper, and Mrs. A. B. Cosh was thanked for her services as pianist during the singsong conducted by Alex Breedon.

Great International Value Of Jr. Red Cross Stressed

"World Citizens 4 for $1.00" was the theme of an inspiring talk given by Miss Kathleen Herman, of Toronto, national director of Junior Red Cross at a meeting of the P. E. I. Divisional Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society held at Red Cross headquarters yesterday afternoon. Miss Herman pointed out that it costs 25c. per member to carry out the Junior Red Cross programme in which 1,243,000 Canadian children are involved 3 per cent of the total membership in 69 countries. The Junior Red Cross is the largest youth organization in the world geared to training young people as world citizens, and capable of stimulating a "United Mankind" of the future. The National Director mentioned the fact that Junior Red Cross members in Canada last year contributed $200.00 for the treatment of handicapped children as well as $100,000 for their international fund which is now being used to promote self-help programs for children in the underdeveloped countries.

Miss Herman touched on the plans which are now being formulated by leading education alists for a Canadian Conference on "The Needs of Our Children", which is to be held in 1960. She also spoke of the International J. R. C. training centre which is to take place at the University of Toronto in 1959 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the granting of the charter to Canadian Red Cross, and the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Red Cross by Henri Dunant. This training centre which will be attended by some 200 delegates from 69 countries will be the first global one of this kind ever held, and will undoubtedly make another good mark for Canada in world Red Cross. In referring to the 19th. International Red Cross conference which has just concluded in New Delhi, India, Miss Herman spoke of the prominent part which Canadian Red Cross representatives have played in it.

Miss Herman was introduced by Dr. L.W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education, and thanked by Mr. K. A. Parker, Superintendent of Charlottetown Schools who is now the provincial chairman of the Junior Red Cross committee.

Mr. W. R. Shaw, Provincial Red Cross President chaired yesterday's meeting at which comprehensive reports were given by the Chairmen of the different Standing Committees: Handicapped Children, Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan; Women's Work, Mrs. E. E. Clawson; Nursing, Mrs. Lois MacDonald; Water Safety, Rev. M. D. Dunbar; Blood Donor, Mr. F. A. S. Jones; Disaster, Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald; Red Cross Corps, Mrs. Benjamin Rogers; First Aid, Dr. Ross Stewart.
