AN EPOCH MARKING BILL.

How much Confederation was the work of most of our Maritime cheese factories, and with it should come the firm resolve by both patrons and makers that nothing but "strictly finest" will be the grade of their factory's output.

To accomplish this care must be taken not only of the milk, but of the cows and their food and water. The cheese made up until the 20th May, at least, will be largely from barn-fed cows, and to make this fodder cheese good there must be succulent food, some grain, good pure water and cleanliness of stables and cows.
Nothing but inferior milk can come from a stable where the walls and ceilings are covered with the dust and dirt from a winter's habitation. The stable should be brushed down and then have a good coat of whitewash and kept well ventilated.

The milk must be aired and kept in proper quarters, and all pails and utensils properly cleansed. Unless these precautions are taken the cheese maker cannot make such a quality of cheese as the markets are today calling for. Our dairy superintendents should encourage the farmers as well as the makers to do their utmost.— Maritime Dairyman.

THE DAIRY S I A S C N.

The month of May brings the opening of most of our Maritime cheese factories,
their factory's output.

be largely from barn-fed cows, and to
be succulent food, some grain, good pure
water and cleanliness of stables and cows.
are covered with the dust and dirt from a
lated.

Australian Question.

Mr. Ford says in regard to the Australian question and the doings of the delegation:—

"Mr. Chamberlain was silent last night, but the Australian question has kept him too busy to take up points of military etiquette and policy. No compromise has as yet been arranged over the question of appellate jurisdiction, the Australian delegates have been dining nightly with Liberal and Conservative clubs and associations, and have not missed an opportunity of stating their case briefly. It comes to this, that if Australia is allowed to make its contribution and organize a confederation, it must have the privilege of interpreting the law of the commonwealth through a high court of its own, only those questions affecting the public interests of other portions of the Empire being reserved for the Imperial court of appeal.
The Australian delegates are able men and fluent orators and they are carrying the country with them.

"It is a strange conflict between the traditions and precedents of the Privy Council, a body of 250 advisers of the Crown, who never meet, and the progressive democracy of the colonies, with the referendum of principle behind them.
Mr. Chamberlain will probably arrange a settlement and allow the commonwealth bill to pass without amendment. The Australian delegates are men of iron constitution to endure a strain of hospitality which would break down ordinary Britons; their engagements next week include banquets at the Constitutional, St. Stephen's, Devonshires, and other clubs."

—The St. John Sun remarks that the fact that our imports from the United States last year increased at a much greater ratio than those from Great Britain proves that 25 per cent preferential did not worry American manufacturers at all.
The Canadian Manufacturers' Association do not yet appear to have discovered that the preferential deprived them of the millions referred to by the Guardian.
Whatever may result from the operation of the enlarged preference, the Canadian consumer has gained practically nothing from the one in operation at the present time.

Transgress the law and reap unhappiness. God can always overcome the devil.

Nutters Ale —AND— Cream Porter

The product of the Silver Spring Brewery of Sherbrook, P. Q., far excel all malt preparations on the Canadian market.

Over 300 carloads were delivered at the principal trade centres of the Dominion in 1899 and to-day Nutters agencies so dot the Dominion of Canada that when it is noon at one, it is evening at another.

The Silver Spring goods are chiefly rec-
