London, Feb. 15.

In the House of Lords this evening Earl Mayo asked leave to bring in a bill to suspend the operation of the writ of Habeas Corpus for a short period from the first of March. He said the Fenian leaders had shown an utter disregard of their oath of allegiance to the Crown and stated that out of 268 Fenians who have been arrested 95 were Americans. He concluded by saying that although the Government had succeeded in repressing the rebels still an expansion of its powers was necessary to complete the work.

Leave to bring in a bill was granted.

In the House of Commons Lord Stanley laid before the members additional papers on the subject of the Alabama claims; these documents have already been published.

Admiral Bell of the U. S. navy was drowned at the mouth of Osaka River on Jan. 11th. The mouth of the road had been closed by a sandy bar which formed during the heavy storm. The Admiral had been waiting for several days to cross the bar when he finally started accompanied by flag Lieut. Reid and 13 men in a boat from the "Hartford." While passing over the bar going in the direction of Osaka the boat capsized, and all on board were drowned except three sailors. The bodies were recovered and buried near the mouth of Osaka river.

ACROSTIC.

Gently it penetrates through every pore,
Relieving sufferers from each angry sore;
All wounds it heals with certainty and speed;
Cuts, Burns, from Inflammation soon are freed;
Eruptions, at its presence disappear:
Skins lose each stain, and the complexion's clear!
SALVE, such as GRACE' every one should buy,
All to its wondrous merits testify,
Let those who doubt, a single box but try,—
Verily, then its true deserts 'twould have;
Even unbelievers would laud Grace's Salve!

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

It has been said by a few unfortunate mortals who have striven in vain to gain position of honor and distinction, that they were not sufficiently appreciated. While such may sometimes be the case, it is generally to be observed that true deserving worth is cordially accepted and honored, whether applied to religion, politics, the arts, or invention. Next to religion, invention or discovery has the highest position, for it wields a mighty influence; through its channels nations have overleaped, as if by magic, the bounds of separation, and, united by electric wires, can converse together at momentary will.

Indeed, the diversified efforts of man's genius in these respects are a source of admiration and gratitude to the whole human race. In medicine, science has revealed during the last quarter of a century, many hidden truths, which had before been considered to be impossibilities. The malignity of pestilential disease is now in a great measure bereft of its terror, and even the "insatiate archer," consumption, is arrested in his deadly march, and oftentimes overthrown. Undoubtedly the great rallying power in the treatment of this and other pulmonry diseases, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry; and the foregoing allusions are applicable to the memory of its illustrious discoverer. The proof of the efficacy of this great remedy is in its undying reputation. It has stood the test of time, and its fame as a curative of Throat and Lung Complaints has extended to all climes.—Canada Christian Advocate.
